Sales tax increase for Texas business takes effect Oct. 1

AUSTIN (AP) — The state sales tax will go up three-quarters of a cent Oct. 1, when garbage collection, private club memberships and many other items and services will be subject to the levy for the first time.

The sales tax increase to 6 cents on the dollar and the expansion of the tax base was a major part of the $5.7 billion tax increase enacted by the 1987 Legislature.

The increase makes up for the continuing economic effects of the oil and natural gas price slump and allows state services to continue at about the current level in the two-year budget cycle that began Sept. 1.

The cigarette tax also will go from 20.5 cents to 26 cents a pack on Oct. 1.

The expanded tax base is expected to add more than 64,000 Texas businesses to the state tax rolls, according to the comptroller's office. More than 420,000 merchants and businesses already collect sales taxes.

Among the broad categories of services that will be subject to the sales tax beginning Oct. 1 are real property services such as landscaping and garbage collection, and security services, including private investigators.

Items that will be subject to the sales tax include custom computer programs, labor on installations to tangible property, telephone services and membership and dues to private clubs.

Comptroller Bob Bullock said Thursday, "Businesses need to re-program cash registers and alert workers and staff of the new rate taking effect Oct. 1."

Alma Faulkner of the Texas Association of Business, which fought a proposed large increase in and prepayment of the corporate franchise tax, said, "I don't know that the sales tax is going to hurt us."

The franchise tax is scheduled to go from $5.25 to $6.70 per $1,000 of taxable capital and surplus on Jan. 1. A proposed higher increase and tax prepayment failed in the Legislature.

The sales tax also will be extended to data processing services, payroll and business accounting, time-sharing and computer management on Jan. 1. Taxes also will be due starting

Jan. 1 on repair and remodeling services, except on new construction and owner-occupied residences.

The state's motor vehicle sales and hotel-motel room taxes were increased Sept. 1, when a fee also was instituted for businesses to obtain a sales tax permit.

Tax expert says deductions won't change

AUSTIN (AP) — A major factor that makes a state income tax more attractive for some Texans will not be changed in the coming years, a federal tax expert Thursday told the Select Committee on Tax Equity.

"I see little likelihood that the deduction for sales tax is going to be restored," Jack E. "Buck" Chapoton, a former U.S. Treasury Department official and current managing partner for the Washington office of the law firm of Vinson & Elkins, said.

The 1986 federal tax law change bars Americans from using state sales taxes as a deduction on federal income tax calculations. State income taxes, however, remain deductible.

State Senate Finance Committee Chairman Grant Jones said that gives a boost to a Texas state income tax, something that has been considered political poison.

"I don't know that it becomes inevitable, but it certainly becomes less unattractive," Jones said of a state income tax, adding, however, it is not likely to happen in 1989.

Chapoton said the sales tax deduction will not be restored although "there are many good arguments" for putting it back in place.

"Particularly, the inequity among the states by having . . . one type of tax deductible and other types of state taxes non-deductible," he said.

Rep. Dan Morales, D-San Antonio and a committee member, said the special panel would not make any tax decisions until it hears from Texans.
