

Less$ for more.

The best thing about Plantation Oaks isn't the absence of utility deposits. Or the fact that we pay the gas and water bills. Or the six floorplans and choice of efficiency, 1, 2 or 3 bedrooms. The best thing about Plantation Oaks is you get all this for as little as $170 a month this summer.

That's less for more.

PLANTATION OAKS

1501 Harvey Road 691-1110

Ladies & Lords at Texas 707

(across from A.R. Photography)

Where you can buy dresses and formals at surprisingly affordable prices!

All types of accessories, too!

Open from 10 a.m.-6 p.m., late Thurs. to 8 p.m.

B-CS temporary shelter offers aid to abused women, children

By Elissa Grossman
Reporter

Phoebe's Home is a temporary shelter where Brazos Valley women who have been abused by their husbands or boyfriends can turn for help. The home provides information and temporary care to the victims of family violence.

Liz Jackson, director of Phoebe's Home, said the home's overall purpose is to provide temporary shelter to women in physical danger or to those who have been emotionally abused. The location of Phoebe's Home is kept confidential to protect the women who stay there.

Phoebe's Home was established in 1979 as a project of Twin City Mission. The mission is a private organization that offers shelter for abandoned children, the homeless and battered women. Twin City Mission had received many phone calls from women requesting help and needing a place to stay. Joanne Sebesta, assistant director when the home began, drafted the proposal for the grant that established Phoebe's Home.

Phoebe's Home is a private, non-profit organization. The home is funded by the state of Texas, the cities of Bryan and College Station, the United Way and Twin City Mission. Service organizations from Texas A&M University help collect donations for Phoebe's Home. The home relies on donations of food, clothing, toys and toiletry items.

Women from Brazos, Burleson, Grimes, Leon, Madison, Robertson and Washington counties are eligible to go to Phoebe's Home. Women who wish to relocate into the Brazos Valley are accepted at the home if room is available.

Phoebe's Home has the capacity to house 17 women and children. In an emergency, the shelter can hold up to 21 people. The four bedroom, 15-bed home is a free service to those women who qualify.

When a woman calls the hotline number, she is screened by the staff to determine if Phoebe's Home is the right service for her. She must be either the victim of family violence — physical or emotional — or have been threatened by violence.

"A woman does not have to be physically beaten to come in," Jackson said.

Fear is a just cause for a woman to call the home for help, she said; if a woman is being mentally battered she can suffer just as much as a physically abused woman.

A brochure distributed by the home says that every 12 seconds a woman is abused, and between 4,000 and 5,000 women die annually from abuse.

Jackson said if a woman comes to Phoebe's Home it does not necessarily mean the termination of her relationship with her husband or boyfriend. Women are free to leave when they feel they are ready. The women are encouraged to get their own apartments and begin taking care of themselves. It is up to the woman whether she returns to her husband or goes out on her own. The women are permitted to stay at Phoebe's Home up to 30 days.

The staff that works with these women consists of only five members. However, graduate students and volunteers also help. Three staff members work alternate weekends. The weekend staff members work a 48-hour shift. There is always at least one member of the staff at the home. If an emergency occurs and no staff members are at the home, they can be contacted by beeper.

Group counseling is conducted once a week by two counselors for women staying at Phoebe's Home. Individual counseling is given by Jackson when needed.

Because many women take their children with them when they go to Phoebe's Home, the children also are counseled. The children's counseling is done by a graduate student from Texas A&M.

Although Phoebe's Home counsels only the victims of family violence, the men who have been abused also are encouraged to get help.

After a woman moves out of Phoebe's Home, non-resident counseling groups are available for those who wish to attend. It is encouraged, but not mandatory. Currently there is one non-resident group, but more groups can be added if needed.

Along with psychological counseling, Phoebe's Home also provides referral services for legal and vocational counseling. The staff helps the women live independently by assisting them in finding jobs and housing.

For battered women in the Brazos Valley, Phoebe's Home can be reached by calling the 24-hour hotline number: 775-5355.

Grand jury clears 3 men of tampering with case of actress's alleged attacker

EL PASO (AP) — An El Paso County grand jury cleared three men of wrongdoing in the setting of $100 bail for a man accused of trying to sexually assault actress Tracy Scoggins the weekend of the Miss USA pageant.

But the man who was arrested in connection with the attack, Pedro Concepcion Padilla, still faces the possibility of indictment for the alleged Feb. 25 attack in a hotel elevator.

The grand jury investigated Padilla, Municipal Judge Rodolfo Romero and former Assistant City Attorney Enrique Medrano on charges of tampering with government records, and looked into charges of official misconduct by Romero, Assistant District Attorney Gonzalo Garcia said.

"They considered all the evidence before issuing a no bill," he said.

Garcia refused to comment further about the April 7 grand jury action, citing state law compelling secrecy in grand jury proceedings.

Scoggins, who was in El Paso to co-host the Miss USA Pageant March 1, said Padilla got in a hotel elevator with her, ripped her dress and tried to push her to the elevator floor.

She said she fought the man off, and Padilla was detained by hotel guests and employees until police arrived.

Padilla at first gave an alibi and was released on $100 bail set by Romero and paid by Medrano.

Police began an investigation receiving reports that Padilla and Romero are longtime friends, meaning that Romero might be known Padilla had provided an alibi for himself.

CLASSIFIEDS

MINY ADS, BUT REAL HEAVYWEIGHTS WHEN RESULTS REALLY COUNT.

No matter what you've go to say or sell, our Classifieds can help you do the big job.

Battalion Classified

845-2611

On February 25, 1942 on the island of Malinta a few men with a piece of rock

It was only a "rock". An insignificant looking piece of real estate. But today it is hallowed ground. And to honor the spirit of Aggies who died so that liberty might live, the Muster Committee has created a rare and unique series of commemorative coins.

Each coin actually contains soil from the exact spot where 25 Aggies mustered at Malinta Tunnel on April 21, 1942.

TO PROVIDE CONTINUING SUPPORT FOR MUSTER TRADITION, WE STARTED FROM THE GROUND UP.

In the center of each coin is an inlaid dot containing hallowed soil from Corregidor. It is the most tangible symbol of Aggie Muster tradition available in the world today. And it can be shared by all Aggies. You can actually hold history in your hand while simultaneously supporting the Muster Committee with proceeds from the sale. These stunningly minted coins are available in nickel, bronze, .999 silver and 14K Gold.

THE MUSTER COIN: UNLIKE ANY EVER ISSUED.

Wrought from a variety of metals, one side of the coin masterfully portrays the 1946 Malinta Tunnel Muster. Meticulously engraved, it embodies a spirit of courage while memorializing Texas state heroes, students and former students.

That same side also bears an anonymous inscription:

"When I am finally alone in the shadow of my days, I'll hear a mustering of Aggies and the echo of my name."

Etched in the center are the names of the 25 Aggies who mustered in 1942 and 1942 separated by the "Big Star" and inlay of Corregidor. The reverse side displays an engraved map of Texas A&M University seal.

THE "EARTH-DOT" SEAL

More than ten years of research effort have preceded this patent-pending TRACE 2000 process that you will own one of the most unique coins ever minted. The authenticity of the elements sealed inside is verified by America's largest testing laboratory. It is over