

Page 10 The Battalion

Thursday, December 6, 1990

Jays, Padres deal big

McGriff and Roberto Alomar got traded in baseball's biggest deal in years and the New York Mets finally caught Vince Coleman.

nandez and McGriff to the San Diego Padres for Carter and Alomar in a deal for four of baseball's best players.

"We thought we'd give you an old-fashioned baseball trade," new Padres general manager Joe McIl-vaine gleamed. "We're trading four All-Stars. It was kind of a gutsy trade lifetime .265 hitter with a chopping on both ends."

Carter, who has averaged more than 100 RBIs for five years, will reliever Steve Bedrosian to the Min-move into an outfield. Alomar, 22, nesota Twins for a minor leaguer will fill Toronto's search for an allaround second baseman.

ROSEMONT, Ill. (AP) — Tony berry's 37 home runs and team-re-Fernandez, Joe Carter, Fred cord 108 RBIs, that he took to the Los Angeles Dodgers. So they dipped into the free-agent market for the first time since 1980 and gave ught Vince Coleman. The Toronto Blue Jays sent Fer- $11.95 million. Coleman, 29, stole an average of 91 bases in each of six years, all with St. Louis, and was successful 83 percent of the time. He was at his best against the Mets, safely stealing the first 57 times he tried against them. Coleman batted a career-best .292 last season and stole 77 bases. He is a The San Francisco Giants traded and a player to be named later. Franklin Stubbs, who was consid-McGriff, with 105 home runs in ering the Braves, decided to go to the last three seasons, will take over the Milwaukee Brewers. Stubbs, who first base and Fernandez, 28, will set a Houston record with 23 home play shortstop. The Mets felt they had to do something to replace Darryl Straw-runs by a left-handed hitter last sea-son, got a three-year, $6 million deal from the Brewers.

Agassi's injury, comments court ban form tournaments

LONDON (AP) — Andre Agassi the $6 million tournament. Agassi is expected to b because of a chest injury and Cup could face the additional pain of a ban from some of next year's major tournaments.

Agassi's second withdrawal from the Grand Slam Cup represented the latest twist in a strange courtship between the much-criticized new event and one of tennis' most controversial players.

The International Tennis Federation, which is organizing the tournament next week in Germany, said Wednesday that Agassi had pulled out because of an injury he suffered last weekend during the Davis Cup final.

But he still may be punished for his earlier withdrawal and for com- in the tournament, but the world's ments ridiculing the event, including disparaging remarks he made last month, saying it was noth Friday when seeking readmission to than a lucrative exhibition.

Wudel

Continued from page 9

But just over 4,600 people both-ered to show up. A pretty disturbing number and sight for those trying to turn the tables on a lifeless program. A&M is 2-3 so far this year. One of those losses coming to the Sooners, as most expected even before the game started. But the boys in maroon gave Oklahoma all it could handle that Wednesday night, to the pleasure of those fans who did attend the event.

During the game, Georgetown transfer David Edwards was sitting behind the Aggies' bench along with Syracuse transfer Tony Scott. The Big East transfers have to sit and watch this year because of NCAA transfer rules.

Edwards waved his hands from his seat in the bleachers, trying to get the Sixth Man fans involved in the hold everyone.

Agassi is expected to be out for three to six weeks with torn rib cartilege and was told he could risk being out for up to six months if he aggravates the injury.

The flamboyant 20-year-old, known for his technicolor outfits and bad-boy image as much as his tennis skill, also pulled out of an exhibition Wednesday in Baton Rouge, La., and a pair of exhibitions this weekend in Switzerland.

Agassi's place in the 16-player Grand Slam Cup, which offers a record $2 million to the winner, will be taken by American compatriot Brad Gilbert.

Agassi originally signed up to play fourth-ranked player pulled out last month, saying it was nothing more game. Coming from a program like Georgetown, he should know what kind of crowd it takes to motivate a team

As the Aggies pulled closer to the Sooners on the scoreboard, the 4,600 fans got closer to the A&M team. Expectations were eclipsed and the promise of the team was revealed.

But what will happen the next time the Aggies take the homecourt on December 12? Probably not much. A&M will face Texas South-ern on the night after finals. If fans aren't inebriated, they're probably on their way home for the holidays.

But the student body will return in the middle of January, just in time for the Aggies' game against Cente-nary on January 14. Hopefully by that time the Aggies' support will have had a change of heart. Hopefully G. Rollie White Coliseum will have enough seats to p

0 Chris

You a

How

When

Tree

You :

Chris

has

Te

TI

TÌ

T

R

·F

·F

OF

·F

• F •E

Holiday Bowl Special SAN DIEGO . . . THE BEST WAY TO STAY

Tickets: $13 Student $15 Public

Tickets On Sale January 14 8:30 a.m. MSC BOX OFFICE 10:00 a.m. ALL TICKETRON OUTLETS or ORDER BY PHONE: 1-800-275-1000

List

Continued from page 9

148 yards per game, scored 17 touchdowns and became Colorado's all-time leader in rushing, scoring and all-purpose yards. Lewis averaged 141 yards per game

Herman Moore teamed with Virginia quarterback Shawn Moore to form a deadly duo. Herman caught 54 passes for 1,190 yards and 13 touchdowns, and set an NCAA record with at least one TD reception in nine straight games. Dawsey had 65 receptions for 999 yards and seven scores, including a 13-catch performance against Mi-ami, while Smith set a single-season record for receiving yards by a tight end with 1,156.

Syracuse coach Dick MacPherson calls Flannery "the most complete lineman we have ever had. He has every tool for greatness - strength, speed, size and intelligence.'

Garten anchored the offensive line for the country's sixth-best rushing team. A starter in 30 straight games, he allowed only one quarterback sack and was called for only one penalty this season.

Maryland and Crum formed the heart of a stingy Miami defense that held opponents to 80 rushing yards per game. Crum led the team in tackles for the third straight year, while Maryland had 10¹/₂ sacks.

Although Notre Dame had de-fensive problems this season, they weren't caused by Zorich or Stonebreaker. Despite constant doubleteaming, Zorich had 58 tackles, three sacks and one fumble recovery. Stonebreaker led the Irish with 95 tackles, made key fourth-quarter interceptions in close wins over Michigan and Michigan State and had a fumble recovery that helped preserve a victory over Miami. Williams is Colorado's all-time sack leader with 35, including 12½ this season. "Alfred causes more problems for opposing teams than any other linebacker in the country, Colorado coach Bill McCartney said.

The All-America team will be fea-tured on Bob Hope's annual Christmas show, Dec. 15 from 10-11 p.m. EST on NBC.

1990 All-America Team By the Associated Press FIRST TEAM Offense

Quarterback - Ty Detmer, Brigham Young, junior. Running backs — Darren Lewis, Texas A&M, senior; Eric Bieniemy,

Colorado, senior. Wide receivers — Herman Moore, Virginia, junior, ; Lawrence Dawsey, Florida State, senior. Tight end — Chris Smith, Brigham Young, senior.

Center — John Flannery, Syra-cuse, senior. Guards - Joe Garten, Colorado, senior; Ed King, Auburn, junior. Tackles — Antone Davis, Tennessee, senior; Stacy Long, Clemson, se-

Return specialist — Raghib "Rocket" Ismail, Notre Dame, ju-

Placekicker - Philip Doyle, Alabama, senior.

Defense

Linemen --- Chris Zorich, Notre Dame, senior; Russell Maryland, Mi-ami, senior; Huey Richardson, Florda, senior; Kenny Walker, Neoraska, senior.

Linebackers - Alfred Williams, Colorado, senior; Maurice Crum, Miami, senior; Michael Stone-breaker, Notre Dame, senior. Backs — Darryl Lewis, Arizona, senior.; Tripp Welborne, Michigan, senior; Ken Swilling, Georgia Tech, junior; Stanley Richard, Texas, seuor.

Punter — Cris Shale, Bowling Green, senior. SECOND TEAM

Offense Center — Mike Arthur, Texas A&M. Tackles — Stan Thomas, Texas. THIRD TEAM Offense Quarterback - David Klingler, Houston. Tight end - Kelly Blackwell, Texas Christian. Placekicker - Michael Pollak, Texas. Defense

Linemen - Shane Dronett, Texas

776-0400