Company shuts B Street office doors

ODESSA (AP) — Amoco Production Co. announced Monday it will shut the doors of its Odessa and Brownfield offices.

in two cities

The company plans to relocate about 200 employees in an effort to increase productivity and efficiency

The consolidation of several of the Amoco offices followed months of discussion about the possible closings, Amoco spokesman Greg Clock Warped

"Isthink everyone's sort of been waiting for the other shoe to drop," he said.

Some workers will be asked to relocate to Houston or Tulsa, Clock

Other company workers will be asked to go to operations centers in West Texas and eastern New Mexico, Clock said.

Amoco still will have 900 workers at field operation centers and gas processing plants in the Permian Ba-sin and eastern New Mexico, Clock

Employment counseling and severence pay will be given to those workers who choose not to move,

He also said the company would help those workers who are willing to make the move to another area the company serves.

This summer, Amoco also plans to consolidate Texas district offices in Tyler and Alvin into its Houston regional office, Clock said.

Amoco also will consolidate of-fices in Anchorage, Alaska; Mont-bello, Colo.; Liberal, Kan.; and Pow-ell and Riverton, Wyo., into its Denver region office. In mid-1989, Amoco plans to consolidate district offices in Farmington, N.M.; Oklahoma City; and Casper and Evanston, Wyo., into its

An entry from the previous month notes that CIA Latin American chief Duane Clarridge had called and indicated that "(name deleted) contact indicates that Gustavo is involved with drugs." It is unclear to whom "Gustavo" refers.

A July 24, 1984, entry states: "Clarridge: (paragraph deleted) — Arturo Cruz Jr. — Get Alfredo Cesar on drugs.

The passage's meaning is unclear. Cruz is the son of a former member of the directorate of the United Nicaraguan Opposition, at that time the Contra political umbrella. Renovate

"It was a real challenge, but we're about there now," Smith said.

Planning for the Duncan renovation began about 10 years ago and the actual renovation, which was expected to take only one year to complete, began in January 1986. Upon completion, the project will have taken approximately one and a half years to complete at a cost of about $5 million But Smith said it should be well worth the wait. "This is the first time some of these things, like the plate-ready system, have been done anywhere in the world," he said.

Smith said the new facility will be able to serve 2,200 people in about 12 minutes.

The Commons is scheduled to be renovated and expanded, in conjunction with several new residence halls planned for the area.

The Commons renovations are expected to increase food production and feeding capacity, with the addition of new equipment and the expansion of both sides of the dining facility. Seating will be increased by about 400, bringing the Commons' total seating capacity to about 1,400, Smith said. Sbisa Dining Hall seats about 1.600.

Design documents for the Com mons renovation are anticipated be completed by early August, time to take contract bids at the Ser tember Board of Regents' meeting Smith said. Total cost of the renor tion is expected to be $2.3 million "We're hoping for completion late November 1989," he said.
