Ags, Horns set for Nov. 26 showdown

From Staff and Wire Reports
Texas A&M and Texas appear to be headed for a Thanksgiving night showdown to decide the Southwest Conference football title.

It also looks like the Cotton Bowl guest team has already been signed, sealed and will be delivered on Saturday when Notre Dame makes it official.

Official invitations can't go out until next Saturday but the Cotton Bowl officials have seen four straight Notre Dame games.

Both A&M and Texas have one loss each with two games left including tough tests this Saturday.

The Aggies are at Fort Worth to meet hard-luck Texas Christian which lost by a point to Texas Tech two weeks ago then by three points to the Longhorns on Saturday.

After plastering Arkansas with its first shutout since 1983 with a 14-0 victory on Saturday, the Aggies meet TCU in a noon (Raycom TV) clash.

Texas, a 24-21 survivor over the Horned Frogs, hosts the Baylor Bears in a 1 p.m. game in Austin. Baylor outlasted Rice 34-31 in Waco on Saturday.

Texas Tech also has a bowl bid on the line when it meets Houston Saturday night in the Astrodome with the Independence Bowl scouts in the press box. Houston dropped Temple 37-7 in a non-conference game while the Red Raiders rested.

Texas A&M has a reborn quarterback in senior Craig Stump, who came off the bench to direct a vital 78-yard touchdown drive in the second half.

Stump threw his first touchdown pass of the season and moved Coach Jackie Sherrill to carry his signal caller off the field on his shoulders.

A&M's defense was awesome, limiting Arkansas to 62 yards rushing and sacking four different quarterbacks 10 times.

Rod Harris' 66-yard punt return for a score put Arkansas back on its heels with less than four minutes elapsed in the game before 73,000 fans in Kyle Field.

Arkansas noseguard Tony Chericco predicted A&M would be in the Cotton Bowl for the third consecutive year.

Texas was sparked by Eric Metcalf who rushed for 203 yards and scored two touchdowns as the Longhorns bounced back from a 60-40 humiliation by Houston two weeks ago.

Texas can go to the Cotton Bowl if it wins the next two games. The Longhorns could still make it by losing to Baylor then defeating A&M.

Similarly, A&M could lose to TCU and still be the SWC representative at the Cotton Bowl by defeating Texas. Each team would have conference losses and the representative to the Cotton Bowl would be decided by head-to-head competition.

Arkansas has two league losses and is still alive but would need lapses by both Texas and A&M to make it. The Razorbacks have games with New Mexico and Hawaii remaining.

Two years ago, Baylor defeated Texas in Austin that set up a Thanksgiving showdown at Kyle Field between the two teams. Aggies, behind the strong arm of Kevin Murray and the running of Anthony Toney, easily defeated the Longhorns 42-10.

Bowl matchups begin to solidify one week before invitations go out

From the Associated Press
Although bowl bids can't be officially extended until Nov. 21, several college football teams have an idea of where their home for the holidays will be.

The 13th-ranked Michigan State Spartans know exactly where they will be on New Year's Day.

The Spartans beat No. 16 Indiana 27-3 on Saturday to clinch the Big 10 Conference championship and a Rose Bowl berth.

Lorenzo White rushed 56 times for 292 yards, both school records, and two touchdowns to lead the Spartans to their first Rose Bowl berth in 22 years.

At Pasadena on Saturday, Troy Aikman ran for one touchdown and passed for another in a 17-point third quarter as fifth-ranked UCLA blew open a close game and went on to a 47-14 victory over Washington to remain unbeaten in the Pacific-10 Conference.

The Bruins can become the first team in Pac-10 history to go through conference play with a perfect record by beating cross-town rival Southern Cal next Saturday.

A victory or tie against USC will send the Bruins to the Rose Bowl against Michigan State.

Seventh-ranked Notre Dame crushed Alabama 37-6 on Saturday and will reportedly play in the Cotton Bowl on Jan. 1 against the winner of the Southwest Conference.

After Saturday's play, Texas A&M and Texas each had a 4-1 record in the SWC.

Senior flanker Tim Brown caught four passes for 114 yards and became Notre Dame's career leader in reception yardage with 2,371 against the Crimson Tide, who still have a shot at the Sugar Bowl.

"That sounds like the people who predict the elections before the polls close," Cotton Bowl official John Scovell said of reports the Irish would be in Dallas on New Year's Day.

Undefeated and sixth-ranked Syracuse rallied from a 17-0 deficit to beat Boston College 45-17 and will most likely play in the Sugar Bowl on Jan. 1 against the winner of the Southeastern Conference.

Jeff Burger passed for 217 yards and two touchdowns as Auburn moved closer to a berth in the Sugar by beating Georgia. The Tigers are 8-1-1 and 4-0-1 in the SEC, and they need a Nov. 27 victory over Alabama to clinch the conference outright.

Burger completed 22 of 32 passes and connected for touchdowns of 21 yards to Lawyer Tillman and 3 yards to Duke Donaldson. Georgia fell to 7-3 and 4-2, and was eliminated from the SEC title chase.

Fourth-ranked Florida State will probably spend New Year's Day at the Fiesta Bowl in Tempe, Ariz., against the loser of the Oklahoma-Nebraska showdown next Saturday.

The winner of the Oklahoma-Nebraska game will head for the Orange Bowl in Miami as the number one team in the nation. The most likely opponent for the Big Eight champ is third-ranked Miami, Fla. The Hurricanes, however, still have to play Notre Dame and South Carolina, so there's still a chance another team — such as Syracuse — could make it.

Rodney Williams threw for two touchdowns, and Terry Allen scored twice as ninth-ranked Clemson defeated Maryland 45-16 to earn its second straight Atlantic Coast Conference football title. Clemson, 9-1 overall and 6-1 in the ACC, solidified its bowl possibilities, with the Tigers apparently going to the Citrus Bowl. The Tigers' opponent could be Penn State or the Alabama-Auburn loser.

Cotton Bowl possibilities

- COLLEGE STATION (AP)
Texas and Texas A&M have their chances to be in the Cotton Bowl New Year's Day but there are numerous possibilities:
- If A&M wins two games, Aggies win the title.
  - If A&M beats TCU and loses Texas, and UT beats Baylor A&M, UT goes.
  - If A&M loses to TCU and Texas, and UT beats Baylor A&M, UT goes.
  - If A&M beats Texas and loses to TCU and UT loses to Baylor A&M, A&M goes.
  - If A&M beats TCU and loses Texas, and UT loses to Baylor A&M, A&M goes.
  - If A&M loses to TCU and Texas, and Texas loses to Baylor A&M, A&M goes.
  - If Texas and A&M win at week's games but tie Thanksgiving Arkansas goes.
  - If A&M loses to TCU and Texas, and Texas loses to Baylor A&M, A&M goes.
  - If A&M loses to TCU and Texas, and Texas beats Baylor A&M, A&M goes.
  - If UT ties two games, A&M beats TCU and ties Texas, A&M goes.
