

In Advance

Lecture to focus on psychology theory

The Jungian Society of the Brazos Valley will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. in 302 Rudder, where Frank McMillan, Jr. will speak on modern trends toward Jungian psychology, said Dr. David Rosen, of the Psychology Department.

McMillan, Class of '12, recently has endowed the chair of Analytical Psychology, Rosen said. This chair is the first and only chair of its type in the world and will put Texas A&M on the map in new methods of studying psychology.

"This is a rare opportunity for people to meet somebody who established a professorship," Rosen said. "He was self-educated in Jungian psychology and he felt that it should be the central thinking in the teaching of psychology. So he created this professorship."

A&M to join in 'Bells Across America'

By Lisa G. Williams
Reporter

Interested in a celebration? Thursday is the 200th anniversary of the signing of the United States Constitution and a nationwide tribute has been planned to celebrate this significant event in U.S. history.

The national commission on the bicentennial of the United States Constitution has invited Texas A&M — along with every American and every institution — to participate in "Bells Across America — A Ringing Tribute to the Constitution."

A&M's political science honor society, Pi Sigma Omega, has organized A&M's part in the event, said Dr. Bonnie Browne, PSO adviser.

Exa York of A&M's Educational Information Services said a ringing tribute from the Albritton Tower will start Thursday at 3 p.m., the time of the signing of the Constitution. Bells will be ringing simultaneously across the nation for 200 seconds, York said.

EIS is responsible for preparing the tower's electronic bell system to play patriotic music before pealing the bells.

Two hundred red, white and blue helium-filled balloons will be released by students, one per second, York said.

All students are invited to gather by the Lawrence Sullivan Ross statue at 2:30 p.m. Thursday, where 200 bicentennial balloons will be distributed, she said.

The procession will pass by Rudder Fountain on the way to the Westgate Memorial on the corner of the drill field, York said, and students may join the celebration at any time.

Browne said her participation in this project is aimed at getting students interested in the bicentennial year. Browne said she's hoping the tribute will spur reflection on the blessings of liberty and ideals of justice made possible by the Constitution.

"The Constitution is really important," Browne said. "However, it is of no value if it does not live in people's hearts and minds."

The document was formed when, on Sept. 17, 1787, 39 men signed their names to it, establishing the world's first government of the people, by the people and for the people.

People with questions about Bells Across America should contact Browne at 845-2121 or York at 845-4600.

Litter slogan helps keep roads clean

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas' tough-talking advertising program to stop littering along its roadways is paying off, the state highway department said Tuesday.

The $2 million-a-year "Don't mess with Texas" campaign began two years ago and the department released results of a survey Tuesday that showed visible litter in Texas has decreased by 54 percent since 1985.

"I don't know if it was Stevie Ray Vaughan's growl, Randy White's menacing threat, Mike Scott's explosive pitching or volunteer efforts by thousands of Texans, but Texas is no longer losing the war against trash on our roadsides," said Don Clark, director of the highway department's travel and information division.

The survey by the Institute for Applied Research in Sacramento, Calif., also showed soft drink- and beer-container littering had declined by 66 percent during the past two years.

Clark said state cleanup efforts cost nearly $50 million in 1985-86 but the annual cost increase has declined from 15-20 percent a year to 6.5 percent.

Besides the "Don't mess with Texas" slogan, the department began the "Adopt-a-Highway" program in which volunteers remove trash from two-mile sections of roadways. In July, 4,700 miles, or 6 percent of state-maintained roads, were being cleaned by volunteers. Littering is decreased by more than 64 percent in areas with volunteers cleaning the roadsides.

"In Texas we are making litter an unacceptable behavior with a tough message that, while it has had its moments of controversy, is now a popular battle cry that rivals 'Remember the Alamo,'" Clark said.

THE NEW 3-C Restaurant
 TONIGHT'S SPECIAL
 5-9 pm, ALL YOU CAN EAT
 Beef Fajitas w/All the trimmings $6.95

—ALL DAY—
$1 Margaritas
$5 Pitchers

Lunch Specials M-F
 Banquet room available
 "Best looking wait staff"

Harvey & Texas Ave. - Culpepper Plaza - 693-4054

Mothers and Daughters

Come See Our Fall Collection

Judy Cofield, Lisa Zwerneman, Shelley Hogue, and Kim Pizzo students at Texas A&M, are shown wearing the latest fall fashions from Mom and Me. 10% student discounts are available.

Speed Reading

Free one hour lesson!

We will double your speed. Only money back guarantee course in Texas will:

- increase comprehension
- improve retention
- teach study skills

Get assigned reading done in less than half the time. Congratulations last class, you increased 17 times.

Ramada Inn
 College Station

Tues., Sept. 15
 or Wed., Sept. 16
 4, 6, and 8 p.m.

Power Reading
 713-320-9671
 direct or collect

advertise with the Battalion classified ads 845-2611

Crane collapses; 2 killed, 8 others hurt

GLEN ROSE (AP) — A 180-foot crane apparently blown over by high winds slammed into a temporary building at an under-construction nuclear plant Tuesday, killing two and injuring eight others.

A 54-year-old man was dead on arrival at Harris Methodist-Glen Rose Hospital.

A 46-year-old woman died shortly after from internal injuries suffered in the accident at Comanche Peak Nuclear Plant, hospital spokesman Gary Marks said.

Authorities blamed bad weather for the crane's collapse, as heavy thunderstorms moved into Glen Rose Tuesday morning.

The workers began preparing to lower the crane's boom when the storms began to move in, said Dave Fiorelli, spokesman for Texas Utility, a majority owner of the plant.

Fiorelli said the crane fell on a temporary building, killing one person and seriously injuring another, who later died. Other workers suffered minor injuries in the accident and were expected to be released late Tuesday, Marks said.

Secret Wars

of the

C. I. A.

from Vietnam to Nicaragua

featuring

John Stockwell

National Security Council

coordinator of the covert war in Angola

Wednesday, September 16

7:30 p.m.

Rudder Theater

Free

