Astros fall below .500 with 5-4 loss to Padres

HOUSTON (AP) — San Diego's Luis Salazar drove in two runs with a home run in the second inning and a game-winning single in a four-run eighth Monday night, leading the Padres to a 5-4 victory over the Houston Astros.

It was only San Diego's 15th win of the season.

The Padres started the eighth trailing 4-1 against Astros starter Bob Knepper, 2-7, but Randy Ready and Shane Mack opened with singles. Both runners scored on a grounder by Carmelo Martinez to shortstop Craig Reynolds, who overthrew first Benito Santiago doubled to left, scoring James Steels, who ran for Martinez, to tie the game 4-4. Santiago then stole third and scored the winning run on Salazar's single to right field.

Craig Lefferts, 1-2, got the victory, pitching one inning in relief of starter Andy Hawkins, and Rich Gossage got the final six outs for his third save.

Houston's Kevin Bass highlighted a three-run sixth inning with a double prior to San Diego's comeback.

Denny Walling singled and Jose Cruz walked to start the sixth against Hawkins. Bass' double went to the deep right field corner, scoring Walling and breaking a 1-1 tie.

Sacrifice flys by Craig Reynolds and Knepper scored Cruz and Bass. Knepper, who gave up four home runs in a 22-7 loss to Chicago in his last start, fell behind 1-0 in the second inning when Salazar hit his second home run of the season

Houston tied it in the fifth when Reynolds led off with a single and went from first to third on Knep-per's slow-rolling sacrifice bunt. He scored on Billy Hatcher's ground-

The Giants squandered a 6-0 lead after three innnings as the Reds scored five times in the middle inscored five times in the middle innings and added the two in the ninth. The Reds increased their lead inning of relief.

The winning rally began as Kal Daniels and Eric Davis drew walks from reliever Scott Garrelts, 5-4. Parker, then singled off left-handed reliever Keith Comstock to score both runners.

"Winning is a habit I got into and I don't plan to stop," Rodriguez said. "I'm playing without any pressure. I got a good contract from Jack Nick-laus with MacGregor (golf equip-ment company) so I don't have to worry about the money."

Kite lacks top recognition but continues winning ways players on the PGA Tour are more well known than Tom Kite. But no one is more consistent than Kite.

Consistent means winning $3,244,074 to rank fifth on the alltime money winning list, just behind fellow Texan Lee Trevino, who is fourth with $3,270,425. It means 10 tournament titles since 1976. And it means at least one championship in each of the past seven years — a feat no one else on the tour can match.

Kite's seven-stroke victory Sunday in the $700,000 Kemper Open kept the streak alive and earned him $126,000, the biggest payday in his 15-year career.

Éven when he doesn't win, the 37year-old Kite often is among the leaders. He finished in the money 24 of 26 times last year and is going at a similar pace this season.

Yet Kite never has won a major title and has trouble envisioning himself as ever dominating the tour. "If I was 28, I might think so. But it's hard to think of a guy approaching his 40s dominating the tour," he said. "I'm capable, but dominating is tough. That means four wins a year."

Kite got No. 1 of 1987 by clipping four strokes off par on the back nine, including birdies on Nos. 11 and 12 and an eagle on 13. In those three holes, Kite's lead went from two strokes to six, and he coasted from there.

Kite was the only player to break par in all four rounds of the initial PGA Tour event at the par-71, 6,864-yard Tournament Players Club course at Avenel. That's another example of consistency

And while much of the gallery was watching one of the more notable players, Greg Norman, only a few hundred were on hand to watch Kite play the key hole of the tournament.

Át No. 13, a 524-yard par-5, Kite canned a 40-footer for an eagle. It sent him on the way to the biggest margin of victory on the tour this
