Statistics show Texas crime rate increasing in major offense areas

AUSTIN (AP) — The overall Texas crime rate and the volume of major crimes were up during the first half of 1987, compared with the same period last year, the Department of Public Safety reported Thursday.

Statistics supplied by law enforcement agencies indicated that the statewide rate of violent crimes declined, while property crimes increased.

"The crime rate for the first six months of this year rose 4.4 percent to 3,761.1 crimes per hundred thousand population," said Col. Leo Gossett, DPS director.

According to the reports submitted by 804 law enforcement agencies to the DPS' crime reporting program, murders were down 10.5 percent, from 1,072 between January and June of 1986 to 959 in the same period this year.

Rape was down 13.8 percent, robbery down 2.7 percent and aggravated assault down 5.2 percent.

Burglaries were up 6.4 percent and thefts up 7.7 percent, while motor vehicle thefts showed the increase of all categories, up 10.2 percent from 55,544 in the first six months of 1986 to 60,671 this year.

Drug arrests also were up 10.2 percent during the six-month period, from 32,500 in 1986 to 35,800 in 1987.

"Three Texas law enforcement officers lost their lives as a result of criminal action during the first six months of this year," Gossett said. "Duty-related deaths of officers." Assaults on police officers dropped 3.4 percent, from 2,117, Gossett said.
