

Alabama to determine 2 bowl berths

Associated Press
Alabama might be watching the Jan. 2 bowl games on television, but at least the Crimson Tide will have determined the makeup of two of the final postseason contests.
On Friday, Alabama plays Auburn at Birmingham. If Alabama wins, Louisiana State will go to the Sugar Bowl on Jan. 2 to face Florida State, while Auburn will head to the Hall of Fame Bowl the same day to meet Syracuse.
If Auburn wins, the Tigers will represent the Southeastern Conference in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans and Louisiana State will play in the Hall of Fame at Tampa, Fla.
"I'm just thrilled to get to go to the Sugar Bowl," said Florida State

Coach Bobby Bowden. "Never having had the opportunity to play in it, it is going to be a great thrill for me."
All of the other bowl matchups were completed after Saturday's games, with top-ranked Notre Dame heading for a Jan. 2 Fiesta Bowl battle against No. 4 West Virginia.
"They seem to be a very good team, better than us right now," Notre Dame Coach Lou Holtz said of West Virginia.
Victories Saturday by Southern California and Nebraska settled four Jan. 2 matchups: the Orange, Rose, Cotton and Citrus Bowls.
Southern Cal, by defeating UCLA 31-22, clinched the Pacific-10 Conference title and a Rose Bowl berth against Michigan. UCLA goes to the Cotton Bowl to Arkansas.

"UCLA is an outstanding team, as good a team as there is in the nation," Arkansas Coach Ken Hatfield said.
Nebraska became the Big Eight champion by edging Oklahoma 7-3. With the victory, the Cornhuskers go to the Orange Bowl to play Miami, Fla., while Oklahoma will take on Clemson in the Citrus Bowl.
Other postseason contests and matchups are:
California Bowl, Dec. 10 at Fresno, Calif.: Western Michigan vs. Fresno St.
Independence Bowl, Dec. 23 at Shreveport, La.: Southern Mississippi vs. Texas-El Paso.

Sun Bowl, Dec. 24 at El Paso, Texas: Alabama vs. Army.
Aloha Bowl, Dec. 25 at Honolulu: Washington St. vs. Houston.
Liberty Bowl, Dec. 28 at Memphis, Tenn.: Indiana vs. South Carolina.
All America Bowl, Dec. 29 at Birmingham, Ala.: Florida vs. Illinois.
Freedom Bowl, Dec. 29 at Anaheim, Calif.: Brigham Young vs. Colorado.
Holiday Bowl, Dec. 30 at San Diego: Wyoming vs. Oklahoma State.
Peach Bowl, Dec. 31 at Atlanta: Iowa vs. North Carolina State.
Gator Bowl, Jan. 1 at Jacksonville, Fla.: Georgia vs. Michigan State.

Game

The yards put Lewis seventh on the all-time A&M yardage list and No. 1 in single-season rushing with 1,352 yards.
I don't understand the defense's performance in the first half, though. They start slow almost every game, but the problem is that they have come to accept the slow starts. Maybe the problem is that the Aggies have to get mad before they play to their potential.
I was impressed with Slocum's performance. In all of the mess that's going on, he seems to be a rock for the program. He's one of those "How-did-you-get-in-the-middle-of-a-mess-like-this?" guys.
At the postgame quiz session, where reporters try everything they can to get players and coaches something they don't want, Slocum handled the questions with a sincerely jovial attitude.

The players, being younger, more adamant about being challenged, tended to let the reporters get to them. I can't blame them though — they're as tired of being questioned as reporters are of asking them.
Just like I said — the game was boring. The Aggies have a number and didn't have any problem with the Frogs. Jim Wacker's team should have won the game except for the turnovers.
I'm sure the Aggies would otherwise. But that's football on a Saturday afternoon in November — when the weather was and the sideline administration tactics were worse — the game went
