

STRAIGHT FROM THE TOP

MSC MBA/LAW SYMPOSIUM

Saturday, November 10 from 8 AM to 5 PM in MSC 203

Tickets $5, $8 at the door

Advice from Successful Former Students

Including:

- President of the Texas Bar Association
- Former CEO of Dell Computer Corporation
- Senior Partners of Law Firms
- Current Students in Business and Law

For more information call 845-1515

Compare.

Bob Bullock is a tough-minded administrator who calls the shots as he sees them.

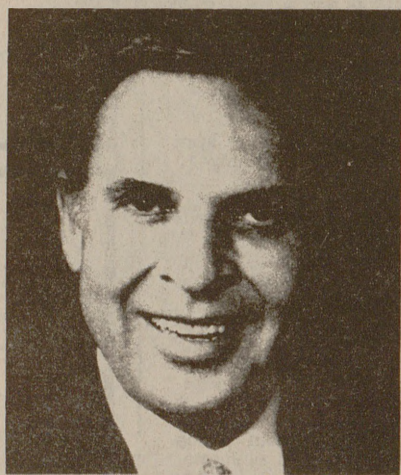

Bob Bullock is the only candidate who has cast an official vote against an income tax. (Dissenting Report, Tax Equity Committee, 1987)

That's why Bob Bullock is endorsed by newspapers all over Texas.

Rob Mosbacher is Gov. Clements' appointee in charge of the welfare agency. His spending has already caused one tax bill.

Now he wants to hire 10,000 more government employees. Mosbacher's welfare mismanagement will cost every Texas family $403 in new taxes.

It's your choice.

An independent voice for Texas

BOB BULLOCK
Democrat for
LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR

Pd. Pol. Adv. by Bob Bullock Campaign, P. O. Box 2243, Austin, Texas 78768

As an Aggie, J.D. Langley learned the value of honor and the importance of honesty.

As a Marine, he realized the importance of dedication and the rewards of hard work. As a prosecutor, he has shown his commitment to protecting the rights of victims.

As a judge, J.D. Langley has put this knowledge, experience and dedication to work for all Brazos County citizens. Vote for J.D. Langley on November 6!

Get to know J.D. Langley and you'll understand why he's the right choice for the 85th District Court.

- Judge, Brazos County Court-at-Law No. 2
- Nominated by MADD as State Judge of the Year, 1989
- Past Chairman, Juvenile Law Section of the State Bar of Texas
- Listed in Who's Who in American Law, 1990
- Prosecutor, Brazos County District Attorney's Office
- Doctor of Jurisprudence, South Texas College of Law
- Member, Order of the Lytae, an honorary legal fraternity
- Captain, United States Marine Corps
- B.S., Texas A&M University, Class of '74
- Member, Brazos County A&M Club
- Member, MSC OPAS and OPAS Guild

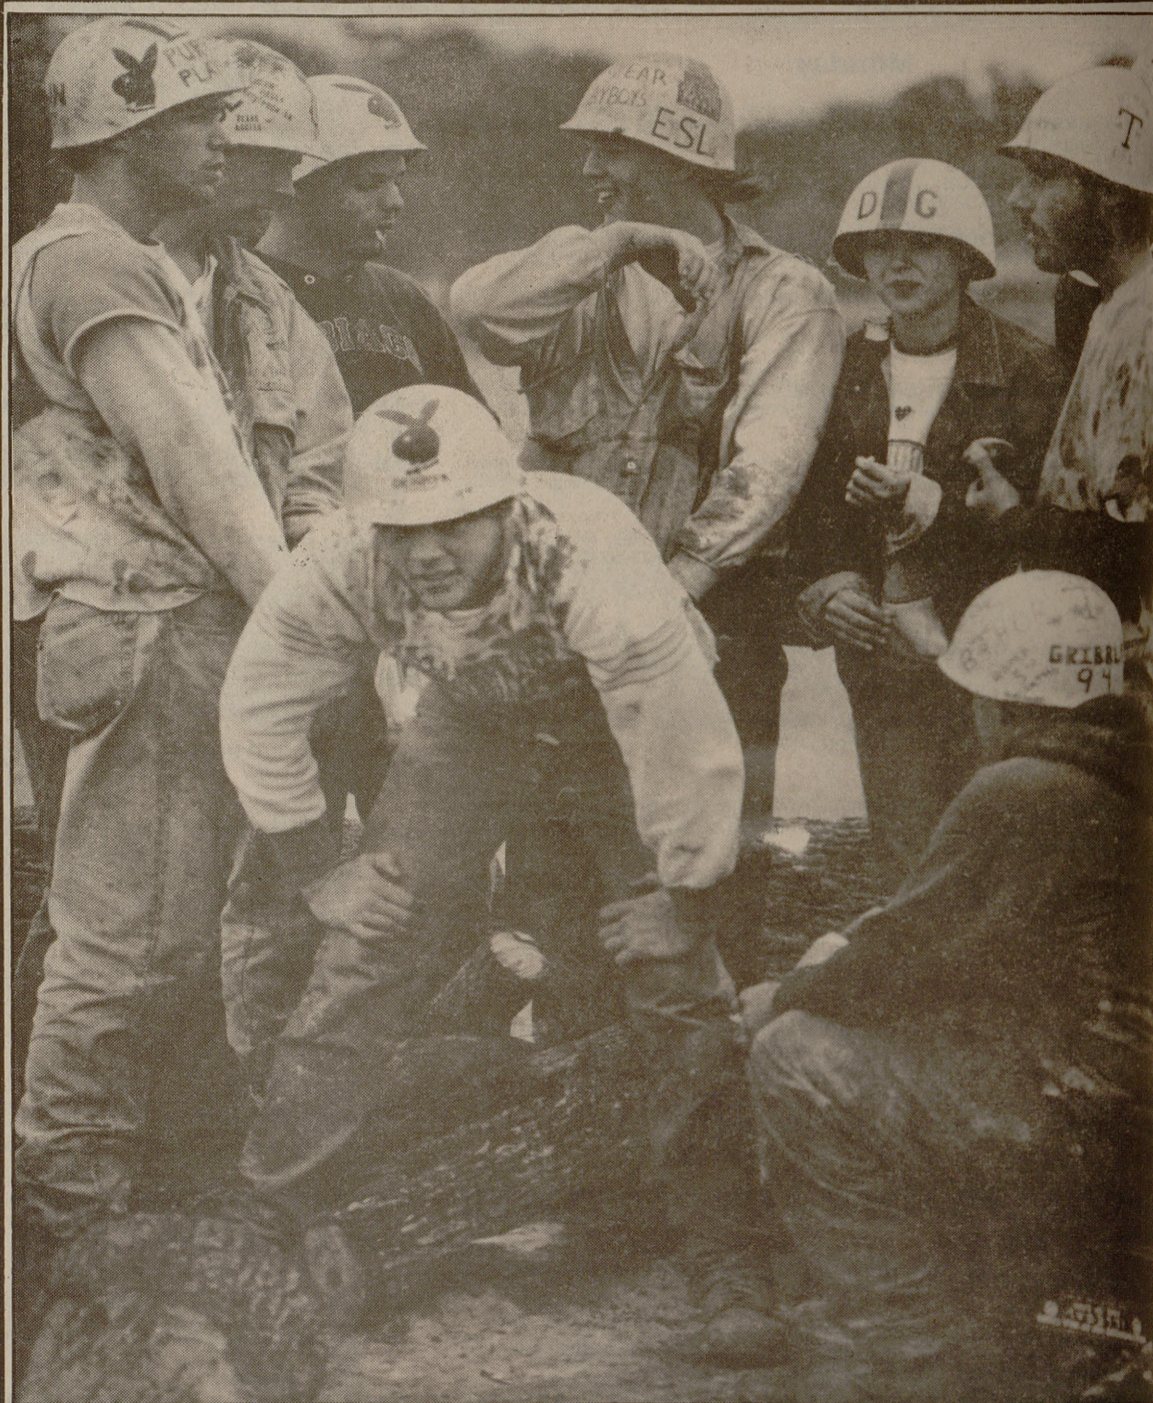

Elect
J.D. LANGLEY
STATE DISTRICT JUDGE

Political advertisement paid for by the J.D. Langley Campaign, Juanita B. Murray, Treasurer, P.O. Box 3785, Bryan, TX 77805

A Change for the Better!

Bonfire break

SONDRA N. ROBBINS/The Battalion

Students warm up by a fire and roast marshmallows Sunday before working on bonfire.

Hearing scheduled on GOP tactics

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats on Sunday accused Republicans of racism in the North Carolina Senate race as a federal judge scheduled an election-eve hearing on whether the GOP's tactics are intimidating voters.

Republican officials dismissed allegations that voter mailings in North Carolina and Texas were designed to intimidate minority or elderly voters.

But U.S. District Judge Dickinson Debevoise scheduled a hearing for today in Newark, N.J., to determine whether the Republican National Committee is violating a 1982 consent decree that bars voter intimidation.

The hearing was requested by the Democratic National Committee.

"What the Republican Party has done is absolutely disgusting," Democratic Party chairman Ronald Brown said on CBS-TV's "Face the Nation." He accused the GOP of trying to "intimidate the poorest and most vulnerable voters."

The controversy has centered primarily on North Carolina, where Republican Sen. Jesse Helms is in a neck-and-neck race with Democrat Harvey Gantt, who is black.

At issue are 150,000 official-looking postcards that the North Carolina GOP sent to predominantly minority Democratic precincts.

Labeled "Voter Registration Bulletin," the cards read, in part, that it is a federal crime "to knowingly give false information about your name, residence or period of residence to an Election Official."

"We knew that in a panic Jesse Helms would turn to this kind of tactic, just as Republicans have done in the past," Brown said.

Voter mailings also have been sent out in Texas to predominantly elderly Democratic voters, encouraging them to forego absentee ballots.

Charles Black, a spokesman for the Republican National Committee, said he had not seen any of the mailings but insisted the GOP has never broken the consent decree on voter intimidation.

The committee "always plays by the rules," he said. But he added that North Carolina has "a long history of Democrats stealing elections." State and local leaders "have a responsibility to take legal action to ensure the integrity of the ballot, and that's all that's going on there," he said.

House Majority Leader Richard Gephardt, D-Mo., disagreed with the Republicans.

"The campaign that Jesse Helms is running is not a lot different than the campaign that David Duke ran in Louisiana," Gephardt said. Duke is a former Ku Klux Klan leader who lost in Louisiana's open Senate primary in October.

"The message ... clearly has racial overtones. It is clearly designed to appeal to people's prejudice," Gephardt said on NBC's "Meet the Press."

In the Helms-Gantt contest, Democrats also have charged Helms with playing on racial stereotypes in television advertisements.

Tom and his wife, Caroline, were married in 1965; they have two sons, Scott, age 15, and Don, age 13. The McDonalds are members of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church. The McDonald family has resided in Brazos County for over 70 years. Tom's father (TAMU 33) was a lawyer, legislator and judge. The Reed McDonald Building on the TAMU campus is named in memory of Tom's uncle.

Re-elect
McDONALD

Judge 85th District Court

EXPERIENCE IS THE DIFFERENCE

- Named Outstanding Jurist of the Year by the State Bar of Texas Criminal Justice Section, 1987.
- Editorial Committee: Texan's War on Drugs Judge's Benchbook: A Resource for Drug Abuse Prevention 1988.
- Chairman of the Crime Victims and Witness Committee of the State Bar of Texas, 1990.
- Chairman of the Criminal Justice Section of the State Bar of Texas, 1990.
- Faculty, Texas College for New Judges, 1987-90.

Judge McDonald is honored to serve you. Your vote and support will be greatly appreciated.

Paid for by Committee to Re-elect Judge W.T. (Tom) McDonald, Jr., Caroline McDonald, Treasurer, Box 1085, Bryan, TX 77806