Williams: Improve trade

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Republican gubernatorial nominee Clayton Williams told oil producers Tuesday he wants to diversify the Texas economy and improve trade with Mexico and possibly Brazil and Czechoslovakia.

Williams also said he disagrees with an education finance reform compromise agreed upon by Gov. Bill Clements and lawmakers that would raise the state sales tax.

Williams, who has oil-related business interests, told the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty

Owners Association annual convention he was forced to diversify his business when oil prices plunged.

Like private companies, the state's economy also needs new investment, said Williams, who outlined four economic goals he would pursue as governor.

He said he will promote economic growth by holding down taxes and criticized Democratic gubernatorial nominee Ann Richards, saying she believes "tax increases are the first answer to every problem."

Residents suffer food poisoning

Eggs tested for bacteria

DENTON (AP) — Tests were being conducted on hundreds of eggs from a Denton County farm to find out if they are the source of a bacteria suspected of poisoning 24 Dallas residents.

The people became ill after eating homemade ice cream at a recent party.

Officials of the Texas Department of Health collected the eggs Monday after suspecting raw eggs used in the ice cream contained salmonella enteritidis, a bacteria that infects poultry and other animals and can cause disease in people.

A spokeswoman for the U.S. Department of Agriculture said that although raw or uncooked eggs have been blamed for a growing number of salmonella poisonings in the past few years in the Northeast, this is the first time eggs from a Texas supplier have been suspected.

Dan Sowards, director of food programs for the Texas Department of Health, said the egg farm, which he declined to identify, is a major supplier in the Dallas area.

"At this point in time, if people are eating fried eggs, I wouldn't worry," Sowards said. "But I'd make sure they're cooked."

Eggs from infected flocks can be used only for pasteurization, which kill the bacteria, the USDA says. Officials said the best way to prevent the spread of the bacteria is to eliminate infected flocks.

Dr. Charles Haley, chief epidemiologist for the Dallas County Health Department, said 24 people at the homemade ice cream at the Dallas party and all suffered salmonella poisoning. Three victims were hospitalized with severe cases of diarrhea and high fever, he said.

There were about 220 cases of salmonella poisoning in Dallas County last year, he said.

Racing tax gets overlooked

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Time may run out in the current special legislative session before lawmakers vote on reducing the state tax on pari-mutuel wagering, a horse race advocate said Tuesday.

"I think when the legislature finishes on the public school bill, they're going to go home," Ricky L. Knox, past executive director of the Texas Horse Racing Association and a Texas Quarter Horse Association consultant, said.

Knox, speaking to the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants, said the state should reduce its tax from 5 percent to 1 percent for horse racing to flourish in Texas.

Other states with successful pari-mutuel wagering have lower taxes, he said, noting that New Jersey's state take is one-half of 1 percent.

Gov. Bill Clements has opened the agenda of the current special legislative session on school finance reform to other items, including the pari-mutuel wagering issue.

Currently in Texas 5 cents of every dollar goes to the state, 5 cents to race purses and 8 cents to track operations, leaving 82 cents to be returned to winning bettors, he said.

"Those pennies are what drives the entire industry, because if they get out of balance, it does not work," Knox said.

Police Beat

The following incidents were reported to the Texas A&M University Police Department between May 28 and Friday.

MISDEMEANOR THEFT:

• A Lestronic II battery charger, which was being used to charge a battery on a golf cart, was stolen from a hallway in the Read Building.

DRIVING WHILE INTOXICATED/ PUBLIC INTOXICATION:

• A security officer's observation of a vehicle being operated erratically on Asbury Street led to the arrest of a man for driving while intoxicated and two Bryan men for public intoxication.

FELONY THEFT:

• A 14-karat gold ring with a quarter karat heart-shaped diamond was removed from a room in the Civil Engineering/ Texas Transportation Institute Building.

DRIVING WHILE INTOXICATED:

• A College Station man was arrested and charged with driving while intoxicated. He was transported to the Brazos County Jail and incarcerated.

MINOR IN POSSESSION OF ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGE:

• An officer on duty at a high school playoff game at Olney Field observed several juveniles in Parking Area 63 consuming what appeared to be alcoholic beverages. Officers issued citations for minors in possession of alcoholic beverages. A citation for making alcohol available to a minor also was issued.

CRIMINAL MISCHIEF:

• While investigating a report of juveniles consuming alcohol in Parking Area 63, the investigating officers noticed some vehicles had been damaged in the area where the juveniles had been observed drinking. Upon close inspection, it was noted someone had used a sharp object to scratch an expletive on the trunk of a 1986 Pontiac.

Bus drivers say strike not cause of bankruptcy

DALLAS (AP) — Striking Greyhound drivers say union-busting tactics, not a strike by bus drivers, drove Greyhound Lines Inc. into a federal bankruptcy court.

Many of Greyhound's striking drivers said they'll keep fighting for their jobs despite Greyhound's Chapter 11 bankruptcy reorganization filing Monday.

The company has seen ridership and revenues plunge after most of its 6,300 drivers walked out March 2 in a dispute over wages and job security. Greyhound listed $540 million in debts in the Monday filing in U.S. Bankruptcy Court in South Texas.

The carrier said the sometimes-violent strike prompted the filing. The union said it expected the reorganization try.

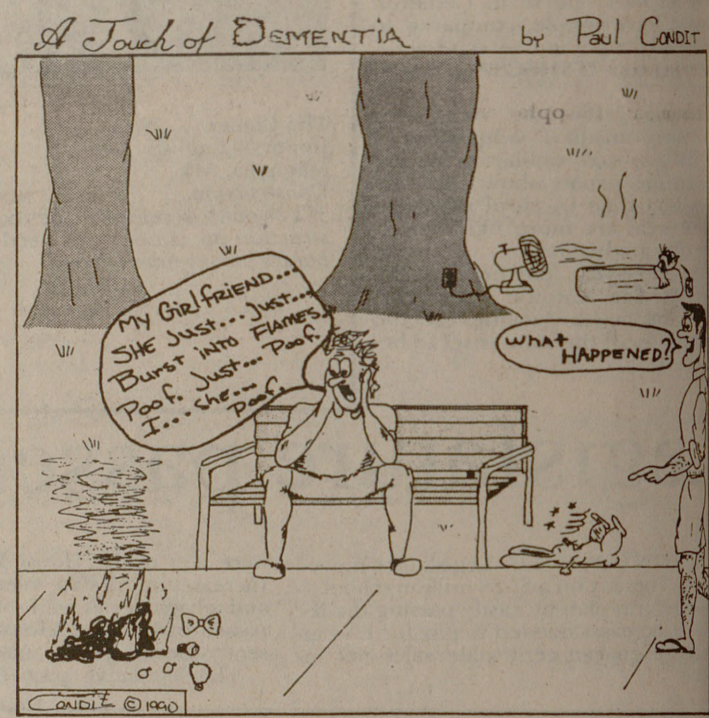

"We're not surprised about the filing because we've been expecting it all along," Gary H. Daugherty, executive board member of Local 111 Amalgamated Council of Greyhound Local Unions in Dallas, said. "A lot of us can't figure out why it took so long for Greyhound to file for bankruptcy court protection."

Michael Holden, vice president of Local 1205 in Boston, said the company underestimated the strikers.

"They really misjudged the mood of the people in this union and the country. People are sick of being pushed around by the greedy," Holden said.

Currey is chairman of Greyhound. Lorenzo headed strike-plagued Eastern Air Lines when it filed for bankruptcy last year. Machinists walked out. Two months ago, the air line's management replaced and put under trustees by the bankruptcy court.
