Aggie Flashback

The following information was gathered from past issues of The Battalion and reflects activities that occurred during this week in A&M's history.

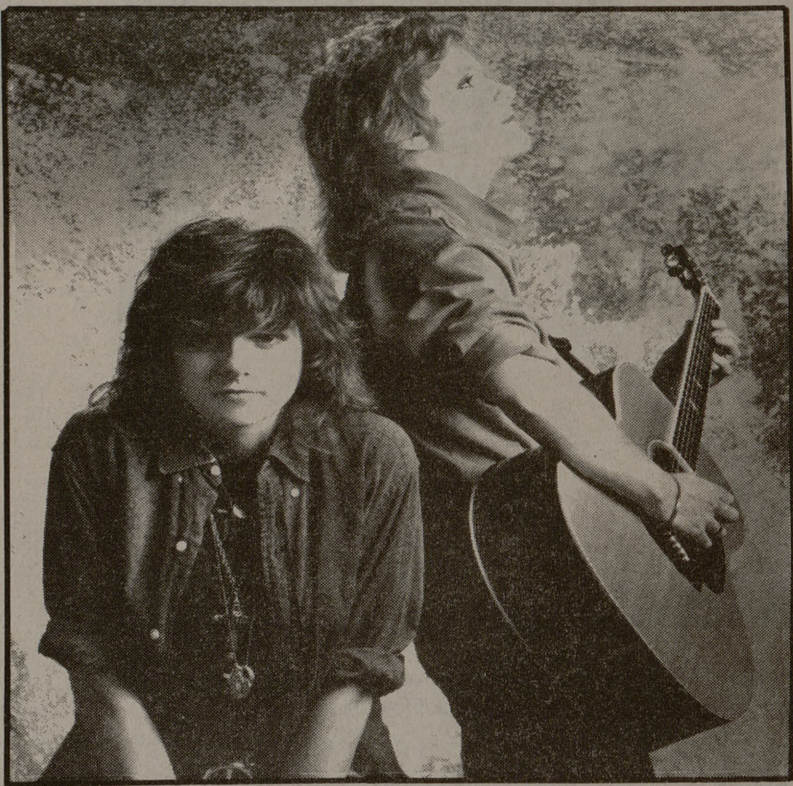

10 years ago — Two Ford Pintos were added to the University Police Department. The Pintos were leased to replace the two scooters that UPD officers had used in the past. The economy cars were added because of their better maneuverability and their ability to get better gas mileage than the other three UPD cars, a Chevrolet Impala and two Ford LTDs.

25 years ago — Twenty-seven young women from Texas Women's College were selected to compete as semi-finalists in the 1964-1965 Aggie Sweetheart competition.

50 years ago — About 6,000 screaming cadets rallied around the A&M football team as the players boarded a train to the West Coast to meet the Santa Clara Broncos.

75 years ago An article in The Battalion stated that the days of hazing in the Corps of Cadets were believed to be coming to an end. Some upper-classmen held the opinion that freshmen were rarely hazed. But the article also stated that A&M was still laboring under the weight of a reputation for "rowdiness" among the cadets.

Indigo Girls at A&M Saturday

Indigo Girls: Amy Ray and Emily Saliers

Bohemians unite — grab your beads and let down your hair for Saturday night's appearance by Indigo Girls.

The Atlanta-based duo of Amy Ray and Emily Saliers will be performing in Deware Fieldhouse at 8 p.m. as a presentation of MSC Town Hall. The opening act has not been announced.

General admission tickets are $5 at the MSC Box Office and Dillard's. They will also be sold at the door.

After an EP and an LP on their own Indigo label, Ray and Saliers signed with Epic Records this year and released their self-titled album.

Enlisting the aid of members from REM and Hothouse Flowers, Indigo Girls successfully manipulated their diverse visions and influences into a compelling mix of intimacy, spirituality and classic folk. The result has been a hot album, the hit single "Closer To Fine" and a warmly received tour that has somehow found its way to College Station.

Saturday's show should be a genuine highlight in an otherwise slow semester of live music.

Dylan

Say you want it for free! What was it you wanted? Are you talking to me? The real pleasure of both "Most of the Time" and "What Was It You Wanted" is that Dylan's voice finally matches the conviction of his lyrics, a quality absent in his more recent work.

But, overall, Dylan doesn't live up to the quality of Lanois' production. His voice is shot from years of excessiveness, and his lyrics have been reduced to weak regurgitations of religious allegory, political ambiguity, and personal vendetta.

Lanois does his best to resurrect Dylan's conviction, and he succeeds in strengthening his voice and surrounding him with some first-class session men. But even so, Oh Mercy fails where it should have succeeded the most, and that's bad news for Mr. Zimmerman.
