Pancreatic cancer kills 51-year-old Billy Carter

the former "first brother" and beer-drinking good ol' boy whose candor and business ventures amused and sometimes embarrassed the Carter administration, died Sunday of can-

The brother of former President Jimmy Carter suffered for a year with pancreatic cancer — the disease that killed his father and a sister and lived longer than his doctors expected. He died three days after leaving the hospital for his home in this southwest Georgia hamlet.

Carter "died quietly and peacefully in his sleep ... with his family at his bedside," according to a statement issued by the Carter Presidential Center on behalf of the for-mer president and his family.

"He had struggled courageously with his illness, never losing his sense of humor and always more concerned about those who loved him than about himself," the family said.

Billy Carter, who once defined himself as a beer-drinking good ol' boy, was forced into the spotlight when his older brother rocketed from their tiny hometown into the White House.

He put his name on a brand of beer that flopped, got into hot water with remarks denounced as racist or anti-Semitic, accepted money from Libya and was forced to sell some properties to pay a debt to the Internal Revenue Service.

But underneath the mask of the court jester was a perceptive man, an avid reader, a fighter who refused to go down quietly under the pressures of alcoholism or cancer.

"I've been asked, a thousand times, I guess, what I would do if I had it to do over again," he added. "And I said, 'Probably the same thing,' because if I had to do it over again I'd probably screw up worse the second go-round." He was born William Alton Carter

III, the youngest of four children.

He was a child with a stutter who did badly in school while his siblings

Billy was 16 when his father died in 1953 and Jimmy, a Navy officer 13 years his senior, moved back home to Plains to take over the family's peanut business. Billy chafed under his brother's stewardship and soon married his high school sweetheart, Sybil, and joined the Marines.

He returned to Plains in 1964, where he gradually assumed control of the peanut business, which grew into a $5 million a year operation under his stewardship.

During his brother's presidency he made no effort to smooth out hi image. He cultivated a redneck personality and was known for a quick and often profane wit. He put his signature on the label of "Billy" beer, but later joked that one reason he gave up drinking was that the beer was so bad.

Doctor billings may be changed

BOSTON (AP) — A long-awaited study being released this week could dramatically change the way doctors are paid, sharply reducing fees for many kinds of operations while raising charges for office visits.

The study has been the object of intense speculation and apprehension in the medical world since it was undertaken 2½ years ago by economist William C. Hsiao of the Harvard University School of Public Health.

The massive project attempts to determine the amount of work involved in everything doctors do - from checkups and well-baby visits to brain surgery and coronary bypasses — so they can be paid what their services are

There is widespread agreement that the current payment system is unworkable. The fees are distorted and inequitable, Hsiao's plan, requested by Congress, will try to correct that. It would pay physicians more for the time they spend thinking about patients, examining them and talking to them and less for specific procedures.

In an interview, Hsiao said that if adopted by government health agencies and insurance compa-nies, his 2,000-page plan could have a profound effect on the nation's health care system. Among other things, it could:

-Improve care by encouraging doctors to spend more time with their patients.

—Lower medical costs by discouraging expensive tests, procedures and operations. A summary of the findings is scheduled to be published in the New England Journal of Medicine on Thursday, the same day the report is released by the federal Health Care Financing Administration.

Mexico commemorates executed Catholic priest

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexicans crowded into a special Mass on Sunday to celebrate the beatification of a popular Roman Catholic priest who was executed by firing squad 60 years ago on orders of the president. The Rev. Miguel Agustin Pro was made a "blessed" of the Roman Catholic Church on Sunday, a step toward sainthood. He was one of six people beatified by Pope John Paul II in an open-air Mass at St. Peter's

In the northwestern city of Chihuahua, Archbishop Alberto Almeida ordered church bells rung to 'join in the jubilation" and in Mexico City, Mass was said at the Basilica of Guadalupe, the country's most sacred shrine. Photographs of him were at the doorway Late Saturday, an estimated 3,000 Catholics held a two-hour meeting at the old National Lottery building on Reforma Boulevard, on the site where Pro was executed Nov. 23, 1927. The gathering blocked traffic for about 30 minutes.

Then, following a pickup truck carrying a life-size image of Pro and waving flags of Mexico and the yellow and white Vatican colors, they marched to the Holy Family Church where he is buried. Stopping in front of the Interior Department, shouting loudly, "Long Live Christ the King," "Long Live Catholic Mexico," "Long Live Mi-Catholic Mexico," guel Agustin Pro."

Pro, his brother Humberto and two friends, Juan Tirado and Luis Segura Vilchis, were arrested after an unsuccessful attempt to assassinate the military strongman, Gen. Alvaro Obregon, at the height of church-state conflict in Mexico. Segura Vilchis admitted plotting to kill the general by bombing his car, but the Pro brothers denied any participation. There was no trial and President Plutarco Elias Calles quickly ordered out than to attack Obregon and with three bombs they wanted to elimi nate him," newspapers quoted a speaker at the meeting as saying On Reforma they threw two, which destroyed his car, but they (author ties) stopped those who attacked him and the car they were using blonged to a brother of Father Pro."

The speaker said Obregon three-ened greater repression than Calles Obregon was killed July 1928 by 'Luis Segura found no other way Jose de Leon Toral.

Boxer apprehended for assault, possession

NEW YORK (AP) — Boxer Mitch Green, whose August street brawl with Mike Tyson left the heavy weight champ wearing a cast on his hand, was arrested for the second time in four days after he was charged with assaulting a woman. Green, 31, was charged with third-degree assault in the Saturday night incident, police spokesman Sgt. Maurice Howard said. The woman claimed Green struck her, causing pain to her chest and Green was taken to an unidentified hospital for psychiatric evaluation after he became violent at the police precinct.
