Street

BADGER WILLIAMS PRESENTS

THE ENGLISH TRANSLATION OF STATEMENTS BY YOUR

by Jon Caldara Officers arrest highschoolers for drug sales

TEMPLE (AP) — Investigations by police officers posing as high school students in Temple and Waco have led to arrests for alleged drug

Four students and 10 Temple residents were arrested following a five-month investigation into drug sales at Temple High School. Eight students and 11 Waco-area residents were arrested as the result of similar operations at Waco High School and Waco Midway High School, authorities said Wednesday.

Authorities said a Waco police officer, in his early 20s, began attending classes at Temple High School in Temple Police Chief Thomas Vannoy said the officer purchased cocaine, LSD, marijuana and methamphetamine from 17 people during the investigation.

"Of the six students that he bought from, only two sold on campus, and that was like on the parking lot during the lunch break," Vannoy

The city spent $13,000 on the investigation, including the cost of buying drugs, he said.

Waco Police Capt. Dan Wetherington said Waco spent $23,000, including pay for a non-commissioned officer who went undercover at Midway High School. Temple police supplied a 21-year-old rookie to infiltrate Waco High School, he said. A similar operation at Waco and University high schools netted 79 people last March, including 35 stu-

"We are aware now of how great the problem is on campus," Vannoy said. "In the past it was all hearsay and rumor. But I can tell you right now that at least 50 percent of our students are using today or have

DEMON OF

SOULS

Naldo

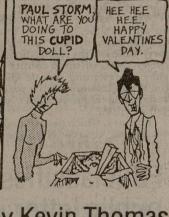

STOP DRINKING LIKE THAT!

ARE YOU?

by Scott McCullar

by Kevin Thomas

WHO THE OH !!

TEES program assists Texas cities in business, economic development

By John H. Neill

Reporter

program to aid Texas cities in r economic development has created by the Texas Engiring Experiment Station at

The Municipal Assistance Prowas designed to provide cities h technology such as community ntory and assistance in the fortion of new companies in the ras, Dr. Helen Dorsey, director of usiness development division of he first implementation of the gram began in Temple, where

TEES opened an urban outreach center at the City Hall.

ters for a variety of projects between Temple and the TEES office at A&M, Dorsay said. The extension service provides an analysis for each city that describes their needs and then structures a service package to meet those needs, Dorsey said.

TEES may assist selected communities in attracting and retaining in-dustries in those areas. Dorsey said this could include research and technical training programs.

The proof that the program is working is in Temple, she said.

"We do have an actual project," Dorsey said. "It's getting the people's The office will serve as headquar-Ray Abbott, director of the City of Temple Economic Development Department, said Temple is looking for closer ties with Texas A&M.

"We are looking for a broad-based, multi-subject relationship with Texas A&M," Abbott said.

He said a prospective business-man could call TEES or the outreach office in Temple and receive infor-mation about real estate, facilities or training programs available in the

A&M offers education, research and the knowledge of the extension service, Abbott said, so at the least one of those benefits is utilized with

The assistance program tries to fit a business with the needs of the Temple community, Abbott said.

"We take a business and commu-nity and fit them together to meet each other's needs," Abbott said.

He said the program also tries to match the goals of A&M with those of the Temple area.

The Temple community as well as political groups are excited about the program and the good it could do for the city, Abbott said.

Police blame unpaid taxes for suicides

HOUSTON (AP) — A couple ted with auctioning off their longings to pay back taxes aprently committed suicide after veral possible buyers left their ome, police said.

Wanda and Jack Biggars were and dead in their northwest uston home Wednesday afoon by their youngest son. oth had been shot to death.

The auction took place Wednesday, but police said the ids were too low.

Bungled abuse cases lead to probe

EL PASO (AP) — The state attorney general's office will investigate the local office of the Department of Human Services because of questions about its handling of five childabuse cases, the county attorney

County Attorney Joe Lucas said he asked the attorney general last month to investigate what he called bungling by child welfare workers.

In one case Lucas cited, two boys were released from DHS child protective services to stay with their fa-ther for the 1986 Christmas holidays. The man set fire to the house with the boys inside and both children died, he said.

In another case, DHS officials said they knew a boy was sleeping in ditches and abandoned cars to escape his father's beatings at home, eral David Hess said his office would but did nothing about it, Lucas alinvestigate the four cases, plus one

He also charged that DHS officials ignored a report that a 16-yearwith heroin by her mother

Lucas said he finally was said. prompted to request the attorney general's probe when he discovered the DHS investigated an abuse report before a 15-month-old boy's death in May, but that a supervisor closed the case because of staff

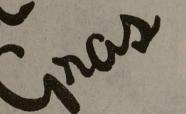

"If they have a staffing problem, they can do away with other services, but not protection of children," Lucas wrote to the attorney general. In a letter to Lucas received

Wednesday, Assistant Attorney Gen-

investigate the four cases, plus one in which a 13-year-old boy injured his 16-year-old sister when he shot her in the neck. The DHS had reold prostitute was being provided ceived reports that the children were often left unsupervised, officials

> In a phone interview from Reno, Nev., where he was attending a semi-nar, Lucas said: "What I hope to see is that we can find out what the problem is and then correct the situ-

Walter Deines, regional director for the DHS' child protective serv-ices department, pledged cooperation and said he expected a thor-

6PM MSC TO THE COMMONS

DANCE

AFTER THE PARADE

FEBRUARY 12, 1988

GRAHAM CENTRAL STATION

BENEFITTING THE BRAZOS ANIMAL SHELTER SPONSORED BY OFF CAMPUS AGGIES

Service Special

Road Test

Standards and Automatics Foreign and Domestic V Joints • Cutches • U-Joints

1507 Texas

Bryan

779-0555

THEATRE GUIDE

Throw Mama From The Train (PG-13)

Sat & Sun 2:10 4:10 7:10 9:10 Post Oak III

Moonstruck (PG) Sat & Sun 2:00 4:00 7:00 9:00

Cinema III

Broadcast News

Sat & Sun 2:00 4:30 7:00 9:30

Post Oak III

She's Having A Baby

Sat & Sun 2:20 4:20 7:20 9:20 Post Oak III

Action Jackson Sat & Sun 2:10 4:10 7:10 9:10 Cinema III

Serpent and The Rainbow

Sat & Sun 2:05 4:05 7:05 9:05 Cinema III

KETTLE

Restaurants

BREAKFAST SPECIAL

Our 2 Eggs Your Style, 3 Golden Brown Pancakes, 3 Crispy Strips of Bacon

(Regularly $2.99 NOW $1.99)

1403 Universtiy 2712 Texas Ave., Bryan 2502 Texas Ave., C.S.

expires Feb. 29, 1988

Round-Trip Air, 7 Nights Hotel, Jam Party, Discount Funbook, More! Downright affordable prices from:

CANCUN ACAPULCO IXTAPA Don't let the Party start without you! Call STUDENT TRAVEL CONNECTION Today!

(409) 696-9741 or (713) 447-6670

Marketing

Society

National Marketing Week February 15-19

Mon: Speaker Series 7:00 p.m.-8:30 p.m.

Refreshments following Tues: Faculty/Student Luncheon

noon-1:30 Blocker 307

Wed: Banquet 6:15 Cocktails 7:00 dinner

> Speaker: Steven Moore - Coca Cola U.S.A. Brand Manager

Thurs: New Orleans Trip Depart 10 a.m. Fish Lot