Graduates facing fewer jobs

The University of Michigan Hiring Survey found new job hiring for college graduates down 13% in 1990. Beat the odds. Access the hidden job market with your letter to potential employers. According to the US government, 95% of all job openings are NOT listed. Be one of the lucky 25% who are hired by cold-contacting companies with a letter campaign.

Guide to major U.S. employers.

Use Jobs On File on your IBM PC compatible or MAC to execute your letter campaign fast. JOBSOURCE™ offers a library of Jobs On File software disks. We feature 45 different INDUSTRY reference disks for major employers nationwide. Or maybe WHERE you want to live is more important? Then a CITY disk with hundreds of major companies profiled on each disk may be your best choice.

Saves time and hassles.

At JOBSOURCE we call thousands of companies in 40 major cities to verify the contact person and mailing information. Then we ask about local employees, revenue and other information.

Organize and examine the company data using your selection criteria. Generate mailing lists of companies to mail to with a single keystroke. Then create cover letters with the built-in word processor. The program merges company address information during the printing process, cutting prep time by as much as 90%. There is no product that offers such information and time saving convenience.

Frats edge out Corps in thriller

By ALAN LEHMANN
 Of The Battalion Staff

Although most students only dream of suiting up and playing on Olsen Field, All-Star squads from the Texas A&M Interfraternity Council and Corps of Cadets got the chance Wednesday night.

In an effort to increase interaction between the two organizations, the teams played a nine-inning baseball game in front of 1,069 spectators.

The fraternity team rallied for two runs in each of the final two innings to win 11-10.

William Yarnell delivered the winning single with two-outs in the bottom of the ninth inning to end the four-hour marathon.

A&M Athletic Promotions Director Derrick Grubbs said the event was well organized, and commended both the fraternities and Corps for their effort.

"They were really on the ball," Grubbs said. "They did a good job of getting the teams together on short notice and taking care of the details."

Although the teams hadn't played before, this could become an annual event.

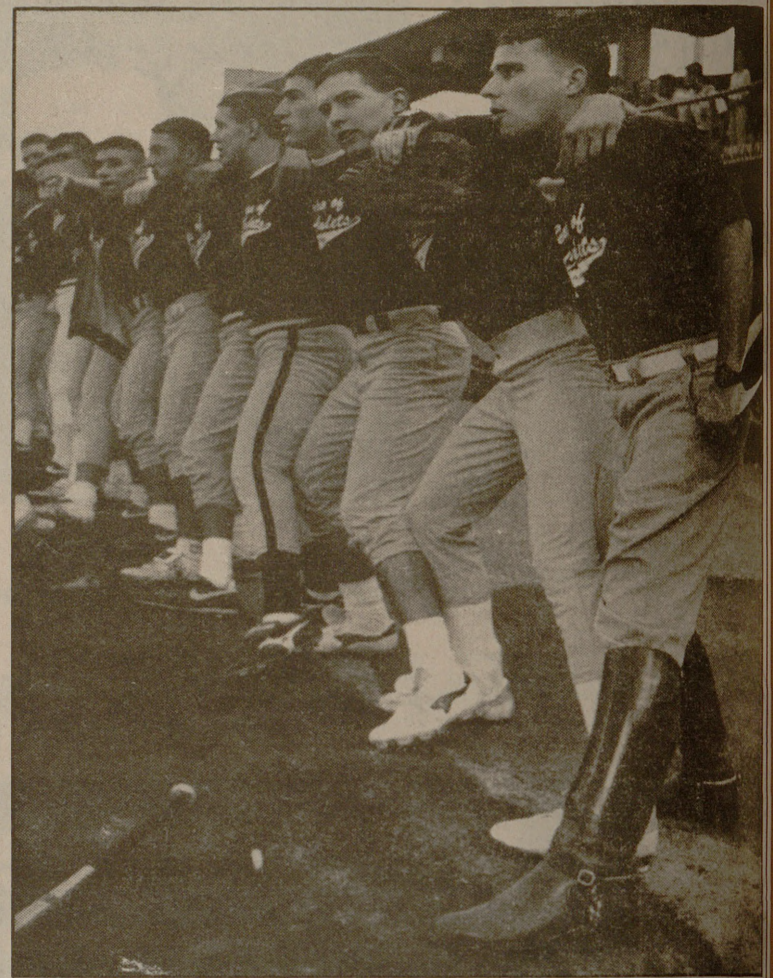

Field Hudgens, the coach and designated hitter for the fraternity team, said he hopes the series will be continued.

"This is just an example of how representatives from two groups can get along," Hudgens said. "Maybe this will pave the way for our organizations to work together in the future."

Proceeds from the game will go toward scholarships.

All 32 players from each team got into the game and seemed to enjoy themselves. Robert Magee, coach of the Corps squad, said his players were happy to play.

"Playing on Olsen Field was a dream come true for these guys," Magee said. "It gave them a chance to relive their glory days from high school."

In many ways, it was better than high school baseball.

Grubbs, the voice of "The Shack by the Track", ran the public address system and called lucky numbers. The Diamond Darlings were also in attendance.

The fraternity team outthrew the Corps squad 12-9 and made less errors (8-5).

Each team used four pitchers and Alec Cuellar, who is also a member of the Aggie 12th Man Kickoff Squad, took the loss for the Corps after giving up the game-winning hit.
