Iran: Jets bomb troops, depot; Iraq claims air force hit refinery

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Iran said its warplanes bombed troop concentrations and a munitions depot Wednesday near Basra and Iraq said its air force destroyed a sugar refinery in western Iran.

The Iranian raids on Abu al-Khasib, near the border eight miles east of Iraq's southern provincial capital, came one day after Parliament speaker Hashemi Rafsanjani said Iran was ready for another major ground offensive.

Iran usually attacks in winter, when wet weather favors its lightly armed forces and hampers the superior Iraqi armor. An Iranian drive across the border last January, one of several in the 7-year-old war, stalled six miles from Basra.

In the Gulf of Oman a tanker that had been burning since Iranian speedboats attacked it Sunday exploded and began sinking.

Two U.S.-flagged Kuwaiti tankers and a chartered refueling vessel entered the Persian Gulf for the trip north to the sheikdom. It was the 20th such convoy since the U.S. Navy began escorting 11 reflagged Kuwaiti tankers last summer to protect them from Iranian attack.

A dispatch from Iran's official Islamic Republic News Agency claimed the raids east of Basra inflicted substantial casualties.

U.S.-Soviet arms treaty fails to address 'real' cause of tensions, expert says

By George Gedda

Associated Press writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nuclear arms treaty signed by President Reagan and Soviet leader Mikhail S. Gorbachev is a milestone in superpower relations but does nothing to address what some experts see as a more fundamental cause of U.S.-Soviet tensions.

"The arms race is the symptom and political rivalry is the disease," says William H. Luers, a Soviet affairs expert and former foreign service officer.

In a recent article, Luers noted that of all the crises the United States and the Soviet Union have faced since World War II — both small and large — only one has directly involved a controversy over nuclear weapons. That was the Cuban missile crisis.

All the others have involved attempts by one side or the other to expand its influence or to prevent the other from doing so, a pattern that continues to this day.

While Gorbachev has been exhorting Americans to strive toward an improvement in relations, several administration analysts expressed

Soviets express happiness about signing of arms treaty

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviets shed tears of joy and looked hopefully to a visit by President Reagan next year as they spoke words of goodwill Wednesday following the signing of the nuclear arms treaty by the two superpowers.

"There hasn't been any other president who has gone so far to meet us," said a 55-year-old man from Rostov in southern Russia who identified himself only as Nikolai.

"We, two great powers, will trade and live in friendship and peace," he told the Associated Press as he waited for a train in Moscow's Kiev railroad station.

At the Chermushkinsky Farmers Market in the southern part of the capital, other people interviewed at random also spoke warmly of the United States.

Tatyana Loginovskikh, who was selling apples at the market, burst into tears when she recalled hearing a radio report about the signing of the treaty by Reagan and Mikhail S. Gorbachev, the general secretary of the Soviet Communist Party.

"I had grandiose impressions," the 32-year-old mother of two said. "My children will be happy and they will live in peace."

Asked about Reagan's speeches that were broadcast live Tuesday, Alexandra Rumansev said: "They were all right, as I understand him."

doubt that, with the possible exception of Afghanistan, this week's summit will produce any headway in the range of conflicts in which Washington and Moscow have a stake.

Searchers find gun in debris of jet; FBI examines record

CAYUCOS, Calif. (AP) — Searchers found a gun Wednesday in the wreckage of a jetliner, and FBI officials said flight recordings showed someone entered the cockpit without authorization just before the crash that killed all 43 people aboard.

Hampered by fog and wet ground, 40 searchers going through jet debris and body parts strewn over the 15-acre site found the gun around 11 a.m. in two or three inches of mud, FBI agent in charge Richard Bretzing said.

"We have located a weapon," Bretzing told reporters during a news conference at the site where Pacific Southwest Airlines Flight 1771 crashed Monday on a flight from Los Angeles to San Francisco.

News reports have said that David A. Burke, fired last month by USAir, the owner of PSA, may have carried a .44 magnum handgun aboard the plane seeking revenge against former boss Ray Thomson. Both were among the victims of the crash.

"There was evidence there was unauthorized entrance into the cockpit," said Bretzing, who refused to discuss Burke or give any details about the weapon.

Bretzing wouldn't say if gunfire could be heard on the tape, and he said the weapon was being examined for fingerprints.

Patricia Goldman, who is heading the National Transportation Safety Board investigation, said the airliner's flight data recorder also was found Wednesday and it was being taken to Washington for examination.

U.S. journalist's captivity reaches 1,000 days

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Today marks 1,000 days in captivity for American journalist Terry Anderson, the longest-held of the foreign hostages in Lebanon.

Anderson, chief Middle East correspondent for the Associated Press, was kidnapped March 16, 1985 and is among eight Americans missing in Lebanon.

He was last heard from Oct. 3, 1986, in a videotape released by his captors, Islamic Jihad, or Islamic Holy War, a Shiite Moslem faction believed loyal to Iran's Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini. A police spokesman said, "We have no information on Anderson or any of the 21 foreigners missing in Lebanon."

Haiti's junta will elect new council

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti (AP) — Haiti's military-dominated junta will choose a new Electoral Council on Friday and plans to hold new elections on Jan. 17, state-run television reported Wednesday evening.

The government's move came after three of the nation's four top opposition politicians issued a joint declaration vowing to boycott any new elections organized by the interim government. A fourth top candidate also was expected to join the boycott.
