lowest bid, $29,090,500, was presented by BFW Construction Co. Inc. of Temple.

Was presented with the lowest bid for Phase Four of the renovation of the Corps-style dormitories. Phase Four includes renovation of Dorms one through four, the final stage of the renovation process. The lowest bid, $7,185,450, was presented by Paul Pogue Inc. of Sherman. This bid is slightly higher than the bid for Phase Three, but this is due to inflation of construction costs, Wesley E. Peel, vice chancellor for Facilities, Planning and Construction, said.

A request for appropriation of $5,500,000 for a "Master Plan" for the Animal Science Teaching and Research Center. The proposed scope of the center includes a beef industry center, a nutrition, physiology laboratory, a sheep, a swine center and an animal behavior laboratory. The facility will modernize existing animal and relocate them away from the pending academic core of the campus.

heard a proposal allowing Perry L. Adkisson the authority to appropriate funds for the design. Cain Hall addition once a commitment from the Cain Foundation received and funding is available. The addition would provide adequate space to handle the academic requirements of male athletes training in the dormitory by creating computer labs, study cubicles, provide new space for female athletes, who currently have no available for academic support.

Funding for the project will be provided by the Cain Foundation.

Restaurant Report

The restaurants listed below were inspected by the Brazos County Health Department between Jan. 15 and Friday. Information is from a food service establishment inspection report.

SCORED BETWEEN 95 AND 100:

Northgate Pizza Hut at 501 University Dr. Score-98. Points were deducted for unclean floors and unclean non-food contact surfaces of equipment and utensils.

International House of Pancakes at 103 S. College Ave. Score-97. Points were deducted

David Jefferson, a registered sanitarian at the department, said restaurants with scores of 95 or above generally have excellent operations and facilities. He said restaurants with scores in the 70s or low 80s usually have serious violations in the health report.

Scores can be misleading, Jefferson said, because restaurants can get the same score by having several minor violations or a few major violations. He said the minor violations can be corrected during the inspection. Point deductions or violations in the report range from one point (minor violations) to five points (major violations).

Jefferson said the department might close a restaurant if the score is below 60, the personnel have infectious diseases, the restaurant lacks adequate refrigeration, there is a sewage backup in the building or the restaurant has a complete lack of sanitization for the food equipment.

The department inspects each restaurant every six months. Jefferson said a follow-up inspection is required sometimes if a restaurant has a four- or five-point violation that cannot be corrected during the inspection, or if there are numerous small violations.

for unsatisfactory food protection during storage and minor wall repair.

Southfork Restaurant at 3702 S. Texas Ave. Score-97. Points were deducted for unclean food contact surfaces and unsatisfactory non-food contact surface construction.

Long John Silvers at 1808 Texas Ave. Score-96. Points were deducted for unsatisfactory food protection during storage and preparation, unsatisfactory plumbing installation and unsatisfactory wall construction.
