

"I want to be an angel."
 — from the gravestone of Nathan Franklin Carson (1855-1917)

*"His earth life past, the race is run
 The battle faught (sic), the victory won
 Afflictions call ne'er, reach the tomb
 The dust rests here; the soul at home"*
 — from the gravestone of Dr. J.P. Mitchell (1823-1879)

"Side by side they toiled together Side by side they're resting now"
 — from the gravestone of James Mitchell (d. 1856) and Jane M. Mitchell (d. 1860)

*"The self-same hand from whence was given
 Has taken back our babe to heaven"*
 — from the gravestone of the infant child (d. 1894) of Claude and Mary Mitchell

*"A link is broken in our household band
 But a chain is forming in a better land."*
 — from the gravestone of Lucy C. Carson (1818-1921)
