Mattox threatens law firms that fail affirmative action test

AUSTIN (AP) — Attorney General Jim Mattox said Wednesday he wants private law firms doing business with state government to adopt plans for hiring more women, black and Hispanic lawyers.

Firms that don't will face losing their share of the state's multimillion-dollar legal corporations and business firms, he said.

"We want to see an affirmative action plan, an affirmative action policy and affirmative action progress," Mattox said. "We want to see the first steps being taken."

Although the attorney general is the state's lawyer, many government agencies hire outside help from private law firms to handle bond work, contracts and other legal affairs. The attorney general must approve those arrangements, Mattox said.

More than 40 private firms and lawyers did business with state government during the budget year that ended Wednesday.

Mattox said he expects quick action on improving the number of minorities working for firms that want such business in the future.

"We expect them to move soon," he said. "If they don't we expect to take that into consideration. We are throwing a pebble into an empty lake right now — and we want to see those ripples start."

Beginning Thursday, law firms contracting work for the state will be asked to report to the general the number of minority employees they have on the payroll.

Mattox asks that firms approved to work for agencies fill out and return employment questionnaires along with copies of their affirmative action plans within 30 days after receiving the OK to work for the government.

At the end of the next fiscal year, Aug. 31, 1989, firms will be asked for an update on recruiting efforts. If no progress has been made, the firms will be asked to do further legal work for the state, he said.

Mattox said he wouldn't establish any quotas but that he does expect firms to respond because of implications concerning what could happen if they don't.

"It's very clear that if we get the employment statistics now, and then we look at the statistics 11 months later, now and we do not see any progress or any other affirmative action-type activities taking place, then we believe we should follow the role of rejecting those (posed law firm) contracts," he said.

Rudolf Nureyev will dance just a few places in America this year.

Rudolf Nureyev is one of the greatest, and certainly most famous ballet dancers of all time. Since his world-rocking "leap to freedom" from the Soviet Union in 1961, he has electrified the world of dance. He has danced with all the world's great companies, including the Paris Opera Ballet, which he now directs.

MSC OPAS 16 will present Rudolf Nureyev and Friends, the Paris Opera Ballet, as just one of the seven great performances on this season's Music Series. In addition to his performance here, he will host an informal reception after the MSC OPAS performance.

Only OPAS 16 season ticket holders will be guaranteed tickets to this sure sell-out. Don't wait for single tickets and miss this rare opportunity. OPAS 16 season tickets are now on sale for the Music Series, and for the Theater Series, which will bring six hit Broadway performances including 'My One and Only' and 'A View From The Bridge'.
