Japan asks for support of industry for troops

TOKYO (AP) — The government asked the country's private industry Monday to help support the multinational force in the Persian Gulf by providing jeeps, car-carrying ships and other products and services.

Also, the Kyodo News Service reported from Baghdad that Iraq was urging Japan to partly lift sanctions in return for the release of Japanese men being held at strategic installations in Iraq.

The Kyodo report said Iraq's cultural and information minister, Latif Nasif Al-Jasim, declared in an interview that Iraq would release the Japanese hostages if Japan resumed buying Iraqi oil and allowed Iraq to buy food and medicine.

International Trade and Industry Minister Kabun Muto sought cooperation in a meeting with leaders of six major industries — automobiles, steel, electronics, construction, machinery and plastic — said a ministry official, speaking on condition of anonymity.
