Lady Aggies annihilate Prarie View

FROM STAFF & WIRE REPORTS

The Texas A&M Lady Aggies used a balanced attack to roll past the Prarie View A&M Panthers, 89-49, Tuesday night in non-conference women's basketball action at G. Rollie White Coliseum.

All 15 of Coach Lynn Hickey's Lady Aggies earned playing time with all but one of them figuring into the final scoring tally. Sophomore forward Dena Russo and junior pivot Louise Madison were the only Lady Aggies to reach double figures, scoring ten points apiece to pace the A&M offense. Sophomore guard LaTanya Turner was A&M's leader on the boards with six rebounds.

Frederice Burnice led Prarie View in both scoring and rebounding with 12 points and nine rebounds. Sharese Bell chipped in 11 points for the Panthers.

Prarie View jumped out to a 10-6 advantage early in the game as Bell gunned a couple of three-pointers from 20-feet out. Texas A&M came right back, though, going up 14-10 on baskets by Irving, Russo, Diane DeCree and Sheri Dillard, and the Lady Aggies never looked back as they built a 42-38 halftime lead and cruised on to their final 40-point margin.

With the win the Lady Aggies boosted their record to 3-0.

Mays, UT stomp UTA by 40

AUSTIN (AP) — Travis Mays scored 25 points as Texas routed Texas-Arlington 116-66 Tuesday night in the Longhorns' season opener.

Mays, a senior guard who was named the Southwest Conference's most valuable player last season when he led the league's scorers with 21 points a game, had 18 points in the first half.

The Longhorns bombarded the Mavericks with four straight 3-pointers at the close of the first half, opening up a 58-27 lead. Mays made three of the premium shots and Lance Blanks the other.

The victory was the third-biggest in school history, to the Longhorns 148-71 win over Northern Montana in 1978.

Texas, which set several records in the SWC for three-point shooting last season, was 10-of-28 from the arc on the night in front of 8,344 fans.

Blanks, a senior forward who was second to Mays in conference scoring last season, followed him again Tuesday night with 24.

Joey Wright and Winn Sheppard chipped in 12 points apiece and Locksley Collie added 11.

Bill Nygard had 15 for the Mavericks, who drop to 1-2 and have not had a winning season in eight years.

The Mavericks led briefly in the early moments of the game before the Longhorns grabbed the lead for the night on a Mays three-pointer to make it 12-9 with 15 minutes left in the first half.

UTA went almost five minutes without scoring during one span in the first half. The Longhorns expanded on their 31-point halftime lead, going out front by as much as 52 points.

Baylor bombs Bobcats 112-81

WACO (AP) — Julius Denton scored 21 points as the Baylor Bears jumped off to a 11-0 lead and coasted to a 112-81 win Tuesday over Southwest Texas State University.

The Bears never trailed against the Bobcats, who played their first game of the season. Baylor improved to 2-1.

It's the most points scored by a Baylor team since a 112-67 decision over John Brown in the half. But Southwest Texas State hit three 3-pointers during an 11-2 stretch at the start of the second half to close to within 60-1984-85 basketball season.

The Bobcats trailed 58-40 at 51. But Baylor scored 21 of the game's next 24 points to put the contest out of reach.

Denton, a senior forward, led a parade of six Bears in double figures. Joining him were guard David Wesley with 20 points, forward Ivan Jones with 16, guard Kelvin Chalmers with 11, guard Tim Schumacher with 10, forward Alex Holcombe with 10. Jones also had 11 rebounds.

Sophomore center Mats Ostberg led Southwest Texas State with 13 points and junior guard Maxwell Curry added 10 points.

No more Pan Ams? Cuba's financial problems could doom games

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Havana is preparing for the 1991 Pan American Games under a heavy burden: U.S. television coverage is uncertain, sports and housing facilities have not been built and some key sports are in jeopardy.

In addition, the U.S. State and Treasury departments will not make it easy for Cuba to finance the event with U.S. money, sources told The Indianapolis Star.

American sports fans will need special permission to travel to Cuba and spend money there, said Barry Frank, senior vice president of International Management Group in New York.

"I wouldn't be surprised if this is the end of the Pan Am Games," said Pete Cava, a spokesman for The Athletics Congress, the national governing body for track and field based in Indianapolis. "Cuba can't make it without U.S. dollars."

Indianapolis hosted the 1987 Pan Am Games after Chile and Ecuador said they could not bear the expense. The Games have never turned a profit.

If Cuba were forced to withdraw as host, sports officials say, it is unlikely any other nation could step in to rescue the games on such short notice.

The Havana games suffered a recent blow when the U.S. Treasury Department forbade ABC-TV from executing a $9 million contract with Cuba's organizing committee. U.S. companies are not allowed to do business with the communist island unless they obtain a waiver from the federal government.

ABC sought a waiver but then withdrew its request. "My understanding is that ABC is going to utilize a different approach," said President Robert H. Helms of the U.S. Olympic Committee.

The network might pay the money to a third party, such as the Games' umbrella Pan American Sports Organization based in Mexico City. Another possibility would be to "pay" Cuba in the form of equipment, uniforms and other U.S. merchandise, sports officials said.

"There is some sensitivity on the subject because ABC went ahead on its negotiations with Cuba without the knowledge of the U.S.," said Greg Harney, director of international games preparation for the U.S. Olympic Committee.

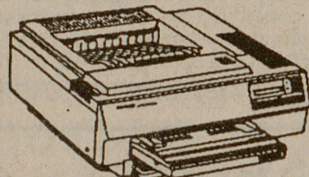

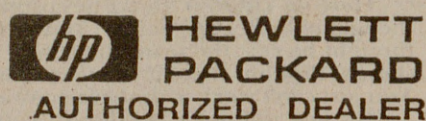

A U.S. Olympic Committee spokesman, Mike Moran, said he wasn't sure how much Cuba was relying on the ABC money to build its sports venues and its housing for the athletes.

"At this point, there has been no word of any kind about canceling or relocating the games," he said.
