Aggies drop 1 game in TCU series

From Staff and Wire Reports

The Texas A&M baseball team won two out of three games against the Texas Christian Horned Frogs this weekend in Fort Worth.

The Aggies began the series with a decisive 9-2 victory as pitcher Gary Geiger improved his season record to 10-2. It was Geiger's sixth straight decision.

A&M looked as though it was going to cruise to another easy victory in the first game of Saturday's double-header as the Aggies built a 7-1 lead in the bottom of the seventh.

But TCU battled back to give the Aggies a scare, before finally succumbing 7-5.

However, in the second game, the Aggies could not hold on for the win as TCU's Lew Veilleux singled to bring in the winning run in the bottom of the ninth with the score tied at 6-6.

The 7-6 loss gave the Aggies a 39-17-1 overall record and a 12-6 Southwest Conference mark. It was also the first setback for the Aggies on the road in the conference play. TCU is now 24-32 and 4-4.

A&M's Scott Livingstone turned in another dazzling performance at the plate, going 6-for-9 with six RBI for the series.

The junior third baseman also set a new A&M record for RBI for the season with 67.

Darryl Fry was the winning pitcher in the first game as he struck out eight batters to get his first complete game victory since March 28 when he beat Texas Tech in Lubbock. Fry upped his pitching record to 7-3 with the win.

Sean Snedeker started game two but was relieved by Pat Werning in the sixth inning.

The Aggies will finish the regular season this weekend at the University of Houston.

Rockets fall to Trail Blazers

From the Associated Press

Danny Ainge led Boston on a fourth-quarter rally, and the Celtics overcame a 42-point performance by Michael Jordan to beat the Chicago Bulls 105-96 Sunday and take a 2-0 lead in their NBA first-round playoff series.

"We're just trying to scratch it out and weather the storm by Jordan," Boston Coach K.C. Jones said.

The Celtics could wrap up their best-of-5 series in Game 3 Tuesday night in Chicago.

In other NBA playoff games, Philadelphia beat Milwaukee 125-122 in overtime to square that series at one game apiece, and Portland tied its series with Houston by beating the Rockets 111-98.

In games Sunday night, Detroit played host to Washington and Atlanta was at home to Indiana. Detroit and Atlanta lead the respective series 1-0.

Trail Blazers 111, Rockets 98

Clyde Drexler scored 32 points and Houston hurt itself with 25 turnovers as the Trail Blazers defeated the Rockets. Terry Porter added 18 points and tied a Blazers playoff record with 15 assists.

Game 3 of the best-of-5 series is scheduled Tuesday night at Houston.

The Rockets took a 12-point first-quarter lead, but with Akeem Olajuwon on the bench in foul trouble, 4-14.

fell apart on offense in the second quarter.

Houston scored only 12 points and committed 11 turnovers in the period as the Blazers rallied for a 65-60 halftime lead.

Houston was within 92-87 with 7:31 remaining, but Porter and Kiki Vandeweghe hit jumpers and the Rockets got no closer than seven thereafter.

Vandeweghe added 22 points for Portland while Steve Johnson scored 15.

Ralph Sampson and Allen Leavell each scored 28 for the Rockets. Olajuwon played only six minutes in the first half and finished with 17 points.

Celtics 105, Bulls 96

Trailing 87-85, Boston outscored Chicago 10-2 during a stretch that included three baskets by Ainge. The only Bulls points during the rally came on a basket by Jordan.

Larry Bird had 29, and McHale added 20. Ainge and Dennis Johnson had 18 apiece.

Boston led 56-48 at halftime and went ahead 62-51 to start the third period. The Bulls, however, hung in with the help of free throws. They outscored Boston 29-26 in the third quarter by hitting 15 of 16 foul shots.

76ers 125, Bucks 122 OT

Charles Barkley scored eight points in overtime, including the go-ahead basket with 11 seconds left, for Philadelphia, which will host the next two games of the best-of-5 series. The next is Wednesday night.

Sidney Moncrief gave the Bucks a 122-121 lead with 29 seconds to go on a driving basket, but Barkley's six-foot shot from the left baseline, which bounced on the rim several times before falling through, made it 123-122.

Milwaukee's Terry Cummings missed a jump shot and Julius Erving dropped in two free throws with a second remaining for the final points.

Roy Hinson scored 28 points to lead the 76ers while Barkley added 26 and Erving 23. Ricky Pierce scored 24 for the Bucks, Cummings 21 and Moncrief 20.

On Saturday, the Los Angeles Lakers and Utah Jazz took 2-0 leads in their respective series. The Lakers defeated Denver 139-127 and Utah beat Golden State 103-100.

Seattle defeated Dallas 112-110 to even that series at one game apiece.

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar scored 28 points to lead his club despite sitting out the entire fourth quarter.

Darrell Griffith had 25 points, including a behind-the-back layup that put Utah ahead to stay with 37 seconds to play as the Jazz beat Golden State.

Dale Ellis' two free throws with two seconds left broke a tie and gave Seattle its victory over Dallas. Ellis had 32 points for the Sonics.

Haygarth wins in SWC tennis championships

The Texas A&M men's and women's tennis teams finished with mixed results in the Southwest Conference tennis championships held in Corpus Christi over the weekend.

The men's team finished fourth behind Texas Christian, Texas and the winner, Southern Methodist; the women's team finished eighth overall as UT won the women's championship for the fourth time. TCU and SMU rounded out the top three finishers.

A&M's Brent Haygarth was the brightest spot for the men's team as he defeated Ed Ross of SMU 6-4, 7-6 to grab the No. 4 singles title. Marcel Vos advanced to the semifinal round of the No. 1 singles bracket before losing to eventual title winner Royce Deppe of UT 2-6, 6-3, 6-7.

A&M's Shaun O'Donovan made it to the semifinals of the No. 5 singles spot before losing to SMU's Brett Stevens 6-2, 5-7, 5-7; and Steve Kennedy advanced to the semifinals of the No. 6 singles where he lost to UT's Chip Leighton 6-7, 3-6.

Brent Haygarth

For the women's team, Kim Labuschagne was the only Aggie to make it to the semifinal round, losing to UT's Beverly Bowes 2-6, 2-6 in No. 1 singles action. In doubles play, Labuschagne and Laura Liong lost in the semifinal round to Rene Simpson and Teresa Dobson of TCU 3-6, 6-1, 2-6.

Reds sweep Astros with 11-3 rout

HOUSTON (AP) — Dave Parker had the best performance of his career in the Astrodome Sunday, hitting two home runs and driving in five runs to lead the Cincinnati Reds to an 11-3 win and a sweep of their three-game series with Houston.

Parker increased his home run total to seven, the highest home run production of his career in April.

"My mechanics haven't been good, but I've continued to hit the long ball. I have really come out of it here. Last year, I hit just one home run against these guys, now I've already hit three this year," Parker said.

The win is the sixth for the Reds in seven games with Houston this season.

Parker had a two-run homer in the first, then capped his day with a three-run shot in the ninth, his sixth and seventh of the season. Dave Concepcion had four hits and Eric Davis, who had struck out nine times in a row entering the game, had three hits and scored three times in Cincinnati's 19-hit attack.

Bob Knepper, 1-2, was the loser, allowing five runs and 12 hits in five innings. Bill Doran accounted for all the Houston runs with his fifth home run and a sacrifice fly.

The Reds took a 3-0 lead in the first when Kurt Stillwell singled with one out and scored on Parker's towering home run to center. Bo Diaz drove home Davis later in the inning.

Cincinnati made it 4-0 in the second on Stilwell's RBI single. They added a run in the fifth on Davis' double and Dave Concepcion's single.

Doran's homer made it 5-2 in the fifth and got another in the sixth on Doran's sacrifice fly.

New evidence postpones UT's meeting with NCAA

AUSTIN (AP) — The University of Texas' appearance before the NCAA Infractions Committee in connection with 63 rules violations was postponed because new information was received in the case, UT officials said Sunday.

School officials were to appear Sunday before the NCAA committee at Hilton Head Island, S.C., on the charges.

"The NCAA Infractions Committee hearing on the University of Texas at Austin's case has been postponed because of new information developed late Saturday, April 25," university president William H. Cunningham said in a prepared statement.

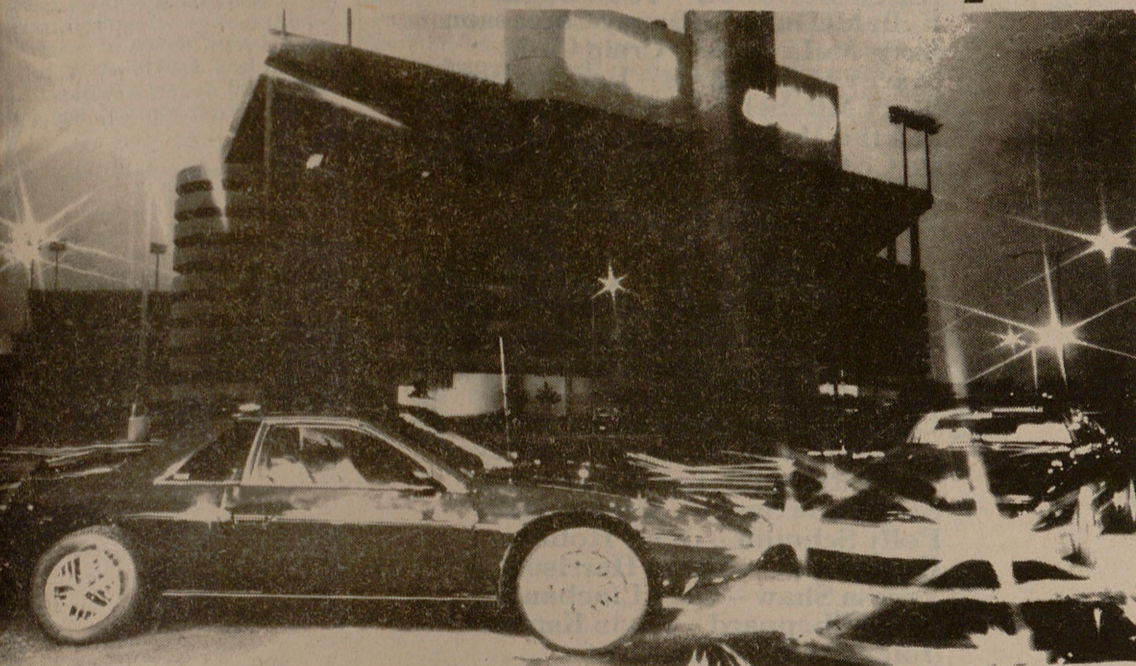

Joyce Pole, UT Austin News Service director, said she did not know what type of new information was received.

The university was charged with violations ranging from players receiving cash loans to players selling complimentary game tickets at inflated prices.

UT Athletic Director DeLoss Dodds and Cunningham had called the violations minor.

But some officials said the allegations against UT Austin, spanning 19 categories over a period of seven years, are similar to those that resulted in Southern Methodist University being placed on probation in 1981.
