

SCOTT&WHITE CLINIC, COLLEGE STATION

1600 University Drive East

Audiology Richard L. Riess, Ph.D.

Cardiology

Dr. J. James Rohack

Dermatology

Dr. David D. Barton

Family Medicine

Dr. Art Caylor

Dr. William R. Kiser

Dr. Walter J. Linder

Dr. Richard A. Smith

Dr. Kathy A. Stienstra

Dr. Robert Wiprud

General Surgery

Dr. Frank R. Arko

Dr. Dirk L. Boysen

Internal Medicine Dr. Valerie Chatham

Dr. Alton Graham

Dr. David Hackethorn

Dr. Michael R. Schlabach

Obstetrics/Gynecology

Dr. James R. Meyer

Dr. William L. Rayburn

Dr. Charles W. Sanders

Occupational Medicine

Dr. Walter J. Linder

Ophthalmology

Dr. Mark R. Coffman

Orthopedic Surgery

Dr. Robert F. Hines

Otolaryngology

Dr. Michael J. Miller

Pediatrics

Dr. Dayne M. Foster

Dr. Mark Sicilio

Plastic Surgery

Dr. William M. Cocke, Jr.

Psychiatry

Dr. Steven Kirk Strawn Psychology.

Dr. Jack L. Bodden

Radiology Dr. Luis Canales

Urology

Dr. Michael R. Hermans

Health Education

Sally Scaggs, RD

Call 268-3322 For Appointment

The Battalion

Wednesday, November 9, 1988

Foreign Aggies' intere Co in U.S. elections varies of

By Richard Tijerina

International students as a whole at A&M are interested but not overly concerned with either the American political process or the outcome of the presidential election, according to Gabriel Carranza, International Students Association president.

Carranza said international students he has talked to are not overly interested in the process because they are not U.S. citizens and cannot vote.

"We look at the whole process of campaigning, but of course we cannot vote so we look at it from a distance," Carranza said. "We are some kind of residents because we go to school in this country, so we do have some feelings about how it will turn out.

Carranza said the general impression he has gotten from other international students is that America's position in world affairs with other nations is in jeopardy, mostly because of failed policies of the Reagan administration. "The last eight years have been very harmful to the rest of the world," he said.

"International students are very unhappy with Reagan's policies. Many students from Latin-American countries are against Contra aid. Many of those countries are not happy with the U.S.' He said many Latin-American countries are unhappy with the United States because of unfavorable trade policies.

of these countries to import only half of what they imported eight years ago.

AUSTIN (AP) — Democrat Lloyd

Bentsen, whose name also appeared on the Texas ballot as his party's vice presidential candidate, won re-election to a fourth term in the U.S. Senate, beating Republican challenger Beau Boulter.

With 35 percent of the precincts reporting, Bentsen had 945,024 or 57 percent, to 708,195 or 43 percent for Boulter, a two-term congressman from and name recognition in his simultaneous campaign for the Senate and as Boulter, who was endorsed by George

Bush and had hoped for help from the Republican presidential candidate's coat-tails, harshly criticized Bentsen's dual

As he looked to returning to the Senate. Bentsen said it would be difficult to Michael Dukakis' running mate.

candidacy in the campaign.

Bentsen had the advantage of money

He said these policies have caused many organization, said he believed that most Central Americans are leaning towards a Republican victory because they are in favor of Reagan's policies in the region, particularly military aid.

"Most people in El Salvador and across Central America are backing Bush because of the way the Reagan administration is handling international affairs there, especially with military aid,"

Gutierrez said the political process in America is similar to the process in El Salvador, except that the United States is more organized and El Salvador determines its president by the popular vote, not the electoral college.

Soviets do not know much about the American political process, mainly because the government does not tell the Soviet public about it, according to Leon Galindo, a member of the Bolivian international students organization. He said that the American political process is very similar to that in his country, and he said he believes that the United States greatest problem is its low voter turnout.

"I think with today being what it is, Americans do not take part in the politi-cal process as much as they should," he said. "The U.S. has so much power in its hands and it has the power to control what is going on in the world."

Galindo said voter turnout is not a Hua said most internat problem in his Bolivia because the its from France are in the Unit citizens are more concerned with the status of the country.

"Generally, we living in the Third However, Jaime Gutierrez, a member World countries of the world are living of the El Salvador international students in a harsher reality," he said. "We see

'It's going to be a tough one," Bentsen said Tuesday night in an interview on CBS. "The choices will be very difficult, and we're facing this mountain of debt. They've almost tripled the national debt in the last eight years, and then all of this international debt. It's going to be

While Bentsen waited for returns in

'I have met so many friends all over this state, and there's no other way I could be anything but joyful over this entire campaign and this experience,' Boulter said.

sen hit with a barrage of publicity, some of it very, very negative. He tried to undermine me here at home and in my district, and I'm very grateful for the friends who have stayed with me in my home

ALL STUDENTS

(Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors, Seniors and Grads)

can get their pictures taken for the 1989 Aggieland until the end of the week.

Monday - Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

YBA Studio on Northgate above Campus Photo 846-8856

Boulter criticized Bentsen for accept-

"Even before I decided to run, Bent-to fourth term as U.S. senator extremely difficult to handle

Austin, Boulter was in Amarillo.

the poverty lying on the streets people that are suffering, so we do something about it. America as aware of these kinds of prob tional students are not overly in the outcome of the election, dents he has talked to would be Michael Dukakis win, based on Maquiladoras Mexico that offe for a change in this country. 'America's standing with the world right now is not said. "If things continue, going to keep going farther will lose more ground in the kin The U.S. needs to do some don't see George Bush as a solu ternational students seem to kis and the Democrats can do Pascal Hua, president of international students organ most people from his count derstand the American poli because it differs from the

"I don't think they (students ganization) understand it very said. "I've been in the U.S three years and I was one ones who understand it. In I have many more candidates more parties. Elections also la

Hua said most internation to receive an education. presidential election, he they don't see much differer the Republican and Democratic he following Bentsen beats Boulter, re-elected

By Ala

omic aspect program T at Texas A& opportunity co's low-pa nbled in th out of Mexic

llege of Businected to draw m is credited kers in Mex

g 750,000 jol

though crit ng jobs away

e jobs would way, he said.

54 unive

STRAIGHT presidential ticket. Such a dui Libertarian dacy is legal under a 1959 state la New Alliance ten to allow Lyndon Johnson to allow

Boulter called the move a TC I/Marrou (L) necessary to prevent him from his Senate seat. Democrats, unit law, could not have put a replace candidate on the ballot if he pulled UNITED ST au Boulter (R) yd Bentsen (D)

Daiell (L)

A three-term incumbent and same time for U.S. Senate and the

But Bentsen said the dual

Finance Committee chairman, had raised $8.2 million for his tion effort as of Oct. 19, acc campaign spokesman Jack DeVm | Boulter raised about $1.5 | the Senate race.

U.S. REPR Barton (R) campaign manager Greg Graves

AILROAD C n Nugent (D) chard Draheim nexpired term ent R. Hance (R lint Hackney (D SUPREN om Phillips (R) ed Robertson (D

SUPREME C ul Murphy (R) oyd Doggett (D than Hecht (R) Il Kilgarlin (D) arles Howell (l aul Gonzalez (Dalvin Scholz (L)

BE

Stud

Find o

INFO WED

STUDY AB

Batt