Tennis team hosts 4-Way

FROM STAFF & WIRE REPORTS

The Texas A&M men's tennis team has its first home action of the fall season this weekend, as it plays host to three other teams in the A&M 4-Way Tournament this weekend.

The tournament lasts from Friday through Sunday at the Omar Smith Tennis Center in College Station. Other schools participating in the 4-Way are Texas Christian, Rice and Southwest Texas State.

TCU is the defending SWC men's champion.

A&M Coach David Kent said the high quality of competition the Aggies will face this weekend will fine tune the team for SWC action.

"TCU is always one of the top teams in the nation and Rice is right up there with them in our conference," Kent said. "It should give us a good bearing on where we stand."

Last week at the Naval Academy All-Conference Tournament at Annapolis, Md., the Aggies turned in a good performance, with sophomore Doug Brown leading the way. Brown won the No. 4 flight singles title and teamed with senior Shaun O'Donovan to take second in No. 2 flight doubles.

Singles play begins at 8:30 each morning of the tournament and runs throughout the day. Doubles play starts at 1 p.m. on Friday with the second round beginning at 11 a.m. on Saturday.

The tournament seedings are:

- Singles
1. Larry Pearl, Rice
 2. Matt Zisette, A&M
 3. Tony Bujan, TCU
 4. Alan Camaraine, SWT
 5. Jesco Jon Heinze, Rice
 6. Kenny Thome, Rice
 7. Doug Brown, A&M
 8. Gerald Ronan, TCU
- Doubles
1. Pearl/Thome, Rice
 2. Bujan/Ronan, TCU
 3. Shaun O'Donovan/Brown, A&M
 4. Gauthier/Camaraine, SWT

Lady Aggies ready for weekend action

By Alan Lehmann
Of The Battalion Staff

The Texas A&M Lady Aggie volleyball team will have a busy weekend. They return to G. Rollie White to play Eastern Kentucky tonight at 7:30, and South Florida tomorrow afternoon at 3:00.

The Lady Aggies bring a three-game winning streak with them, and have swept their last two opponents. They are now 5-4, only two wins shy of the goal that coach Al Givens set a week ago.

A&M beat Southwest Texas State 15-6, 15-4, 15-8 Tuesday night in San Marcos. Although Givens said the Lady Aggies looked flat, they played well in spots.

"We served well early," he said, "but didn't pass well in the final game. Of course, we'll take it as a win."

Eastern Kentucky, which comes into the match with a 3-6 record, is led by junior outside attacker Sue Antkowiak. The Colonels are coming off of a 16-19 season.

"Eastern Kentucky has played some good matches this season," Givens said. "We expect a tough match from them."

Saturday will mark the first meeting between A&M and South Florida. The Bulls are 7-6, and will be led by senior Belinda Spivey and sophomore Crystal Maracale.

Givens said that a strong performance this weekend would give A&M momentum going into conference play, which will begin Wednesday for Lady Aggies.

Since the football game starts at 6 p.m., Givens hopes that some of the football fans will come to the Coliseum for to see the Lady Aggies first.

"A good crowd at G. Rollie White is worth several points per game to us," he said.

Awesome A's cruise to finish Oakland gets ready for playoffs after another title

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — The once-feeble American League West likely will boast three teams with 90 wins by week's end. But it still takes about 100 to contend with the repeat champion Athletics.

Just like last year, Oakland gets to spend the final weekend padding its stats and mapping out its approach to the playoffs while the AL East leaders exhaust all resources just to survive.

"The loss we had in LA (in the 1988 World Series), we don't forget," relief ace Dennis Eckersley said as the A's savored their second straight divisional crown, clinched Wednesday night. "But we can enjoy this one for about four or five days."

Going the rest of the way without a defeat would produce a second consecutive 100-win season, last achieved by the Baltimore Orioles a decade ago. Dave Parker, who homered Thursday, needs just four runs batted in for his first 100-RBI in the American League and fifth overall.

Mike Moore, 19-11 after pitching a one-hitter for seven innings in the 5-0 clincher over Texas, goes for the 20-victory plateau Sunday against Kansas City. And Carney Lansford, whose .336 batting average trails Minnesota's Kirby Puckett by four percentage points, seeks his second AL batting crown.

"That hasn't been on my mind at all," Lansford said, ending a month-long silence with the Bay area media. "I wouldn't trade this (title) for that. I wouldn't mind seeing Kirby Puckett do it so a right-handed hitter finally wins it again."

Lansford, who also has quietly stolen 37 bases, proudest of the way he and his teammates held on through their ailments this year — and not just the well-publicized injuries that sidelined Jose Canseco, Mark McGwire, Walt Weiss and Eckersley.

"This is more gratifying than last year," he said. "There have been a lot of days when guys like Dave Henderson, Dave Parker and myself went out there and played even though we were dog-tired and banged up, because we had to play ... I think everybody realizes what we had to go through this year."

Mark McGwire, disabled early in the year by a hand injury, heard rumblings all season long about his low batting average, now .226. But he still managed to lead the club with 31 homers to become the second player in history to hit 30 in each of his first three full seasons. Canseco was the first.

"This year's a lot more meaningful," McGwire said. "I can't remember but a handful of blowout games last year. Last year, it seemed like we had a lot more."

Canseco isn't leading any category this year following his MVP season. But he has hit 17 homers in less than half a season, and considers it an impressive achievement in light of his wrist injury and bad publicity that has dogged him since last winter. In the clincher, he gave the A's the lead for good with a homer that he scribbled on his 900 number as going "a mile high and a mile far" — actually an estimated 456 feet.
