Anderson, a 6-foot-6 junior, grabbed an offensive rebound and dropped in a shot, giving the Illini a 72-70 lead, and Gill nailed a pull-up jumper at the free throw line, making it 74-70 with 5:38 left.

After Coleman's layup brought Syracuse within two, Anderson sank a free throw, then scored on another offensive rebound for a 77-72 Illinois lead with 5:06 remaining.

Syracuse came within 79-78 on five straight points by Owens, the last a spinning bank shot with 3:09 remaining. But Kenny Battle scored on an alley oop pass from reserve Larry Smith and Gill came down the lane to dunk the ball after an offensive rebound, making it 83-78 with 2:30 to play and Illinois held on.

Illinois recovered from a 14-0 burst that gave Syracuse a 12-point first half lead to tie the score less than 41/2 minutes into the second

Duke 85, Georgetown 77 Christian Laettner won the battle of freshman centers, hitting nine of his first 10 shots on the way to scoring 24 points and leading Duke into its third NCAA Final Four in four years with an 85-77 victory over Georgetown in the East Regional final at East Rutherford, N.J., on Sun-

Georgetown's Alonzo Mourning, the 6-foot-10 freshman who almost made the U.S. Olympic team last summer, was limited to 11 points and spent the last five minutes of the game sitting on the bench.

The win by the Blue Devils, 28-7, prevented a Final Four made up of two teams each from the Big East and Big Ten conferences. Duke advances to Seattle for a national semifinal matchup against Seton Hall, which beat Nevada-Las Vegas 84-61

Georgetown, 29-5, failed in its attempt to get back to Seattle for a re-peat of its 1984 national championship there.

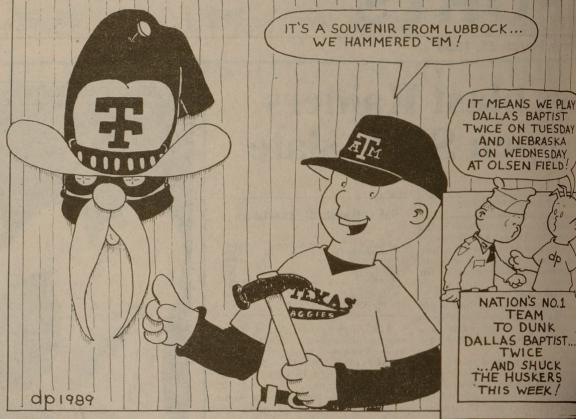

Duke, 6-0 in NCAA East Regional games played at the Meadowlands, used three 8-0 spurts in the first 13 minutes of the second half to take a 68-56 lead, and a three-point play by the 6-foot-10 Laettner expanded the margin to 75-61 with 5:41 remain-

The Hoyas refused to fold, however, scoring the next 12 points and grabbing three of their own missed free throws in the process.

Two free throws by Dwayne Bry-ant, his only points of the game after scoring 21 against North Carolina-State on Friday, completed the run that brought Georgetown within 75-73 with 3:32 left.

The Hoyas couldn't make it all the way back, however, as Duke hit 10 of 12 free throws down the stretch.

Phil Henderson scored a career high 23 points and Danny Ferry 21 for Duke. Charles Smith led Georgetown with 21 points, 16 in the second half. Mark Tillmon added 16 for Georgetown.

Ags top UALR, lose to Texas as freshmen provide victories

By Steven Merritt

ASSISTANT SPORTS EDITOR

After a 5-3 defeat of Arkansas-Little Rock at home on Friday, the Texas A&M men's tennis team hoped that the conference opener at home against Texas would be more of the same, but the 20th-ranked Longhorns used consistent play from their top three seeds to outdistance the Aggies 6-3.

Freshmen Doug Brown and Blake Barsalou were bright spots for the Aggies in the match, as they combined for both A&M singles victo-Unforced errors in the early games of his match plagued A&M top seed Shaun O'Donovan as he suffered a 6-3, 6-4 loss to UT's Steve Bryan. O'Donovan began to settle was never able to put a consistent effort together in his 6-2, 6-0 loss to UT's Patrick Flynn. A&M third seed Matt Zisette was defeated 6-2, 6-4 by UT's Mitch Michulka in a match that saw Zisette rally in the second set with strong backhand passing shots and more aggressive net play before Michulka pulled away.

After splitting the first two sets with UT's Aaron Gross, A&M fourth seed Doug Brown was too much for Gross to handle in the third set as he secured a 6-4, 6-7, 6-1 victory. Brown showed excellent range around the net as he seemed to wear down Gross in the late games.

Fifth seed Craig Whitteker suffered a 6-4, 6-4 defeat at the hands of UT's Mike Emmett while sixt seeded Blake Barsalou stumbled in the second set if his match with UT. Ronnie Eddins before pulling out 7-5, 3-6, 6-4 win.

In doubles action, the top-seed pairing of Zisette and O'Donova umped out to an early 3-0 first-se lead over UT's Flynn and Emmen before watching the lead slip awa en route to a 7-6, 6-4 defeat.

A&M's second-seeded team Whitteker and Espinosa fell to U Michulka and Hubert Karrasch 6-7 7-6 and 6-3.

The Aggies third-seeded pairing of Brown and Barsalou lost some crucial late points en route to a 74 7-6 loss to UT's Gross and Jen

"It was really a close match over all," said A&M Head Coach David Kent. "We've got to hand it to Texas they came in here and just outplayed
