McWilliams moves to 2-0 vs. Hogs as Texas holds top spot in SWC

From the Associated Press
 David McWilliams is developing a reputation as a Razorback killer in his short head coaching career. McWilliams' Texas Tech team blanked Arkansas 17-0 in Fayetteville last year. When Fred Akers was fired, he left Lubbock for Austin.

On Saturday, the Texas Longhorns scored on the last play of the game to upset Arkansas 16-14 and seize leadership of the SWC football chase.

In other games, defending SWC champion Texas A&M stayed alive with a 34-10 victory over Baylor, the Aggies' first triumph in Waco since 1977; Texas Tech crushed Rice 59-7, Texas Christian got revenge over North Texas State with a 19-10 victory, and hardluck Houston lost 37-35 to Wyoming.

The SWC's non-conference mark is 14-13-1.
 "Arkansas is my lucky game," McWilliams said after the upset of the Razorbacks. "It's fortunate we have an open date this next week. It will give us a chance to get over our yelling and screaming."
 Arkansas Coach Ken Hatfield understandably was in shock.
 "I'm sick and hurt," Hatfield said. "But I believe this team will stick together and we will bounce back."
 Texas, generally picked for a second division finish, sports an unblemished 2-0 ledger in SWC play.
 Texas A&M, which got a big offensive lift from freshman quarterback Bucky Richardson in his first start, Arkansas, and Baylor are 2-1 in SWC games.
 "It's going to be a long, hard, tough race," said Baylor Coach

Grant Teaff. "Everybody's still in with his polished execution of Aggie's option offense."
 "The kid showed a lot of promise," said Aggie's Coach Jackie Stess. "He did a good job of running offense."
 Richardson was a schoolboy No. 1 bone quarter back in Baton Rouge. He showed he could pass by throwing a 17-yard touchdown pass.
 "I didn't think I'd get to play this year," Richardson said.
 "He's fast and strong and can bring down," Teaff said. "I think Aggies have solved their quarterback problems."
 Houston, which suffered the loss of quarterback Andre Ware last season with a broken arm, lost Wyoming on a 35-yard field goal the final minute.

Good, bad and ugly concerning the SWC

From the Associated Press
 Here are Southwest Conference Superlatives from this weekend's games:
PRaise THE PENALTY — Texas was penalized five yards for jumping offside on the play before its winning 18-yard touchdown pass as time expired against Arkansas on Saturday.
 "God blessed us on the play because when we jumped offside we were in the wrong formation," Texas Coach David McWilliams said.
SECOND SMALLEST — At 5-7, Tony Jones, who caught the winning touchdown pass for Texas in the 16-14 victory over Arkansas, is the second smallest SWC player.
 Texas Tech's Tyrone Thurman is the smallest at 5-3.
JINX SHATTERED — When Texas A&M beat Baylor 34-10 on Saturday, it marked the Aggies' first victory in Waco since 1977.

GOOD DEFENSE — Texas A&M held Baylor to only eight first downs.
BALL HOGS — Texas A&M held the ball 40:27 against the Bears' tired defenders.
LONG PLAY — The 61-yard pass from Brad Goebel to Bobby Jack Goforth against Rice was Baylor's longest play of the season.
A GRAY DAY — Texas Tech's James Gray scored four touchdowns against Rice as Tech rolled up 317 yards on the ground.
THE RECORD BOOK — Tony Jefferu scored on a 52-yard touchdown run and became Texas Christian's all-time leading rusher in a 19-10 victory over North Texas.
GREEN QB — Bucky Richardson became the first freshman to start at quarterback for A&M since Kevin Murray did it in 1983 against Houston.

Whitteker paces men's tennis team

By Hal L. Hammond
 Assistant Sports Editor
 Craig Whitteker led the Texas A&M men's tennis team to a 4-1 record in the Texas Tech Invitational in Lubbock weekend.
 Whitteker won the No. 1 singles bracket. Coach David Bosse said he was pleased with the junior-college transfer.
 "He's just now coming into his own. He's the hard worker and the most intense competitor on the team," Bosse said.
 Steve Kennedy finished second in the No. 1 singles, losing to Bosse of Tech 6-4, 7-8 in semifinals. Kennedy played somewhat disappointing, but he has high hopes for sophomore.
 "He's not a Dean Johnson, but he may be one day," Bosse said.
 Shawn O'Donovan finished third in No. 3 singles, losing to Colorado's Kevin Johnson 6-4.
 In No. 2 singles, Mike Walters won the consolation by putting him in fourth place.
 Johnson, the Aggie player, did not make the final because of studies and a sore arm.
 "I think they did a fine job of playing indoors. We don't have any indoor facilities," Whitteker said.

Women's tennis team drops matches at ITCA tourney

From the Associated Press
 Texas A&M's Sandi Klein made it to the consolation finals of the Intercollegiate Tennis Coaches Association Saturday before losing to Tulane's Madeleine Sanchez of Tulane 6-7, 6-2, 6-1.
 Earlier in the tournament, Klein defeated Jeana Burton of Sam Houston State 6-2, 6-0 in the consolation semi-finals and Chris Reetz of Pan American 6-0, 6-2 in the quarterfinals.
 "Sandi Klein had a real good tournament," A&M Coach Bobby Kleinecke said. "She won some tough matches. She was lacking in confidence before the tournament, and now she feels that she can play with anybody."
 A&M's Cindy Churchwell and Cindy Crawford lost in the doubles quarterfinals to Tori Plunkett and Rene Simpson of TCU 6-1, 6-7, 6-2.
 "We came within a couple of points of winning the doubles match," the coach said. "This is the first time we have played Churchwell and Crawford together, and we'll be playing them again next week."
 "We're an extremely young team, and we're learning from our mistakes. That's our goal for this fall."
 The women's tennis team will travel to Baton Rouge Thursday for the LSU Invitational.

Syracuse crushes Nittany Lions to become the East's top team

From the Associated Press
 For Penn State, facing Don McPherson was like facing a loaded gun. And the Syracuse quarterback didn't wait long to pull the trigger.
 Firing an 80-yard scoring pass on the first play from scrimmage, McPherson figured in four more touchdowns as the 13th-ranked Orange men stunned the 10th-ranked Nittany Lions 48-21 Saturday.
 "When I saw the cornerback fall, I knew it was bombs away," said McPherson, who connected with Rob Moore after a Penn State defender fell down. "Once we jumped ahead, things just snowballed."
 Overall, McPherson passed for three touchdowns and ran for two while amassing 375 yards in total offense as Syracuse beat Penn State for the first time since 1970. The Orangemen improved their record to 6-0, the best start for a Syracuse team since the 1959 national champions went 10-0.

 "I think it's a great win," Syracuse Coach Dick McPherson said. "Syracuse has been waiting a long time for this. We're not ready to say we've turned it around. But I don't think there will be any more questions about whether we are a legitimate football team this year."
 In other upsets, Texas edged No. 15 Arkansas 16-14, and Alabama crushed No. 8 Tennessee 41-22. Otherwise, games went according to form in college football Saturday.
 No. 1 Oklahoma, a nine-touchdown favorite, routed Kansas State 59-10, the 11th straight loss for the Wildcats. Second-ranked Nebraska had a surprisingly easy time with No. 12 Oklahoma State, beating the Cowboys 35-0.

In other games involving the top 20, No. 4 Florida State beat No. 5 Auburn 32-9; No. 5 Auburn beat Georgia Tech 20-10; No. 6 Louisiana State routed Kentucky 41-7; No. 7 Clemson whipped Duke 41-10, and No. 9 UCLA defeated No. 16 Oregon 41-10.
 In the Second Ten, No. 11 North Carolina beat Air Force 35-14; Florida walloped Temple 34-7; Ohio State defeated Penn State 17-0; No. 18 Georgia blasted No. 15 State blanked Northwestern 17-0.
 In a Top 20 game moved to a Monday night because of the holidays, No. 20 Indiana edged Iowa State 18-17 in the Memorial Bowl in Minneapolis.
 Syracuse, which had a 1-1 record straight to Penn State, took the lead and coasted past the Lions.

Nelson comes from 6 shots off the pace to overtake leaders for Disney golf win

LAKE BUENA VISTA, Fla. (AP) — PGA champion Larry Nelson came from six shots off the pace with a 63 and scored a one-stroke victory Sunday in the Walt Disney World Golf Classic.
 "Maybe my best competitive round," Nelson said. "Certainly my best competitive round on Sunday."
 "To shoot 63 when you have to do it, that's really something," said Nelson, who put a birdie-birdie finish on his 9-under-par effort.
 Nelson, 40, posted his 20-under-par total of 268 almost an hour ahead of the other contenders. He was one shot ahead of Morris Hatafsky and Mark O'Meara at that time.
 "I've done all I can do," he said. "It's up to them now."
 They couldn't catch him.
 First, Hatafsky had a 15-foot birdie putt on the 18th to tie and force a playoff. But he missed it.

"One more bullet to dodge," Nelson said.
 Then it was O'Meara, who led through the first two rounds. He put his approach about 25 feet from the flag on the 18th.
 "I guess if I hear a big roar, I know I've got to go back out there," Nelson said from his vantage point in the press tent.
 There was no roar. Moments later, a PGA Tour official approached Nelson, held out his hand and said "Congratulations."
 "Can you imagine that? You're in the press tent and you find out you won the golf tournament when someone walks up and shakes your hand," Nelson said.
 The victory was the ninth of his career and second this season. It was worth $108,000 from the total purse of $600,000 and pushed Nelson's earnings for the year to $437,492, by far the largest of his 14-year career.
 Hatafsky and O'Meara tied for second at 269, 19 under par, single stroke back. Hatafsky closing 67 and O'Meara at 68.

 World.
 Third-round leader Nelson was next at 270 after a 71 followed by Mike Reid, Fred O'Grady and South African Fred Frost. Reid closed with O'Grady shot 68 and Frost 69.
 Nelson, whose six-shot lead matched the best on the tour this year, made his big surge 30 on the back nine.
 He started it with a 35 for eagle-3 on the 10th hole in contention with approaching 30 left him three-foot birdie putt on the 13th and 14th.
 He got a share of the birdie on the 17th, where he iron approach four feet from the cup. He took the lead with a foot birdie putt on the 18th.
