Plane explosion leaves 1 dead, 6 hurt at base

BOSSIER CITY, La. (AP) — A KC-10 military aircraft exploded Thursday on the tarmac at Barksdale Air Force Base, killing one person and leaving six firefighters with minor injuries in the aftermath, authorities said.

Only the cockpit and tail section appeared intact after the explosion, said observers. People reported that the fuselage left a smoldering tangle of metal that was reminiscent of the other recent plane crashes that have been prevalent in the news. The plane was laden with 63,000 pounds of fuel at the time, Col. Brett Dula said.

He said the KC-10 refueling tanker had arrived at 2:20 p.m. Thursday on a mission in Key West, Fla., and was parked on a flightline, or tarmac, when the explosion occurred about 4:45 p.m. He said no other planes were involved.

Military firefighters put out the flames but there was no immediate estimate of damages, Tech. Sgt. Eric Jensen said. He said there was no immediate word on the cause.

"One person was killed," Airman Stephen Pierce said. "The name will be released pending notification of next of kin." He said all names were being withheld until relatives were alerted.

He said he had no information on how the death occurred, nor other details about the injured, but said the six persons injured were treated for injuries ranging from nose scrapes and cuts to a few broken ribs and other bones and were taken from the base hospital.

The base said a cost estimate of the damage was not available Tuesday evening. It said in a statement that an investigatory board was being appointed to look into the Senate votes against sending $310 million to Central America

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate late Thursday turned back an effort to send $310 million in new aid to the Nicaraguan guerrillas, while in the House, Speaker Jim Wright said there was reason to hope for a cease-fire in the region even before a Nov. 7 deadline in a five-nation peace plan.

The Senate voted 61-31 to table, and thus kill, the aid package, although it will be revived later after President Reagan formally submits it to Congress.

Sen. Sam Nunn, D-Ga., another backer of Contra aid, made the motion to kill the package, saying, "This is the wrong time for this."

"I would hope that this vote will not be taken as a (negative) signal by the freedom fighters or as a comforting signal by the Sandinistas," Nunn said. "I don't think this vote is indicative of our views."

Sen. Alan Dixon, D-Ill., another aid backer, said, "I can't think of a worse time, while the peace initiative is under way, to offer this amendment."

The votes came hours after Wright said that conversations with Central American leaders in the past week have led him to hope there may be a cease-fire in the region even before the deadline established in a five-nation peace plan.

FBI returns foreign man for U.S. trial

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Lebanese man accused of murdering the 1985 hijacking of a Jordanian airliner was taken aboard a boat crewed by U.S. agents in the Mediterranean and returned to the United States on Thursday, Justice Department announced.

Amid extremely tight security, Fawaz Younis, a Shiite Muslim, appeared before a U.S. magistrate in Washington on charges of hostage-taking, conspiracy to destroy an aircraft, and could result in a term of life imprisonment if he is convicted.

Younis pleaded innocent to the June 11, 1985 hijacking of the liner at Beirut, on which two U.S. citizens and two U.S. national were traveling. Younis was ordered held without bail and taken to an undisclosed location.

In arguing for no bail, Assistant U.S. Attorney J. Ramon Johnson noted that Younis was charged with "holding hostages under circumstances which were both violent and very dangerous."

Another bail hearing scheduled for Tuesday.

The Younis case marks the first overseas arrest by U.S. enforcement officials of a suspected terrorist being sought under U.S. laws, Attorney General Edwin Meese III told a news conference.

with a plan to continue "humanitarian" aid to Nicaragua's Contra rebels for at least 40 days past the Oct. 1 expiration date of the current aid allocation.

"There are powerful individuals and forces in Central America who are trying to work out a modus for putting a cease-fire into effect even before Nov. 7," Wright, D-Texas, told a reporter.

But Wright said he was meeting resistance to the deal from Republicans who want a higher figure and Democrats who want less. And it remained to be seen how the provision would be greeted in the Senate, where leaders were not closely involved in putting together the agreement.

House Democratic leaders said they went along with the proposal — after cutting it from the $8 million originally sought and limiting it to humanitarian aid — in part to avoid possible criticism that they had cut off food and medicine to the rebels fighting Nicaragua's leftist Sandinista government.

He also said there is broad agreement in the House to go along

The treaty would be the first U.S.-Soviet arms control accord in the 6 1/2-year Reagan presidency. It would require the dismantling of 332 U.S. missiles in West Germany, Britain, Italy and Belgium, and the Soviet Union. In return, the Soviets would destroy 512 missiles targeted on Western Europe and 171 aimed at China and Japan.

At the windup of 9 1/2 hours of talks between Shevardnadze and the State Department spokesman said, "No further meetings are scheduled."

Word of the tentative agreement came after Shevardnadze dramatically decided to extend talks on the treaty that could pave the way to a power summit by year's end.

An official, who demanded anonymity, said that Shultz and Shevardnadze had virtually settled a dispute over the American warheads that are in West German Pershing 1-A missiles. The Soviet demanded inclusion of the warheads in the pact because the missiles were part of West German arsenal.

Tentative accord reached between U.S., Soviet Union

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State George P. Shultz and Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard A. Shevardnadze wrapped up their talks yesterday with "an agreement in principle" to ban intermediate-range nuclear missiles, a U.S. official said.

President Reagan was expected to make an announcement at the White House today at 9 a.m. Shevardnadze scheduled a 9:30 a.m. news conference at the Soviet embassy.

"The major differences have been worked out, but the details still must be filled in," the official, who demanded anonymity, told the Associated Press.

In a sign of progress, Reagan met for 35 minutes in his residence late Thursday evening with Shultz and Shevardnadze.

The tentative agreement could pave the way for a superpower summit meeting in Washington by year's end. Soviet leader Mikhail S. Gorbachev has held back from accepting Reagan's invitation until he was confident their third meeting would be productive.

"Generally, without reason, I don't go anywhere, particularly America," Gorbachev said last April during a visit by Shultz to Moscow.

NEW YORK — Negotiators in the labor talks agreed Monday in an attempt to avert an increasingly inevitable strike.

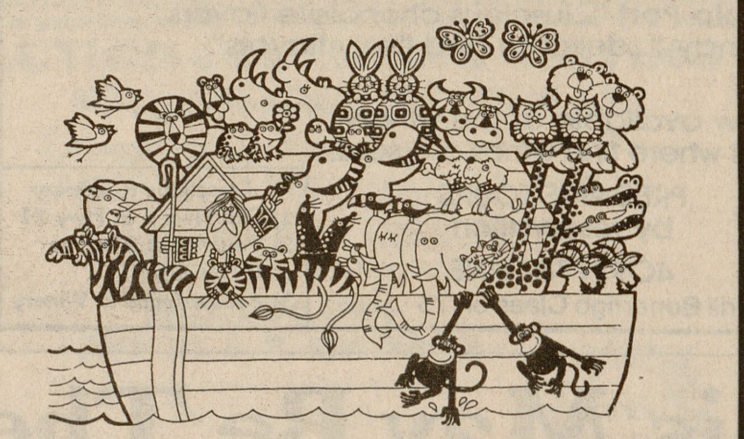

The meeting between the union's Jack Donohue and the company's Gene Upshaw, at which it was not clear a deal will not be a formal one.

John Jones, a union official, said the union's management Thursday the possibility is to "explore a
