OU's Tubbs considering Lamar move

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Oklahoma basketball coach Billy Tubbs, who has said over the years that he always listens to an offer, met with Lamar University officials last week, according to Tubbs' wife and the school's chancellor.

Lamar, which fired Tony Branch as head coach, flourished under Tubbs in the late 1970s. The Cardinals had back-to-back 20-win seasons and NCAA tournament appearances in Tubbs' final two years at the Beaumont school.

Chancellor George McLaughlin

told the Tulsa World that he met with Tubbs on Friday and he "did not turn us down." McLaughlin indicated that Lamar expected a decision from Tubbs this week.

Tubbs' wife, Pat, said he was out of town Tuesday but confirmed that he met with Lamar officials last week.

"He has talked to them. He went there last week, but that's all I can say," Mrs. Tubbs told The Tulsa Tribune.

Tubbs left Lamar in 1980 to replace Dave Bliss at Oklahoma. Since a 9-18 record in Tubbs' first year in Norman, the Sooners have put together nine consecutive 20-win seasons and eight consecutive appearances in the NCAA tournament.

He has been named Big Eight Conference coach of the year four times.

Lamar reportedly is prepared to offer Tubbs jobs as head basketball coach and athletic director.

When asked recently about rumors surrounding the Lamar job, Tubbs said, "I'm sure I'll be in contact with them about who they are going to hire, but I'll probably be used as a consultant.

Tubbs told The Tribune prior to the Midwest Regional final between Arkansas and Texas that "I'm going to be back at the University of Oklahoma next year."

Meanwhile, the El Paso Times has reported that Don Haskins, head coach at Texas-El Paso for the past 29 years, also has been in contact with Lamar officials about the vacancy.

Arkansas coach Nolan Richardson, who leads the Razorbacks against Duke Saturday, still grieves for his daughter.

Hogs' Richardson remembers daughter

DALLAS (AP) — When the final horn sounded and Arkansas had beaten Texas for a berth in the Final Four, Nolan Richardson's thoughts were elsewhere.

"I've got a young girl I wish was here. That was my first

"She's the reason I'm still around coaching. To me, whether or not she's with me here, I know she's here in spirit."

thought," Richardson said after Saturday's 88-85 victory over his Southwest Conference rivals. "Yvonne, we got one for you, baby, and we're gonna get some more."

Yvonne Richardson died of leukemia in 1987. Richardson has spoken often about how difficult it was for him to leave his daughter at the hospital to return to Fayetteville, Ark., to coach.

"She's the reason I'm still around coaching," he said. "To me, whether or not she's with me here, I know she's here in spirit. Somehow she's sitting back and smiling down, saying 'I told you, dad, if you do what you say you're gonna do, you'll be there someday.'"

The seventh-ranked Razorbacks will take a 30-4 record to the Final Four against Duke, winner of the East Regional. The last time Arkansas won that many games was 1978, when it last made it to what Richardson calls "the big dance."

He will take a team that is loaded with talented young players, but has outstanding senior leadership in players like Lenze Howell and Mario Credit.

Howell was named most valuable player of the Midwest Regional after scoring 25 points against North Carolina in the semifinals and 21 against Texas on Saturday. Sixteen of his points against Texas came in the first 22 minutes of the game.

"Lenze Howell has come to his hometown time and time again and proven he is probably one of the best players in the country," Richardson said. "Not in the Southwest Conference — in the country."

"He's very quiet, a secret, somebody who can play when the chips are down."

Arkansas had to get by when Howell was down, and did so in a 18-17 overtime victory. He was poked in the eye with 18:17 left in the game and the Razorbacks leading by four. The president of the conference retired without Howell — Arkansas stretched its lead to 70-54.

"I think the most important thing in anything you do is that you've got balance, you've got a chance to be successful," Richardson said. "We've got somebody that will step up. One of the guys off the bench could take over — that's balance."

"Any time you play a team that's got balance, it's very difficult to key on any individual. And that's what our team is all about — balance."

Texas found that out, again. The two earlier losses to Arkansas were by scores of 109-100 and 103-96, in overtime.

"That's the reason I think Arkansas has a great chance to go all the way — they're so hard to match up with," Penders said. "They're an excellent basketball team."

UTEP's Haskins joins OU's Tubbs in Lamar hunt

EL PASO (AP) — Texas-El Paso basketball coach Don Haskins has talked with Lamar University officials about their vacant head coaching position, the El Paso Times reported.

Haskins, who discussed the opening with Lamar officials on Sunday, is among the leading candidates for the job, Lamar Chancellor George McLaughlin said.

"We're very high on Don Haskins. Yes, I have spoken to him," McLaughlin told the newspaper.

The position opened this month when Tony Branch was fired after the Cardinals went 7-21, the school's worst season ever. Lamar is an NCAA Division I school and a member of the American South Conference. It is located in Beaumont.

Television station KJAC in Port Arthur said Haskins was frustrated with UTEP's athletic department administration.

Haskins, who has coached at UTEP for 29 years, did not return phone calls.

Chronic laryngitis forced Haskins, 59, to miss most of last season. Assistant Norm Ellenberger ran the team for the final three months and led the Miners to the NCAA tournament with a Western Athletic Conference tournament championship.
