Nieves no-hits Orioles for 7-0 victory

Center fielder Yount's diving catch ends game

BALTIMORE (AP) — Juan Nieves threw the first no-hitter in Milwaukee Brewers history Wednesday night as the Brewers beat Baltimore 7-0. Center fielder Robin Yount made a diving catch in right center to end the game.

The 22-year-old right-hander struck out seven and walked five in intermittent drizzle as the Orioles were no-hit for the first time since Nolan Ryan, then with California, threw one on June 1, 1975. Yount ran about 15 yards and then dived to snare Eddie Murray's drive and preserve the no-hitter. The Brewers then mobbed Nieves at the mound.

Nieves, 2-0, who was 11-12 as a rookie last season, needed three other fine defensive plays behind him to ensure the pitching gem. Left fielder Jim Paciorek made a diving catch in the second and third baseman Paul Molitor made outstanding plays in the fourth and the fifth.

The crowd of 11,407 cheered Nieves as he took the mound for the ninth inning.

The victory gave Milwaukee a 9-0 start, the third best in American League history, as the Brewers remained the only undefeated team in the major leagues.

The youngest pitcher to hurl a no-hitter was Nick Maddox of Pittsburgh, at the age 20.

Dale Sveum, who extended his hitting streak to nine games, led the Brewers a 1-0 lead in the first with his homer.

The Brewers added two runs in the seventh as Paciorek doubled. Later, Molitor doubled in Paciorek and Schroeder came around on error by left fielder Gebhardt. Flanagan, 0-1, was then relieved by Dave Schmidt.

Greg Brock's three-run home run in the eighth made it 6-0 and Bill Bragg capped the scoring with a solo homer in the ninth.

Sale of Rangers could be near

DALLAS (AP) — Two separate groups from the New York-New Jersey area have emerged as serious candidates to purchase controlling interest in the Texas Rangers.

One or both groups are expected to send letters of intent within a week to buy the team, according to newspaper reports quoting sources close to the negotiations.

The Dallas Times Herald reported Tuesday that a group headed by art dealer Jeffrey Luria and Kenneth Wilpon, cousin of New York Mets co-owner Fred Wilpon, has met with Rangers majority owner Eddie Chiles regarding possible acquisition of the club.

The Dallas Morning News reported Wednesday that another group — which earlier had expressed interest in buying the San Diego Padres — has now turned its interest to the Rangers. Baseball officials have said Warren Crane of New Jersey is the front man for that group.

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram also quoted sources Wednesday saying that a New Jersey-New York group is a serious candidate for the Rangers.

Both groups have said they would keep the Rangers in the Dallas-Fort Worth area — one of Chiles' conditions of sale.

Crane's group reportedly is looking at the Rangers as an investment, compared to the Luria-Wilpon group, which wants active ownership.

Chiles declined to discuss groups that have approached him. Chiles, who took over the club in 1980, considered selling it because his oil business is suffering from the depressed economy. However, he did say the proposal from Crane's group had merit.

"If somebody would make me that deal and pay me enough to take care of my debts, I'd make it," Chiles said. "I'd love to stay on for a few more years."

Mike Stone's remaining as president also would be a condition of any sale by Chiles, sources said.

Bobby Valentine is manager of the Rangers, under contract through 1989, but has said he would not be bound to remain should Stone or general manager Tom Grieve be forced out of the organization.

The cost of the franchise, including Arlington Stadium and the land it sits on, reportedly will fall between $80-100 million.

Astros blank Dodgers behind Scott's 1-hitter

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mike Scott threw a one-hit shutout and Billy Hatcher homered, doubled and singled to continue his torrid 1987 start as the Houston Astros downed the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-0 Wednesday night.

Scott, the 1986 National League Cy Young Award winner, allowed just a third-inning single to Mariano Duncan as he ran his record to 2-0. He retired the last 15 batters. Houston's split-finger fastball specialist struck out 10 and gave up just one walk — to Mike Marshall in the fourth — as he beat the Dodgers for the second time this season.

Scott had collected a 4-3 victory over Los Angeles, giving up eight hits and three runs in seven innings in the season opener April 6.

The victory kept the Astros on a pace with their best starts ever. At 7-2, they've equalled the beginnings by Houston teams of 1972 and 1980.

Hatcher's solo homer with one out in the fourth inning, his first of the season, also was the Astros' first hit off Alejandro Pena, 0-1, in the contest.

Hatcher singled in the sixth inning, then drove in Houston's third run with a double in the eighth.

After he homered, the Astros made it 2-0 later in the inning as Terry Puhl doubled, then scored on Glenn Davis' double.

Spurs snap losing streak in 123-112 win over Blazers

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Led by Walter Berry's 27 points, the San Antonio Spurs snapped a 10-game losing streak with a 123-112 victory over the Portland Trail Blazers in NBA action Wednesday night.

The win ended the Spurs' longest losing streak in club history and lifted them to 27-53. Playoff-bound Portland dropped to 47-33.

San Antonio controlled the contest from the second period, leading 58-49 at the half and by as many as 16 in the third period.

Spurs forward David Greenwood had 23 points. The Trail Blazers were led by Kiki Vandeweghe with 24 and Steve Johnson with 23.

San Antonio started the second period with a 16-7 surge to go up 42-32 as the Portland got no closer than a three-point deficit for the rest of the game.

San Antonio opened the final period with an 88-78 lead and led by no less than eight points the rest of the game.
