Gov. Roemer ponders abortion bill veto New version allows abortions in rape, incest cases

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Gov. Buddy Roemer left open the possibility Monday that he might veto a hastily concocted abortion bill that would be the strictest such law in the 50 states.

"It's unfortunate that legislation this important would be done at the last minute," Roemer said at a news conference. "And I just want to remind everybody that an option was given by me long ago to work this thing out to the satisfaction of the vast majority in this state," he said.

Engineers detect leak on shuttle

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rockwell International engineers detected escaping hydrogen in a week-end test of space shuttle hardware, but NASA officials said Monday that the discovery still does not pinpoint the leak that has grounded the space shuttle fleet.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of a Senate subcommittee said Monday he wants to subpoena a former aide to President Bush who allegedly helped an Arizona insurance executive secure a $1.8 billion subsidy from savings and loan regulators.

Experts say alcoholism in elderly often goes undetected, untreated

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — A preoccupation with treating alcoholism in younger people has obscured a serious and neglected problem among old people in this country, experts say.

Japanese developer again tops list of world's richest people in Forbes

NEW YORK (AP) — A Japanese developer again topped a list of the world's richest people, but the annual tally has one conspicuous deletion this year: Donald J. Trump.

abortion for rape or incest victims. Anti-abortion forces drafted the new measure only when it became clear late Sunday they could not muster a two-thirds vote in the Senate to override a veto.

The new measure has rape and incest exceptions, but a requirement that rape be reported to authorities within seven days of its occurrence may be too narrowly drawn to satisfy Roemer.

100 percent and Louisiana at 96," said Winn. The U.S. territory of Guam has recently passed its own abortion bill that severely restricts abortions in that area.

Louisiana lawmakers had tacked the rape and incest exceptions onto the law they drafted in an attempt to appease Roemer.

The bill was tacked on to the James David Cain's legislation that would have eliminated jail terms and lowered the fines under simple battery laws for people convicted beating a flag burner.

Louisiana's constitution requires that amendments to a bill be germane to the original subject matter. The language the Senate added, Cain's bill after scuttling the flag burner provisions may fail that test, Roemer said.
