Spring picnic concert to be offered to B-CS by Brazos symphony

By Karl Pallmeyer
Music Critic

One of the best ways to spend a spring evening is to pack a picnic basket, grab a jug of wine and a blanket, find a date and go to an outdoor concert. You'll get a chance to do just that Friday night when the Brazos Valley Symphony Orchestra presents "Picnic with the Pops, a Concert in the Sousa Tradition" on the lawn of the Brazos Center.

The concert is a benefit sponsored by the Friends Association of the Symphony Orchestra to help fund the 1988 concert.

Festivities begin around 6 p.m. and will feature the Bryan High School Jazz Band, the Pete Rodriguez Jazz Band, the A&M Consolidated High School Jazz Band and raffles before the BVSO takes the stage at 8 p.m. During intermission, an auction will be held and the winner will get a chance to conduct the orchestra during John Philip Sousa's "The Stars and Stripes Forever."

Guests can take lawn chairs, blankets, pillows, picnic lunches, beer and wine. Snacks, soft drinks and beer will be sold at the concert.

The BVSO, under the direction of conductor Franz Anton Krager, will take the stage at 8 p.m., and will perform the music of Sousa, Dimitri Shostakovich, Leroy Anderson, Felix Alexandre Guilmant, George Frederick Handel, Peter Ilyich Tchaikovsky and others.

Featured soloists include Larry Campbell on euphonium during Guilmant's "Morceau Symphonique," John McSpadden on cornet during the salute to Leroy Anderson, and Krager on marimba during Dinicu and Heifetz's "Hora Staccato."

The evening's finale will be Tchaikovsky's "1812 Overture," complete with 57 bells, two cannons and a five-minute fireworks display.

Tickets for "Picnic with the Pops, a Concert in the Sousa Tradition" are available at the Gift Gallery at Ardan's Crossing, the Christmas Store on Harvey Road and at the gate.

Prices are $10 for adults, $8 for students and senior citizens, and $5 for children 12 and under.

Democratic "truth squad" will follow Clements' tour

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Bill Clements said Wednesday he is pleased Democratic lawmakers are planning their own tour of the state because it will give them the chance to find out what taxpayers really think.

"The more they're around, the better I like it, because the truth will prevail," Clements said.

The Republican governor launched a 17-city tour Monday to seek public support for his two-year budget proposal that would limit tax increases to $2.9 billion.

Clements says the increase would produce a $36.9 billion budget for 1988-89, and he says that is enough.

But "big spenders" in the Legislature want to raise taxes further to fund expanded government, Clements said.

In response, Sen. Hugh Parmer, D-Fort Worth, and other Democratic legislators announced plans for a traveling "truth squad" to follow Clements around Texas and explain what they say would be cuts in services that would come with the governor's budget.

"We feel it incumbent on us to go around and follow the governor as he continues to misstate the true financial situation in Texas and to put the record straight and tell the people the truth," Parmer said.
