

Hiya readers!

You'll probably find this hard to believe, but while you are struggling to finish up one semester, we're already beginning a new one. And with the new semester comes a whole new staff... well almost all new.

Last week's issue was a hard one to follow, so we decided to give you something fun to read to help you make a cool transition into the summer heat. For those of you who are planning to stay in town for the summer months, we've included some information on what to expect from College Station in the summer.

Wherever you will be for the summer, you're going to need to find some creative ideas for ways to get the most out of the heat — or getting out of most of the heat. Keeping that in mind, we've tried to give you a few ideas to get your summer off to a cool start.

We haven't made any major changes in this issue of At Ease because we wanted to find out what you, our readers, wanted first. Do you want to keep the TV logs or could you care less? What about the movie page? Would you like to see more detail or would you like to see something else in its place? We already received some response on our TV log hotline, and we thank all those who called and voted. But on page 15 of this issue we've included an At Ease Reader Survey. Please take the time to fill out this simple questionnaire and drop it in the mail, or drop it in the At Ease Reader Survey box at The Battalion.

And one last bit of good news. At Ease is going to be around this summer! Our next issue won't be until June 11, so stay cool and take it easy.

Karen Lydia

At Ease Staff

Editor	Karen Kroesche
Asst. Editor	Lydia Berzsenyi
Staff Writers	Staci Finch Melisa Hohlt
Reviews	Thomas Reinarts
Photographer	Fernando Yebra
Production	Randy Marquardt

inside

Beat the Heat _____ 8

Summer's almost here, and so is the heat. Are you wondering how you are going to make your summer bearable? We've given you a few tips to help you get acclimated and to make your summer fun.

Living it up in College Station _____ 6

If you are planning on staying in College Station over the summer, you may be anticipating a long, boring spell. But don't fret, just look inside to discover the hot spots around town, as well as the shady ones.

Album review _____ 4

Thomas takes a look at "Pleased to Meet Me," the newest album from The Residents, a band which is trying to lengthen its list of listeners. Read on to find out who they are.

Movie review _____ 5

Thomas saw "Creepshow II" but it didn't live up to his expectations. Look inside to find out why.

Best Bets _____ 5

Movies _____ 11