

Bill VANCE
 Class of '61
FOR JUSTICE
 10th COURT of APPEALS
 Political Ad Paid By Committee to Elect
 Bill Vance, Karl M. May, Treasurer
 5400 Bosque, Suite 490 Waco, TX 76710

U.B. Ski
BRECKENRIDGE
 plus
Vail
 $229 plus $29 tax
 1-800-232-2428

BOB BROWN UNIVERSAL TRAVEL
 DEPENDABLE TRAVEL SERVICE OVER THE UNIVERSE

- Airline Reservations
- Travel Counsel
- Hotel/Motel Reservations
- Cruises
- Rental Cars
- Tours
- Charters
- 30 day Charge

"FULLY COMPUTERIZED" FREE TICKET DELIVERY
 IF YOU'VE TRIED THE REST... WHY NOT TRY THE BEST!
 846-8719 or 846-8710 or 846-8718
 UNIVERSITY TOWER LOBBY COLLEGE STATION, TEXAS

Re-elect
McDONALD
 Judge 85th District Court

Judge Tom McDonald's court had the highest conviction rate (93%) of the Brazos County District Courts in 1988 and '89.

Paid for by the Committee to Re-elect Judge W.T. (Tom) McDonald, Jr., Caroline McDonald, Treasurer, Box 1085, Bryan, TX. 77806

There is such a thing as a ...
FREE RIDE

Join us for Sunday worship service at Beautiful Savior Lutheran Church (8am & 10:30am). Rides are offered at 10:10, every Sunday at the COMMONS, UNDERGROUND/SBISA, and UNIVERSITY TOWERS.
 (Rides are provided by TEXAS A&M LUTHERAN COLLEGIANS)
 for more info: 693-4514

Frank C. Lewis, Jr.
 Republican
 for County Commissioner

Supports: Precinct 4

- Strong Christian family values
- A&M Student voting rights
- Stronger law enforcement
- Better Fire Protection
- Lowering taxes
- Rural Roads Improvements

Pol. adv. paid for by campaign to elect Frank C. Lewis, Jr.

NIGHT-TIME HEARTBURN STUDY
 Do you experience night-time heartburn? VIP Research is seeking individuals for a short-term research study of a currently available medication. A $100 incentive will be paid to those who enroll and complete this study. CALL
VOLUNTEERS IN PHARMACEUTICAL RESEARCH®
 776-1417

Stand up. Sit down.
BITE. BITE. BITE.

This weekend, before or after the game enjoy great food at Post Oak Mall without eating up your time fighting the crowds.

With a dozen Food Court eateries, we're ready and waiting all day, everyday. Mouth-watering barbecue. Sensational seafood. All American sandwiches. And to top it off, desserts from candy to ice cream.

And if you aren't quite ready for a meal after the game that's fine too - you can work up an appetite shopping in 130 great stores! Great food. Great shopping. Now that's something to cheer about!

FOOD COURT
 Over a Dozen Food Court Eateries
POST OAK MALL
 Texas 6 Bypass at Hwy 30 College Station

WITH THIS COUPON
FREE 16 oz. Drink
 with purchase of a Regular Corn Dog
Not valid with any other special. Offer expires Oct. 30, 1990

CORN DOG 7

WITH THIS COUPON
 84¢ Value! 2 FREE EXTRAS 84¢ Value!
 with Potato Purchase
Not valid on the #1. Not good with any other special. Offer expires Oct. 30, 1990

POTATOES ETC.

WITH THIS COUPON
15% OFF Any Fruit Drink
Try a unique and exotic drink! Such as: Strawberry - Pine Colada, Pine Colada - Banana, Strawberry - Banana, Passion Fruit - Guava-hana. Or create your own combo!
CHILLED THICK • REAL FRUIT • LOW CALORIE
One drink per coupon. Offer expires Nov. 21, 1990

TASTE OF THE TROPICS

WITH THIS COUPON
2 FOR $2.99
 Hot Fudge Super Sundaes
Limit 4. Not valid with any other special. Offer expires Oct. 30, 1990

SWENSENS

POST OAK MALL

$2.99 Chicken Fried Steak Plate
$2.89 Chopped Beef Sandwich, Small Fries & Medium Soft Drink
Not valid with any other special.

WAGON WHEEL PIT BARBECUE

WITH THIS COUPON
FREE
 Bag of Chips and 22oz. Drink with purchase of a regular footlong or large salad.
Not good with SubClub Card or any other discount Offer expires Oct. 30, 1990

SUBWAY

WITH THIS COUPON
Meatball Sandwich $2.95 Plus Tax
Not valid with any other special. Offer expires Oct. 30, 1990

VILLA ITALIAN SPECIALTIES

WITH THIS COUPON
$3.69
Chargrilled Lite Deal
 Chick-Fil-A Chargrilled Chicken Sandwich™, Tossed Salad, and a 20oz. Diet Coke
Not valid with any other special. Offer expires Oct. 30, 1990

CHICK-FIL-A
 Closed Sundays

Fielder, Sandberg top 1990 AP baseball all-star team list

NEW YORK (AP) — Cecil Fielder, the first major-leaguer in 13 years to break the 50-home run barrier, and Ryne Sandberg, only the third second baseman ever to hit 40, top a power-laden 1990 Associated Press baseball all-star team.

The 12-man team, selected in a nationwide vote of sports writers and broadcasters and based only on regular-season performances, is evenly divided with six National Leaguers and six American Leaguers.

Three teams had two players each — the Pittsburgh Pirates' dynamic outfield duo of Barry Bonds and Bobby Bonilla, the Chicago White Sox's battery of catcher Carlton Fisk and relief pitcher Bobby Thigpen, and Oakland Athletics outfielder

Rickey Henderson and right-handed pitcher Bob Welch.

The team averaged almost 29 home runs, ranging from Fielder's 51 for the Detroit Tigers to Barry Larkin's seven for the World Series champion Cincinnati Reds.

Sandberg led the NL in home runs with 40 for the Chicago Cubs and was the leading vote-getter with 165, only three shy of being unanimous. He and Milwaukee Brewers designated hitter Dave Parker were the only repeaters from last year.

Fielder led the majors with 51 homers and was an overwhelming selection at first base, receiving 130 votes to 16 for runnerup Eddie Murray of the Los Angeles Dodgers and 13 for AL batting champion George Brett of the Kansas City Royals.

Fielder also had 26 votes for designated hitter, third behind Parker's 78 and Brett's 33.

Bonds and Bonilla, who finished second and third in the outfield voting, each hit more than 30 homers, drove in more than 100 runs and scored more than 100 runs in leading the Pirates to the NL East title. Henderson was the top vote-getter in the outfield with 158 votes, while Bonds had 157 and Bonilla 68.

Completing the team are San Francisco's Matt Williams at third base and the New York Mets' Frank Viola as the left-handed pitcher.

Sandberg was named to the team for the third consecutive year and the fourth time in five years, and Parker was chosen for the second year in a row. The closest vote was for catcher, with Fisk beating Cleveland rookie Sandy Alomar Jr., 59 to 45.

Fielder made a sensational comeback to the majors this year after spending the 1989 season with the Hanshin Tigers of the Japanese League. In addition to his 51 homers, the most in the majors since Cincinnati's George Foster hit 52 in 1977, he led the majors with 112 RBIs and a .592 slugging percentage, tied for second in the AL with 104 runs scored and batted .277.

Sandberg, the 1984 NL most valuable player, led the league in home runs and runs scored (116), was second in hits (188) and slugging percentage (.559), drove in 100 runs and batted .306.

Texas vs. Tech game televised

DALLAS (AP) — The Texas Tech-Texas matchup will be the featured Southwest Conference game of the week Nov. 3 on Raycom Sports and Entertainment.

The Red Raiders will host the Longhorns at noon CDT with a 12:07 p.m. kickoff.

Home Sports Entertainment-Prime Network will air the Houston-Arkansas game live from the Astrodome this Saturday with a noon CDT airtime. Kickoff will be at 12:05 p.m.

Pacers rally past Rockets 139-121 in exhibition game

KITCHENER, Ontario (AP) — Detlef Schrempf had 29 points and 10 rebounds, and George McCloud keyed a late rally as the Indiana Pacers defeated the Houston Rockets 139-121 in an NBA exhibition game Tuesday night.

McCloud scored six of his 14 points in the final 29 seconds of the third quarter, when the Pacers took the lead for good. Houston led 98-94 before McCloud hit a jumper and a free throw, then stole an inbound pass and buried a 3-point shot with one second left in the period for a 100-98 lead.

McCloud added another basket as the Pacers ran off the first eight points of the fourth quarter, four by Schrempf. The Rockets never got closer than eight points in the final nine minutes.

Chuck Person added 18 points for Indiana (4-2), which went 3-0 on its Canadian tour. Reggie Miller had 17 points, and LaSalle Thompson and Rik Smits contributed 14 apiece.

Akeem Olajuwon led Houston (4-2) with 22 points, Mike Woodson had 21 and Adrian Caldwell 18.

Lemmon

Continued from page 7

much of the Baylor game, is unexpected.

Some are even comparing this year's squad to the Aggie teams of the late 1970s that didn't know how to win important games. This team is too talented to be wallowing in mediocrity, yet it is doing so at all conference levels.

And yet, it's the coaching staff that is coming under a lot of fire from many die-hard fans. Should they be pumping the team up, getting on their butts with more intensity and fire?

I believe the young men that have the chance to go on and play college football are doing so for their own reasons. And if one of those reasons isn't to be a winner, there is little a coach can do to motivate them.

Many of the gripes have been aimed at offensive coordinator Bob Toledo — especially since the LSU game. But Bob is not the one fumbling the ball away and throwing the kind of interceptions Bob's wife could throw.

In defense of Toledo (pretty risky ground for me, considering I'm still not convinced of his capabilities), he hasn't had a lot of opportunity to do much of anything with his offense in the second halves.

That's because the once-revered Wrecking Crew defense has allowed other offenses to become Racking Crews ... rolling up yards, eating up second-half minutes and keeping the Aggie offense off the field.

Bucky Richardson is an option quarterback who is improving his passing capability. Although Lance Pavlas is supposed to have the stronger throwing arm, his release is nothing like that of Kevin Murray or Gary Kubiak. Bucky gets lucky too often and Lance gets read too easily.

At the college level, coaches are there to help instill in the players a sense of execution and improve their ability to adapt to certain situations and circumstances.

On the major college level it takes a lot of heart, desire and good, old-fashioned execution to win in front of 50,000-plus screaming fans on a week-to-week basis.

Going into the Baylor game, the Aggies controlled their own destiny. Even if they had been blown out by Houston or lost by one point, they still controlled their destiny. But you didn't get the impression they enjoyed the control of their own fate in last weekend's game.

And even if they come out like world-beaters against Rice and say, "See, our offense and defense are capable of playing four quarters of good football," they still must rely on other teams to help write their script for post-season play.

And unless the Aggie players talk to each other and recommit themselves to playing hard-nosed, inspired football this week, the Aggies will just be another building block in the revitalization of the Rice Owl football program.

Randy Lemmon does freelance radio sports reports for Associated Press Radio, Texas.

Texas football player arrested

AUSTIN (AP) — A third-string offensive tackle on the 13th-ranked University of Texas football team surrendered to police Tuesday after an arrest warrant was issued alleging he was in possession of a controlled substance.

Alan Luther, 21, a sophomore from Houston, posted a $500 bail.

Police said the controlled substance was an anabolic steroid, the Austin American-Statesman reported.

The charge, a Class B misdemeanor, carries penalties of up to six months in jail and a $1,000 fine.

Luther declined comment about the incident when released Tuesday night.

Texas football Coach David McWilliams said after practice Tuesday that he knew Luther had been arrested but did not know it was for possession of steroids.

"I knew it was for a controlled substance, but there are a lot of those," McWilliams said.

Texas men's athletic director DeLoss Dodds said he felt confident that steroid use is not a team-wide problem.

Bounce

Continued from page 9

could be in for an unpleasant surprise.

"If we go out there against Rice not just wide open and firing around then we won't be able to beat them," he said. "They're playing a lot of the same players they had a year ago and that experience factor is showing. They're a scrappy bunch that's playing with a bunch of confidence."

Not quite ready to throw in the towel, Slocum added that there is still a lot of football to be played and that he is confident in his team's ability to turn things around.

"It's never as good as it appears and it's never as bad as it seems," Slocum said. "We've just got to keep the big picture in mind."

There are a lot of teams around the country in the same situation we're in, so I'm not ready to go and jump off a cliff. We've just got to prove on our level of play."

Toledo

Continued from page 9

Those would belong to Richardson, who still is learning Toledo's offense. Richardson underthrew an open Shane Garrett downfield against Baylor, and an apparent touchdown turned into an interception.

"Bucky has to learn that you don't overthrow a short pass, and you don't underthrow a long one," Toledo said. "He's not a total quarterback yet because he doesn't understand those things. If he is tight, often it's because he's confused about whether to run or throw the football."

"If you're going to be a passer, throw the football. But it's like I tell him: if guys are covered, run. A quarterback's going to throw some incomplete passes, and he's going to throw interceptions. He has to have confidence in his ability. We know he can run the ball."

Such is the knock on A&M quarterbacks: Richardson is the runner, Pavlas the passer. But what isn't common knowledge is that Richardson can pass — he had better statistics than UH's David Klingler entering the fourth quarter of the UH game — and Pavlas can run.

All Toledo and Slocum need is one of them to move the offense effectively throughout the game. That four-quarter quarterback has yet to emerge for A&M this season.

"It's not like we're not moving the ball or not scoring points," Toledo said. "We're going to be fine. Putting Bucky in gave us extra running in the backfield. We've made some long runs on the option. We've got to cut down on turnovers. I tell Bucky to cut it loose and don't worry about the flak — I'll take that."