Syrian, Druse artillery bombard Beirut airport, ambassador's home

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Shell-fire hit Beirut's airport Sunday, and radio reports said the home of the U.S. ambassador was struck during fierce duels between Syrian gunners and Christian army units. Police reported 13 people were killed.

Thunderous explosions rocked Beirut in what authorities called the heaviest artillery duel since renewed fighting erupted March 8.

Syrian and allied Druse gunners poured more than 8,000 rounds, at a rate of up to 100 per minute, on east Beirut and the Christian suburbs northeast of the city in 24 hours, a police spokesman said.

Christian soldiers of army commander Gen. Michel Aoun struck back with 155mm howitzers, firing at least 3,000 rounds on Syrian positions in Moslem west Beirut, the central mountains and east Lebanon's Bekaa valley, the spokesman said.

He said Christian gunners also blasted the Beirut-Damascus highway in the mountainous Dahr al-Baidar region in an apparent bid to block the way of Syrian tanks poised to roll into Beirut.

The spokesman, who cannot be named under standing rules, said eight people were killed and 20 wounded on the Christian side and five killed and seven wounded in Moslem west Beirut.

The confrontation has exacerbated a political crisis that created competing Christian and Moslem governments and split the army on sectarian lines.

"Have mercy on the helpless people," pleaded Acting Prime Minister Salim Hoss, who heads a month-old Moslem Cabinet vying for legitimacy with Aoun's Christian Cabinet.

"I appeal to all those pulling gun triggers to stop shooting at once, stop this bloodbath, stop this massacre," he said in an appeal broadcast by Moslem radio stations.

Man convicted of attacking three cabbies

KILLEEN (AP) — Convicted murderer Pvt. Dwight J. Loving said he shot the first of three cab drivers to see if he could get away with it but shot the second for fun, a fellow prisoner told a court-martial panel.

Pvt. Forrest Brown, who had been a prisoner at Fort Hood Installation Detention Facility where Loving has been incarcerated since his December arrest, said Loving confessed in January to killing two Killeen cab drivers and shooting a third.

Loving said he "did it the first time to see if he could get away with it and did it the second time because it was fun," Brown told a court-martial panel at Fort Hood Saturday.

The panel was to continue hearing presentencing testimony Monday against Loving, convicted of robbing and murdering two Killeen cab drivers on the night of Dec. 12 and morning of Dec. 13. Loving is accused of robbing and attacking a third cab driver and robbing two convenience stores the same night.

Loving was convicted Friday of robbing and shooting to death Fort Hood Pvt. Christopher Fay, 20, a part-time cab driver, and Bobby Sharbino, 44, a retired Fort Hood soldier, in the taxicabs they were driving, the Killeen Daily Herald reported.

Loving also was convicted of the robbery and attempted murder of a third cab driver, Howard Harrison, 28. Although he was bitten on the head, hand and back while fighting with Loving in the cab, Harrison managed to escape from the vehicle and run to safety, officials said.

Loving also was convicted of robbing two 7-Eleven convenience stores in Killeen that night.

Brown said Loving later told him "if he had to do it over, the only difference would be that he would not get caught."

Brown, who since has been transferred to a Fort Riley, Kan., prison, initially told authorities about conversations with Loving when he asked not to be left alone with him.
