Christian artist Camp performs tonight

By Todd Stone
Of The Battalion Staff

Contemporary Christian performer Steve Camp is bringing "justice" to Texas A&M tonight at Rudder Auditorium.

Justice is the title of Camp's 10th album and the theme of his current tour.

"Justice is the holiness and mercy of God into action," Camp said in a telephone interview from Nashville. "We feel it's time for the church to stand for justice."

Camp performs 100 to 120 concerts a year, communicating his message of "justice" along the way.

"I'm very happy the Lord has seen fit to keep us on the road, especially when we are seeing results," Camp said.

Camp performed in College Station a year ago for about 1,000 people. According to Camp, crowd size is not important to the level of his performance.

"Even if there are only two people, never forget that all of heaven is watching," Camp said. "No matter what, you have to go out there and go right through the roof."

Camp won a Grammy Award for the song "Martin," which he recorded in 1986. He also received another Grammy nomination for the song "Love's Not A Feeling."

Within the past year, Camp and sociologist Tony Campolo have created the organization, AIDS: Crisis and Christians Today (ACCT).

"Our goal is to educate, equip and engage at a local level to help people with this disease," Camp said.

The plight of AIDS victims inspired Camp to write the song "Do You Feel Their Pain," which is the first single from the Justice LP.

People can help AIDS victims by bringing groceries to their homes or trying to understand what the disease is about, Camp said.

"We need to love the sinner and hate the sin," Camp said. "We can save people from spiritual AIDS, which is sin. We don't need more manuals and training sessions."

Camp said Christians have two weapons to deal with sin and the problems of society: prayer and spreading the word of God.

"You need faithful people," Camp said. "I saw the Aggie game last week. There was really just one person there: the Twelfth Man. We need that kind of identification with Jesus Christ."

"We need to ask our Lord for guidance for our government, our own problems within church," Camp said.

The concert starts at 7:30 p.m. and tickets are available at the MSC Box Office for $5 or at the doors for $6.

Aggie Flashback

The following information was gathered from past issues of The Battalion and reflects activities that occurred during this week in A&M's history.

10 years ago — An article in The Battalion warned Aggies of the financial dangers of mooning. A Bryan ordinance concerning misdemeanors listed a possible fine of up to $200 for being caught with your pants down. The news really bummed out Aggies.

25 years ago — A&M's reputation as a "cow school" was diminishing, as student enrollment in the fields of agriculture and engineering showed a drop from 1944. During the 1940s, seven of eight Ags were majoring in one of these two academic areas. Only three of every five Aggies were enrolled in agriculture or engineering by the mid-1960s.

50 years ago — Compared with A&M's estimated 1989 enrollment totals of more than 40,000, administrators in 1939 expected only 6,000 cadets, a figure they described as a peak enrollment.
