Vincent could be next commissioner

NEW YORK (AP) — Fay Vincent is the leading candidate to replace A. Bartlett Giamatti as baseball's next commissioner.

"Fay Vincent is a wonderful man," New York Yankees owner George Steinbrenner said. "We've all got to get behind him."

Giamatti died Friday after suffering a heart attack at his Martha's Vineyard summer home, leaving baseball in a state of shock.

Until a new commissioner is named, all the powers and duties of the office are assumed by an executive council.

According to baseball rules, in the event of a vacancy a commissioner pro-tempore may be elected to serve for any period less than three years.

Vincent, a former CEO of Columbia Pictures, was deputy commissioner under Giamatti and a close friend.

"The deputy commissioner does not automatically take over. That title was not provided in the Major League agreement," said Jerry Reinsdorf, owner of the Chicago White Sox. "It was a title that Bart bestowed upon Fay."

Homestead Savings Extends Drive Thru Banking Hours

Homestead Savings Association has extended its drive thru banking hours for the College Station office, President William F. Phillips Jr. announced recently.

"We added four hours a day to the drive in schedule to accommodate the busy schedules of our regular customers," Phillips said. "Continued growth of the home office traffic also played a part in the decision," he added.

The College Station banker noted that Homestead was growing at a time when many financial institutions were having problems.

"Homestead Savings continues to grow and continues to show profits for its shareholders," he pointed out. "At a time when some financial institutions are offering less service, we are able to offer more."

Phillips attributed Homestead's steady growth to a conscious management decision to pick solid loan customers and offer competitive services to banking customers.

"Homestead is in the enviable position of having a solid capital base, a portfolio of current loans and an increasing number of banking customers. When Homestead was opened, we sought a particular customer who paid loans on time and wanted checking and savings services without frills. Those customers have stayed with us through the hard times. They have built this institution into a highly visible part of this community. The success of Homestead is theirs — but you can be sure that management is very proud of their accomplishments."

The new drive thru banking hours will be 8 - 6, Monday thru Friday, Phillips said. Hours for the Bryan office will not be changed, he reported.
