

Sure, you mean to brush After every meal. Only sometimes there's not enough time.

OK, a lot of the time there's not enough time. At CarePlus, we understand. And we can help. We'll examine and clean your teeth for only $29 cash including x-rays. That's a $44 value. We'll even accept front, at our regular prices. And if you do need any additional work, students, faculty, and staff of Texas A&M get a 10% discount! So quit worrying about your teeth. And smile!

CarePlus 🗸

MEDICAL & DENTAL CENTER Southwest Pkwy at Texas Avenue

Contact Lenses

Only Quality Name Brands (Bausch & Lomb, Ciba, Barnes-Hinds-Hydrocurve)

*$79.00 -STD. DAILY WEAR SOFT LENSES

*$99.00 -STD. EXTENDED WEAR SOFT LENSES

$99.00 -STD. TINTED SOFT LENSES DAILY WEAR OR EXTENDED WEAR

Call 696-3754 For Appointment

Same day delivery on most soft contact lenses *Eve exam and care kit not included

707 South Texas Ave., Suite 101D College Station, Texas 77840 1 block South of Texas & University

Texas historians honor efforts

QUITAQUE (AP) — Men who tried and failed to enforce the boundaries of the fledgling Republic of Texas and establish trade with Santa Fe have been honored with a pair of historical markers.

of freemasons

At a Sunday ceremony, officials from the Masonic Grand Lodge of Texas, Texas Historical Commission and the Daughters of the Republic of Texas unveiled markers indicating where members of the ill-fated Texan Santa Fe expedition made camp at a spot known to historians as 'Camp Resolution.'

One of the markers was erected by the Texas Historical Commission and the other by Masonic Lodge, because 22 freemasons died in the ex-

Historian Frederick Rathjen wrote that after Texas gained its in-dependence from Mexico in 1836, the new nation's second president, Mirabeau Lamar, wanted to enforce newly defined national boundaries and foster trade between Austin and

A march by 321 volunteers began at Austin and ended at the conflu-ence of the Los Lingos and Quitaque creeks, with many marchers suffer-

On Aug. 30, 1841, after at least 35 men had perished, a scouting party from the camp was ambushed by 150 Kiowa Indians, and five other men were killed.

Eventually, another group made its way from the camp and found a group of Mexican traders and hired them to lead the rest of the group to

When the survivors reached Santa Fe, however, Mexican authorities arrested them. As prisoners, the Tex-ans were forced to march south 2,000 miles to Mexico City jails. The spot near Quitaque became known as "Camp Resolution."

Warped

WELL I GOT MOST OF MY CLASSES I WANTED THIS SEMESTER, I'M SEEING A NICE GUY OR TWO ...

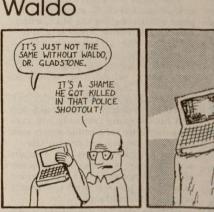

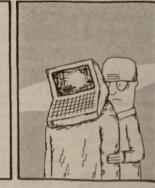

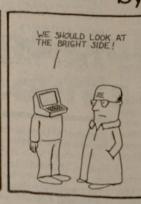

by Scott McCullo

by Kevin Thoma

Joe Transfer

Texas menu tingles tastebuds by offering oriental-style foods

FRANKSTON, Texas (AP) — All the old Texas standbys like chicken fried steak are on the menu. But the typical customer at Jennie's is more likely to chow down on teriyaki steak or kalua pig.

"It's what people have really commented on," restauranteur Chris Shiraki says. "They've never tasted these things here before."

Shiraki, 32, a native of Hawaii of Japanese descent, and his wife, Marie, who claims Frankston as her hometown, took over operation of Jennie's in May. And, despite un-foreseen pitfalls including storm damage and burglary, their restaurant is making a name for itself in East Texas.

thought there were a Texans who would never move from chicken fried steaks," Shiraki says. "In fact, they have quite an affinity for international foods."

One of Shiraki's regulars, Gloria Dyer, says it's not unusual to see area farmers, complete with overalls, knock off work long enough for a lunch of Hawaiian ono chicken served on a stick like shish kebab.

The Hawaiian and Oriental dishes that chef Shiraki lists as specialties of the house include Korean-style kalbi ribs and Philippine pork adobo

"I never thought I could get any Texan to try something like pork adobo with vinegar, bay leaves and garlic in it, but people tasted it and liked it," Shiraki says.

Some of the recipes have been culled from the many cookbooks Shiraki has collected. Others have High property values made the couple's dream impossible in Chris' home state, Marie says. So the couple began looking at Texas.

"There is no way to have started a restaurant in Hawaii," Marie says. "A small house with an acre of land 30 or 40 miles from downtown Ho-

"I thought there were a lot of Texans who would never move from chicken fried steaks. In fact, they have quite an affinity for international foods."

— Chris Shiraki, restauranteur

"In Hawaii, people live to cook," Shiraki says. "There is a multitude of different ethnic cultures."

Shiraki boasts of being told by customers that he makes "the best spaghetti they've ever eaten.

The move to Frankston was a combination of happy circumstances for the Shirakis and former proprietor Jennie Minter. After six years in food services at the Brigham Young University campuses in Utah and Hawaii, Shiraki was aching to open his own business.

been passed on to him by his mother and friends.

nolulu goes for $130,000 to desserts as his own main courses.

$140,000 and it's easily $1 million

"I've only been doing this arm." for any kind of restaurant prop-

> Jennie Minter, proprietor of Jennie's for six years, for advice. Minter uggested the couple lease the Frankston restaurant. "Texas is at an (economic) low point right now," Shiraki says. "To

Marie contacted family friend get started in Texas as it is coming out of the slump means you go up with the economy

Call 779-2800 for the branch nearest you.

2411 Texas Avenue South 696-2800

tiques including an elegant has carved bar complete with etch mirrors. For the Shirakis, who fait fully close on Sundays, tunstocked bar is strictly for show. At lunch on a recent Thursdithe restaurant's 20-car parking was completely filled.

For a small town Texas restarant, Chris Shiraki's kitchen is 5 well equipped it summons up a image of some mammoth New York eatery staffed by 20 cooks.

Shiraki shares his kitchen w Marie, who usually shows up at a.m. to begin cooking cakes and p for the dessert menu. Shiraki do

I've only been doing this a coun of months," Marie says.

It's the restaurant's plain met siding exterior and slightly obsur-location perched on a hill best Texas 155 that has hurt busine Shiraki says. That, and a July windstorm that totaled the resta rant's single elevated sign.

In mid-July, the restaurant burglarized of about $100. Some the sting was taken out of the The restaurant's interior is done when evidence indicated that

Bro

Hernandez re sentence on ar tion Monday a problems had

Hernandez, day of lying jury during a ment corruption

He was sen tion and not fi The mayor der investigat office, his auto nesses have sur "For the pas

Fori

CORSICAN nursing home she enrolled College course have done the "I feel ashar vorked for se

h Navarro an ne Corsicana "We had i sgned up or neet," she said Bell said so were too conf they were being

HEAL WHE REAL

or sell fieds c do th

Batt