Mitchell named NL MVP

NEW YORK (AP)— Kevin Mitchell was named Most Valuable Player of the National League on Tuesday after a season that conjured visions of Willie Mays and erased memories of two teams that didn't want him.

Mitchell, 27, who led the majors with 47 homers and 125 RBIs, received 20 of 24 first-place votes cast by two members of the Baseball Writers' Association of America from each NL city.

He had 314 points to 225 for runner-up Will Clark of the Giants, who had three first-place votes. The other first-place vote went to Pedro Guerrero of the St. Louis Cardinals, who was third with 190 points. Rounding out the top five were Ryne Sandberg of Chicago with 157 points and Howard Johnson of New York with 153.

Mitchell batted .291 while scoring 100 runs last season. He hit homers in the Giants' first two games of the season and did not stop, rapidly becoming the most feared hitter in baseball.

His homers were the most by a Giant since Mays hit 52 in 1965.

Unlike Mays, however, Mitchell has been a sometimes unhappy journeyman in the major leagues, until now.

Ag basketball player punished

Senior guard David Williams was suspended indefinitely Tuesday by Coach Shelby Metcalf for violating departmental and team rules.

Williams did not travel with the team Tuesday to Anchorage, Alaska for the Great Alaska Shootout this weekend.

Williams started 28 games last year for the Aggies, averaging 8.6 points and 4.5 rebounds per game.

cranberry sauce and relax through the game," he joked.

"That's not likely. A&M hasn't had a SWC game at home since 1988 and even though A&M Coach R. Slocum said he and his team are overly concerned with the Aggie 19-game home conference game winning streak, A&M players know the advantage they have from playing at Kyle Field.

"The crowd will be a factor," A&M linebacker Aaron Waller said.

"The guys seem to play a little better when the crowd's on our side. I know they're going to be out there supporting us, and I just hope we don't disappoint them."

Aggie quarterback Lance Pavik said the biggest advantage the Aggies may have this Friday is the 12th Man.

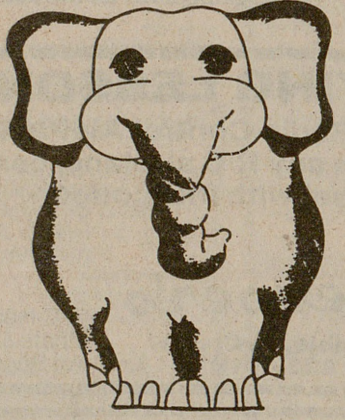

"It's a great benefit to us to have such great support and to have a student body and fans that believe in you and want you to do well," Pavik said.

"It's a great advantage to us because we can go out there, be relaxed and play hard."

A&M players and coaches on Monday seemed confident and relaxed for Friday's game.

That's important.

The Aggies will be heard on the field. And the close to 66,000 rabid fans at Kyle Field will be more than willing to make some noise in the stands.
