

Class of '90

Katherine Smith
Political Science

Howdy, Class of '90. My name is Katherine Smith and I am running for re-election for Class of '90 president. During my term as junior class president, I accomplished several goals I had set forth. Among these were our writing of the class constitution, structuring council and planning and carrying out an awareness committee. This year the main challenges will be to uphold tradition while continuing to progress. The senior class will have to choose a class gift and organize senior weekend, which I pledge to uphold with honor and dignity. To progress, I will continue to strengthen and unify the class by creating visibility and communication programs.

My qualifications include fish camp counselor, sorority, Class Council 87-88 Class Ball Chairman and serving as your junior class president. Dedication, commitment and experience working with and for our class forms the foundation for my goals and candidacy. I hope to earn your vote. " '90 — continued commitment to be the best."

Howdy Ags! My name is Jay Jensen and I'm running for Class of '90 president. Since coming to Texas A&M, I have noticed that class presidents have lingered unseen and unheard among the majority of their constituency. If elected, I intend to end the "myth" of class president and bring to the title a feeling of familiarity by living on campus and instituting a successful open-door policy for all who may have concerns or ideas about the Class of '90. So join the Far Side and vote Jay Jensen for Class of '90 president.

Student Body President

Michael Kelley
Political Science

Howdy Ags! My name is Michael Kelley. As student body president I will work to increase safety on campus, to improve the quality of teaching and to alleviate transportation and parking problems here at Texas A&M.

As a student lobbyist to the Texas Legislature, I am presently working to increase funding of the University Police security patrols and to provide for more TEACHING professors on our campus. As a member of the Chancellor's Student Advisory Board I have worked with the Board of Regents to provide more lighting and emergency telephones and to increase the number of parking spaces for students before older lots are closed off to construction.

As president I will continually meet with student leaders from around the University so we can discuss the issues that are important to ALL students. This would allow for the presentation of a unified student voice to Dr. Mobley and his administration.

I look forward to the opportunity of being able to serve as your president. I would appreciate your support. Gig 'em!

Class of '91

Billy Flanagan
Political Science

Howdy Ags! My name is Billy Flanagan and I'm running for Class of '91 president. . . Whoop! Unlike an unexperienced candidate who makes promises prone to be broken, I will use my experience and knowledge gained as Class of '91 treasurer for the benefit of class council. Furthermore, I will dedicate myself completely and faithfully to the success of all council goals and activities. In addition, I will strive to make all functions such as class ball, fundraisers and charitable events more visible. With your help, I will make the fighting Texas Class of '91 Council successful in every endeavor.

Because it takes your involvement in voting to ensure the election of qualified candidates, please take the time to vote. Also, if you have any questions, please call me. I'll be glad to hear from you. Gig 'em.

Phillip Robertson

Our freshman and sophomore years are years when we learn about traditions and follow them. Our junior and senior years are meant to exemplify these traditions, as well as hopefully create new ones. When the Class of '90 soon wanders aimlessly to its grave, I'll be right there to stomp on it, and show the school which class is the most dedicated to improving Texas A&M. Besides, it will make my momma proud.

Class of '92

Heather West
Business

Howdy! I'm Heather West and I am very excited about the prospect of serving the Class of '92 as council president. As your class historian this year, I have enjoyed working to get the council started, and I want to keep it up! My main goal is to promote class unity through awareness and involvement. More special events, both social and service, will have several functions: to bring people together, to provide opportunities for leadership growth and to serve A&M and the community. Let's work together to keep the spirit of Aggieland!

Madelyn Petty
Pre-med

If elected, I will devote my energy to promoting class unity. This means making myself easily accessible to you, taking, weighing and acting upon (if possible) any of your suggestions, and publicly recognizing your achievements. I believe a problem or issue that is important enough to concern you is important enough to necessitate the attention of your class officers. I am Madelyn Petty — the person for the people. I love the Class of '92.

Howdy Aggies. I realize that a lot of times we portray the administrators of Texas A&M as competing instead of cooperating with us, the students. As speaker of the Student Senate, however, I have worked extensively with University officials and have found them to share many common interests with us. The problem is that too often our concerns are not adequately represented. As your student body president, I will work diligently with students, faculty members, administrators, and local, state and national officials to fully represent and support our concern on such issues as campus safety, creating a truly dead "dead week," protection of our inner campus green space, improving the quality of our library, and resolving the bonfire controversy. As I have stated from the beginning of this campaign, I am here to do something, not for something to do. I assure you our involvement will not end with your vote.
