Elway passes Broncos into the Super Bowl

DENVER (AP) — John Elway's third touchdown pass, a 20-yarder to Sammy Winder with 4:01 to play, and a goal-line fumble by Cleveland lifted the Denver Broncos to a 38-33 victory over the Browns Sunday and into their second straight Super Bowl.

The Browns had rallied from an 18-point deficit to tie the score 31-31 but fumbled away a chance to tie it once again on the Denver 2 with about a minute left.

Elway led Denver on a 75-yard, five-play drive, finding Winder on a short pass.

The victory gave Denver its third AFC championship. The Broncos will play Washington on Jan. 31 in the Super Bowl. The Broncos lost to Dallas in 1978 and the New York Giants last year in previous Super Bowl appearances.

The last team to go to consecutive Super Bowls was the Redskins in 1983 and 1984.

The 75-yard drive was highlighted by a pair of 26-yard passes to rookie Ricky Nattiel. Denver's No. 1 draft pick began the drive with a sideline catch over All-Pro cornerback Hanford Dixon, then sped across the middle for another long gain to the 20.

Winder scored on the next play.

Cleveland then launched yet another retaliatory drive, but it died at the 2 when Earnest Byner fumbled. Byner was on his way into the end zone when he was stripped by Jeremiah Castille, who recovered for the Broncos with 1:05 left.

Denver punter Mike Horan ran out of the end zone for a safety with eight seconds to play, giving the Browns their final two points.

The Browns, who trailed 21-3 at halftime and 28-10 in the third quarter, finally tied the score on Webster Slaughter's 4-yard reception 4:12 into the fourth quarter.

After Rich Karlis' 38-yard field goal had given the Broncos a 31-24 lead, Bernie Kosar guided the Browns 86 yards in nine plays. A 53-yard pass play over the middle to Byner and a 14-yard run by Kevin Mack keyed the drive.

Earlier, Elway threw for two touchdowns, including an 80-yarder to Mark Jackson. That third-quarter broken play was the longest playoff touchdown in Bronco history.

Jackson, whose 5-yard touchdown capped the 98-yard drive to the tying score in last year's AFC championship game, took a 5-yard pass from the scrambling Elway and sped down the sideline, eluding two tacklers.

Jackson and Nattiel — two of the Three Amigos — were key elements in Denver's passing game.

They made up for the absence of Vance Johnson, the third All-Pro and Denver's leading receiver who was out with a groin injury.

Jackson finished with 10 yards on four catches, and Nattiel, who had an 8-yard touchdown in the first quarter, was up with 95 yards on five receptions. They dominated Dixon and Minnifield, a pair of Pro Bowl cornerbacks, as the high-powered Broncos offense, rated No. 1 in the AFC, toyed with Cleveland's Dawg Defense.

The Broncos, who led the AFC in takeaways, nearly took Cleveland right out of the game with an interception by Freddie Gilbert on the Browns' first series and a recovery of Mack's fumble on the Browns' next possession. Denver did virtually the same thing last week in eliminating Houston from the playoffs.

Redskins outlast Vikings for Super Bowl berth

WASHINGTON (AP) — Doug Williams, overthrowing and underthrowing most of the day, hit Gary Clark with a 7-yard touchdown pass with 5:15 to play as Washington qualified for its third Super Bowl in six years, beating the Minnesota Vikings 17-10 Sunday.

The victory was due as much to the Washington defense, burned for 62 points in its last two games against Minnesota, as it was to the offense.

The Washington defense rose up to sack Wade Wilson eight times, set up a field goal with an interception and twice came up with fourth-quarter goal-line stands.

The second of the two halted the Vikings on the 6 with 52 seconds to play, averting a third straight overtime game between these two teams.

The first goal-line stand forced Minnesota to settle for Chuck Nelson's 18-yard field goal that tied the score 10-10 with 10:06 to play.

Williams was 5-for-20 for 20 yards since Washington's 98-yard touchdown drive on its first possession, which culminated in a 42-yard TD pass to Kelvin Bryant. But after the tying field goal, he came to life.

He led the Redskins on an eight-play, 70-yard TD drive, with 43 of the yards coming on a pass to Clark, whom he had earlier overthrown on what looked like a sure TD pass. Then he hit Clark over the middle in the end zone for the winning score.

Williams's problems were evident in his statistics — 9-of-36 for 119 yards.

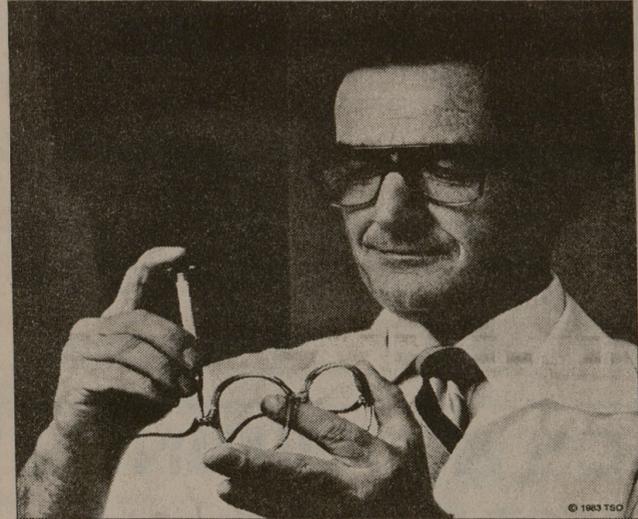

But while Wilson was 19-of-39 for 243 yards, he was under far more pressure from the Washington defense, whose eight sacks were one short of the NFL record for a playoff game.

That made it a far cry from the last two games between these two teams, won by Washington overtime 27-24 on Dec. 25 and 44-38 last year.

After the teams went off to halftime, Ali Haji-Sheikh, who had earlier missed two field goal attempts, put Washington up 7 with a 25-yarder with 4:04 left in the third period.

Typically, it was set up by a fense — a pass tipped by a defender and returned 10 yards by a defender to the Vikings' 17. The Redskins, who didn't get a touchdown in the second half and midway through the fourth period, stalled at the 11.
