Sports

Aggie defense stifles Tech 50-15

By Jerry Bolz Sports Writer

The Wrecking Crew II paved the y for Texas A&M's offense to run victory over the Texas Tech Red aiders Saturday at Kyle Field.

The Aggie defense held Tech to 7 total yards in the Aggies 50-15
trashing of the now 1-3 Red Raid-

The chalkboard in the Aggie ker room read, "Defense: ckless. Pressure quarterback, runng backs, receivers The plan worked

A&M Defensive Coordinator R.C. cum, wearing a "Wrecking Crew hat, said his team went in to play ckless regardless of what hap-

"We said before the game that it stime to start wrecking something ain," he said.

On the other side of the line, &M's offensive front consistently we back the Tech defense.

Running back Darren Lewis made most of every gap and made a few of his own while gaining 177 yards to lead the Aggies, also 1-3.

The wishbone was a part of the Aggies offense this week for the first time since the late 1970s.

A&M Head Coach Jackie Sherrill compared quarterback Bucky Richardson to Oklahoma's wishbone quarterback Jamelle Holieway.

"We will run the wishbone because I think Bucky can run it and run it good," he said.

A&M's offense, who did everything but score last week against Oklahoma State, committed only one turnover Saturday. The offense gained a total of 476 yards, all but 56 on the ground. Richardson, who alternated with starter Chris Osgood, gained 66 yards on 6 carries with a long of 43.

Freshman fullback Robert Wilson, who started in front of the injured Matt Gurley and Randy Simmons, had 71 yards on 9 carries and two

The Aggies scored in every quar-

See Aggies, page 10

Photo by Mike C. Mulvey

Bucky Richardson scores on a "swinging gate" two-point conversion against Tech. He rushed for 66 yards and two touchdowns.

Take note SWC — the pulse still beats aturday's drubbing Texas Tech served to nd the rest of the thwest Conference st which team was the sensus pick to end the son on top. Recent eks have made it very y to forget that. Jackie Sherrill has second-guessed a about scheduling such Hal L. season docket. Even Hammons re the Aggies went Sports viewpoint for-September, it oked questionable. Afterwards, well, you could rdly help but wonder if sprinkling in a pansy two wouldn't have been a good idea.

Maybe the big guy knew what he was doing. One way or another, it seems the Aggies are more fit for that treacherous (chortle, chortle) SWC schedule after being drubbed by Top 20 opponents for five weeks than the rest of the conference after being drubbed by North Texas

But don't think the problems are over. Despite an incredibly easy win over the Raiders, who seemed like probable contenders for the title, Texas A&M has several big question marks.

The most obvious one is at quarterback. Sherrill seems quite satisfied with using Chris Osgood as the starter and bringing Bucky Richardson off the bench for situational

The problem is still with the passing game, though. Although Osgood has a good arm, he still went 4-for-13 against Tech. That's got to improve. The Aggies obviously needed an air attack

Saturday like the Broncos need a quarterback. Like Joe Biden needs a speech writer. Like Telly Savalas needs a haircut.But that doesn't mean they won't need one later.

They also need to prove Saturday's stifling of the Tech rushing attack was no fluke. It was the performance of the defensive line that keyed the game. Shutting down the rush gave the Aggies the second-and-long situations they have been needing all year. That allowed the Wrecking Crew to unload on Billy Joe Tolliver two downs per offensive set.

Turnovers continue to look troublesome. It was that old Kyle Field magic that kept all six Aggie fumbles in Aggie hands. A&M fans need only to think about last week to remember how devastating they can be. Osgood seems to be especially prone for some

See Recovery, page 12

Photo by Jay Janner

Darren Lewis does a flip for a fourth-quarter touchdown against Tech. Lewis rushed 27 times for 177 yards to lead all rushers.

COUPON

Fresh From Our Deli POTATO SALAD FOOD LESS

Fresh From Our Bakery ROLLS

FOOD LESS.

801 Villa Maria Manor East Mall

