Hogan stresses future at Student Senate meeting

By Jeff Pollard
Staff Writer

While Wednesday was election day for the future members of student government, Wednesday night was the last meeting for members of the 1987-88 Student Senate. Mason Hogan, 87-88 student body president, used the meeting as a chance to build hopes for the future. "Things are just starting up for next year," Hogan said. "In the next few weeks the new president will be looking for vice presidents and chairmen to fill the shoes of those who are leaving. "Don't fade away, but look for ways to stay involved and look for things to get involved with."

Jay Hays, who presided for the last time as speaker of the senate, thanked those who helped him in the past year and reminded those who are returning next year that the positions of speaker, speaker pro-tempore and chairman of the rules and regulations committee will be filled by the new Senate at their second meeting to be held April 27.

As the Senate's final resolution, they unanimously approved the five student questions to appear on the course/instructor evaluation form. The questions are part of an attempt to standardize the format for evaluating professors and classes at Texas A&M.

The new format of the evaluation to be handed out at the end of the semester will consist of five questions written by students, five written by the faculty, four written by deans and department heads and three written by the administration. The student questions cover the topics of how well the class was taught, how reasonably the class was taught and whether a student would take another course offered by the same instructor.

In other business: • Hogan announced two upcoming events sponsored by the legislative branch of student government. Parent's weekend will be Friday, April 8 through Sunday, April 10 and Aggie Muster will be held April 21.

• Doug Baumann, chairman of the Finance Committee, reported that Dr. John Koldus, vice president for student services, was still looking over the Student Senate's budget recommendation. Baumann told Senators that Koldus said the recommended student service fee for next year will probably be $67.00.

• Melinda Moore, chairman of the Student Services Committee, said that two cellular telephones will be set up on campus. She said at least one of the phones will go in the fish lot and will be for emergency use only. If someone has a problem, they only have to pick up the receiver for a direct line to the police station, she said.

Two killed after robbery attempt foiled

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A convenience store manager trying to foil a robbery was gunned down Wednesday, but the suspected gunman fatally shot himself later while being chased by police, authorities said.

Gary Locha, 27, the manager of the Gulfstar Gas-and-Go convenience store, was shot twice in the chest and once in the right arm at 3:45 a.m. Wednesday, said homicide Sgt. Ernest Riojas.

Calvin Davis, 25, of Dallas, died several blocks from the shooting scene after shooting himself in the chest, Riojas said. "He either did it accidentally or intentionally. We don't know. He was running from police," Riojas said at a news conference.

Two others — a store clerk and a customer — were wounded in the shooting and were being treated at area hospitals for gunshot wounds to their shoulders, Riojas said.

The confrontation began when a man walked into the convenience store on the city's south-east side and asked the clerk for a pack of cigarettes, Riojas said.

As she put the cigarettes on the counter, he brandished a revolver and demanded money, but the clerk refused to give him any, Riojas said.

The gunman became upset and ordered the three to the back of the store.

'Project Gotcha' reclaims $300,000 of stolen goods

GEORGETOWN (AP) — Authorities say they hope Central Texas crime will be slowed following "Project Gotcha," a police sting that recovered more than $300,000 in goods, including cars, and resulted in charges against nearly 50 people.

"There may have been drug operations that have been bigger, but to my recollection this is the largest sting operation involving burglary that there's been in Central Texas," Williamson County District Attorney Ken Anderson said after arrests began Tuesday.

Also seized were trucks, motorcycles, boats and a travel trailer.

"We hope this sweep will slow theft and burglaries in the Central Texas area for a while," added Doyle Bailey, Travis County sheriff.

The six-month undercover investigation, which led to arrest warrants for 49 suspected burglars and auto thieves, saw officers pose as buyers of stolen merchandise.

The sting recovered property worth a total of $328,886, including 40 vehicles. The officers videotaped dozens of sales of stolen property.

The sting operated from a storefront in southwestern Williamson County, near the Travis County line.

One of the last "customers" charged insisted that undercover officers make a deal for a stolen pickup truck even after being told they were closing down the operation. He accepted $10 for the vehicle.

Williamson County Sheriff Jim Boutwell called most of the suspects career criminals.

Lt. Dick Jennings of the Austin Area Organized Crime Unit said the recovered property included 19 cars and pickup trucks, 13 motorcycles, five boats and trailers, a homemade trailer, a riding lawn mower and a travel trailer.

Most of the vehicles were pickups, "but the boats were all top dollar," he said. The boats had been reported stolen from driveways and homes near Lake Travis.

Officers recovered a large assortment of stolen stereo and electronic equipment, videocassette recorders, cameras, computers, office equipment, firearms, jewelry, hand tools, luggage, clothing, a dishwasher, trash compactor and other household items.

Jennings said officers also bought stolen credit cards, money orders and Social Security checks. "It includes everything you can imagine," he said.

Officers believe the items were stolen during burglaries and thefts in the two counties, and in San Marcos.
