Judge: Canadian need not speak in trial of Deaver

eral judge ruled Monday that Canadian Ambassador Allan Gotlieb cannot be compelled to testify at the perjury trial of former White House aide Michael K. Deaver.

U.S. District Judge Thomas Penfield Jackson denied independent counsel Whitney North Seymour's motion to compel service on Gotlieb and quashed the subpoena. Deaver is accused in a five-count indictment of lying about the extent of his involvement with the acid-rain issue before he resigned as deputy White House chief of staff to become a lobbyist for Canada and other clients.

Seymour said Gotlieb was the only witness who could prove that Deaver lied when he said he could not recall having lunch Jan. 5, 1985, with the Canadian ambassador and his wife,

Embassy officials refused to accept the subpoenas and later accused Seymour of violating international law by trying to serve them.

Seymour then responded by accusing the Canadian government of "duplicitous" behavior by cooperating with his investigation to satisfy political critics but ultimately refus-ing to provide crucial testimony in the case against Deaver.

Jackson rejected Seymour's contention that Canada had waived its diplomatic immunity by agreeing to answer written questions posed last year by Seymour. "The Canadian note of July 1986 is neither expressly nor by any fair implication a commitment by Canada to subject its ambassador, or any other of its diplomatic personnel, to Seymour touched off a diplomatic the American judicial process in this flap last month when he sent an FBI case," Jackson said.

South Korean leader will attend meeting with opposition heads

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) -President Chun Doo-hwan made a dramatic reversal Monday after nearly two weeks of violent street protests, agreeing to meet with op-position leaders and consider demands for democratic reform.

His opponents insisted all political detainees be freed before the talks, expected later this week. Police say at least 8,000 people have been arrested since anti-government agitation began June 10 and thousands remain in jail.

There were fewer reports Monday of protests and fights with riot police. Most of the violence occurred

Kim's party is the main political opposition.

Chun's foes demand direct presidential elections, but the former general declared April 13 that his successor would be chosen by the current electoral college system and debate on constitutional change would be postponed until after the 1988 Summer Olympics in Seoul. Neither faction has been linked to abductions of the 25 foreigners still held. Amal leader Nabih Berri, also Lebanon's justice minister, ordered his militia Saturday to join the search for Glass, 36, and Ali Osseiran, 40, whose father Adel is defense min-

Marines discharge deserter after being AWOL 17 years

rine Corps deserter who was recaptured after being at large for 17 years is being discharged "for the good of the service" instead of being court-martialed, the Marines said Monday.

Douglas G. Beane, who has been held at the Quantico Marine Base since June 9, admitted being guilty of desertion and to charges of dealing in the black market and threatening to kill another Marine, a base spokesman said.
