the ropes and look to the future. Either way, Sherrill will be second-guessed by "couching" staffs across the country.

But if he fails to support one or the other, the A&M offense, and thus the team, will continue to stumble.

AGGIE NOTES: Tomorrow's game will be nationally televised on ESPN, the second time in as many games for A&M. Last week's open date allowed the Aggies a chance to mend after the physical LSU game. Free safety Kip Corrinton, fullback Matt Gurley, center Matt Wilson and offensive guards Trace McGuire and Jerry Fontenot are all expected to play.

A&M's safeties, Corrinton and Chet Brooks, combined for 31 tackles against LSU whereas the defensive line totaled 18 stops. Running back Keith Woodside's five receptions in the LSU game brought his career total to 90, 15 behind the school record set by Rod Bernstine.

Texas A&M's 12th Man Kick-Off team gave up two returns for 80 yards in the LSU contest, with the long gain being 57 yards. A&M also was 3 of 13 in third down conversion against the Tigers. Look for a better performance all around on Saturday.

Oilers, HSA are 'encouraged' by negotiations

HOUSTON (AP) — Both sides in the negotiations to keep the Houston Oilers from fleeing the city for Jacksonville, Fla., say they're encouraged now that discussions are face to face.

"I think it's a good sign that we're finally negotiating for the first time," Ladd Herzog, the National Football League team's general manager, said. "I don't think you can read anything beyond that, except that we are really sitting down to negotiate for the first time."

"I'm very pleased to hear what Ladd said, and I also think it's a very good sign," said Bob Harter, president of the Houston Sports Association, which owns the Houston Astros and subleases the Astrodome to the Oilers.

None of the specifics of the proposals are being disclosed. The Oilers previously have asked for a lease deal that more closely mirrors the arrangement enjoyed by the Houston Astros baseball team and are threatening to move to Jacksonville after this season unless some changes are made.

Herzog said both sides have exchanged new lease proposals in two days of meetings this week and said team officials would be available for further sessions Thursday.

The Oilers have been demanding proceeds from concessions, parking and advertising, increased seating capacity and improvements to the artificial playing surface.

The county has approved a $50 million expansion project and this week began seeking bids for a new carpet — one for football and one for baseball. The existing surface is used for both sports.

Oilers owner Bud Adams has said he will make a decision on whether to stay in Houston or move to Jacksonville by Oct. 15.
