HERBERT DISCOVERS THAT HE MUST HAVE WROTE DOWN THE WRONG ADDRESS ON THE LETTER HE MAILED TO HIS AMERICAN SOLDIER PENPAL.

Act Now

As a new semester begins, it is important that students realize theft is the No. 1 problem at Texas A&M. To reduce your chance of being a victim:

- Mark textbooks with your name and student ID number. Stolen textbooks are resold every semester.
- Use ink to mark books in "secret" places only you can identify.
- Keep your books in sight when in public or at school.

- Never leave property such as books, backpacks, purses or anything of value unattended.
- Report any crime or suspicious activity immediately to the University Police Department at 845-2345.

The Crime Prevention Unit and the UPD is dedicated to serve and protect you as a member of the Aggie community.
