U.S. congressmen urge caution over Soviet missile agreement

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan said Tuesday the Soviet Union is giving "every appearance of wanting to move ahead" on an agreement eliminating medium-range missiles in Europe, but congressional leaders urged the administration to proceed cautiously. Senate Majority Leader Robert Byrd, D-W.Va., warned that Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev's latest proposal "is cosmetically attractive but, at bottom, works against the cohesion and steadfastness of the Atlantic alliance."

Republican leaders of the House and Senate were summoned to the White House and joined Reagan in the Cabinet Room, where Secretary of State George P. Shultz talked for nearly an hour about his arms discussions in Moscow last week. Senate Minority Leader Bob Dole, R-Kan., said it was too early to tell if there was broad-based support for Gorbachev's proposal, which calls for eliminating shorter-range nuclear missiles as well as medium-range weapons in Europe.

"I know that some senators have already contacted me, wanting to see Shultz, wanting to go into detail about precisely what happened," Dole said, talking with reporters in the driveway later. "Everybody, I think, is expressing some reservation, at the same time worked out. We will watch it very closely."

There are some fears in Europe that elimination of the nuclear weapons would remove the major deterrent to a Soviet invasion with tanks. "The Soviets give every appearance of wanting to move ahead on (medium-range missiles), but there is a lot of fine print to be worked out."

Accused Nazi war criminal returned to Soviet Union

MOSCOW (AP) — Karl Linna, who lost his eight-year battle against deportation from the United States, was delivered to the Soviet Union on Tuesday where he may face a firing squad on charges of killing thousands of prisoners in a Nazi death camp.

The 67-year-old Linna was flown from New York to Czechoslovakia and handed over to the Soviets. The official Soviet news agency Tass said he was put on a flight and taken to Tallinn, capital of his native Estonia. A handcuffed Linna struggled with U.S. officials Monday night when he was put aboard a Czechoslovak airliner at Kennedy International Airport. He shouted that police were carrying out a "murder and kidnapping" by sending him to the Soviet Union where he has been sentenced to death.

When the plane landed in Prague on Tuesday he was transferred to a Soviet plane for the flight to Soviet Estonia on the Baltic Sea. Linna directed a Nazi concentration camp in the Estonian city of Tartu during the early years of World War II and is accused of involvement in the execution of thousands of people, mostly Jewish women and children.

Tass said, "He staged and conducted mass executions of Soviet citizens and personally took part in them." Tass said more than 12,000 people died at Tartu. Foreign Ministry spokesman Gennady Gerasimov told a Moscow news briefing that Linna is under sentence of death based on a 1962 Soviet trial in absentia. Death sentences are carried out by firing squad. "The criminal has been condemned," Gerasimov told reporters. "He was sentenced to capital punishment. He's entitled to ask for a pardon."

Asked whether Linna would be allowed to speak to reporters upon arrival in the Soviet Union, Gerasimov replied: "I don't think he's the kind of hero to take pictures of." Linna's long struggle against deportation was based on allegations that the Soviet Union falsified evidence about his wartime activities. He entered the United States in 1951, lived in Greenlawn, N.Y., and became an American citizen. Immigration officials in 1979 charged that Linna entered the country under false pretenses, and he was stripped of his citizenship in 1982. He fought the deportation order until the last moment when the U.S. Supreme Court and the Justice Department turned down his requests to be allowed to remain in the United States.

Many Jewish groups in the United States urged that Linna be deported. Moscow's evening news program showed film of the bearded prisoner's departure from New York. In Prague, Ivan Demkovic, captain of the Czechoslovak airliner that took Linna to Prague, said neither the stewardesses nor the approximately 25 passengers were allowed to talk to the prisoner. He was seated in the back of the plane with two American escorts.

Gen. Bernard Rogers, commander of NATO forces, has recommended that the United States deploy shorter-range missiles in Europe to match the Soviet forces. He also has opposed eliminating the medium-range missiles from Europe. The shorter-range weapons have a range of 300 to 600 miles, while the medium-range weapons can strike targets up to 3,400 miles away. Fitzwater noted that Rogers has voiced his objections numerous times, and said, "There are a lot of people on various sides of this issue."

President Ronald Reagan expressing cautious optimism — whatever that means," Dole added. Posing for pictures with the lawmakers, Reagan was asked about prospects for an agreement this year. "I'm not going to hazard any guesses," he replied.

Presidential spokesman Marlin Fitzwater quoted Reagan as telling the group he was "optimistic but realistic" about prospects. "The Soviets give every appearance of wanting to move ahead on (medium-range missiles)," Reagan said, according to Fitzwater. "But there is a lot of fine print to be and other conventional forces. Gen. Bernard Rogers, commander of NATO forces, has recommended that the United States deploy shorter-range missiles in Europe to match the Soviet forces. He also has opposed eliminating the medium-range missiles from Europe. The shorter-range weapons have a range of 300 to 600 miles, while the medium-range weapons can strike targets up to 3,400 miles away. Fitzwater noted that Rogers has voiced his objections numerous times, and said, "There are a lot of people on various sides of this issue."

There are several hundred clear weapons deliverable by aircraft," Cheney said. "There are a lot of short-range systems under the 300-mile limitation that are talking about. "We have a lot of nuclear weapons there. Our capacity to respond to nuclear weapons to a Soviet assault ... would still be overwhelming."

LEESBURG, Va. (AP) — Federal agents, acting under orders of a federal bankruptcy judge, seized the headquarters of a political extremist Lyndon H. LaRouche on Tuesday and took control of three companies owned by him. U.S. marshals and FBI agents also seized control of another LaRouche company, the Washington, D.C., and Park, N.J., U.S. Attorney Hudson said at a news conference.

A rare maneuver under federal involuntary bankruptcy law, the move was aimed at collecting more than $2 million in contempt-of-court fines levied against LaRouche-related groups by a federal judge in Boston. Hudson declined comment when questioned about what action would be taken against LaRouche himself. LaRouche left the country last December.

Agriculture Department announces restrictions on foreign farm workers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Foreign workers would be allowed entry to the United States to harvest wheat and corn but would be kept out if they wanted to work in cotton and soybean fields or help with milking under new proposed rules announced Tuesday by the Agriculture Department.

The proposal involves definitions of fruits, vegetables and other perishable commodities that will be used to carry out the Immigration Reform Act passed by Congress last year. Officials said the rules would help determine the eligibility for temporary legal status of alien workers involved in seasonal agricultural jobs in the United States.

Al French, a USDA farm labor specialist, said the proposed regulations would rule out most farmers from employing alien workers. When grain producers are counted, about 78 percent of the farms who hire workers would be prevented from employing foreigners.

The 1982 Census showed that about 850,000 farms had hired workers, either full or part-time, he said. But those included all hired workers, not just aliens.

"We had received considerable comment from the livestock and dairy industry" wanting the rules to include them for alien workers, he said. But those have been excluded, and "I expect we'll hear about that."

On the other hand, all plant crops grown for human consumption would be approved for the alien work force, French said in an interview. Corn is a commodity that is expected to stir controversy because it is mostly a livestock feed in the United States, he said. However, much of the grain is exported to countries where corn is important as a food grain.

New federal regulations, including the definitions, are being drafted and will begin to take effect next month. A general amnesty is provided for aliens who can prove continuous residency since Jan. 1, 1982.

The law also provides several avenues for farm workers who have a history of helping fruits, vegetables and other perishable products.

Qualified aliens who performed seasonal cultural services in the United States for specified periods of time before May 1, 1986, would be allowed temporary legal status.

The language of the law defines seasonal cultural services as "field work related to planting, cultural practices, cultivating, growing, harvesting of fruits and vegetables of every kind and other perishable commodities, as defined by regulations by the secretary of agriculture."

Under the proposal, "other perishable commodities that meet the definition of fruits and vegetables that the seasonal field work requirements include: Christmas trees, cut flowers, herbs, hops, horticultural specialties, spices, reeds, spices, sugarbeets and tobacco."

Now taking that rest from the pill is no big deal.

Semicid® works — without hormones. So it's a great alternative if your doctor tells you to take that break from the pill. You see, Semicid has the spermicide doctors recommend most. And it's approximately as effective as vaginal foam contraceptives in actual use, but is not as effective as the pill or IUD. (Some Semicid users experience irritation in using the product. For best protection against pregnancy, follow package directions. And it's essential to insert Semicid at least fifteen minutes before intercourse.) Now you can avoid hormones without giving up convenience. With Semicid.

Special Sample Offer. Send $2.00 (Cash, Check or Money Order) to FAMILY PLANNING OFFER, P.O. Box 2209, Young America, Minnesota 55971 and we will send you, in an unmarked mailer, a package of three Semicid Vaginal Contraceptive Inserts plus a booklet, "A Guide to Family Planning," and a $6.95 store coupon good on your next purchase of Semicid. (Make Check/Money Order payable to Whitehall Laboratories.)
