UPD offers alcohol safety tips

Texas A&M's Crime Prevention Unit of the University Police Department offers information about spring break and driving while intoxicated.

Spring break is nearly here, and many students will be traveling to beaches and parks to relax and enjoy the sunshine and festivities. Alcohol is often involved, and it is important to understand the consequences of overindulgence.

Intoxication jeopardizes personal safety. Every nine minutes a young person is killed, crippled or disfigured by riding with someone or driving under the influence.

A person who drives or operates a motor vehicle in a public place or on a public beach while intoxicated commits an offense punishable by a fine, loss of license and jail time.

A first offense is punishable by a fine of not less than $100 or more than $2,000 and a jail term not less than 72 hours or more than two years.

Responsible drinking includes not driving while under the influence of alcohol.

For more information on alcohol and liability, contact the UPD Crime Prevention Unit or the Center for Drug Prevention and Education in the Health Center.

Authorities say Texas capsules show no signs of tampering

DALLAS (AP) — Cold medication capsules from a shipment linked to cyanide poisonings in the state of Washington have been purchased here, but authorities said the capsules do not exhibit evidence of tampering.

A Dallas man said Monday that he purchased a 10-capsule package of Sudafed 12 Hour capsules with the same lot number as the tainted capsules blamed in two deaths and an injury in the Tacoma and Olympia, Wash., areas.

On Sunday, Burroughs Wellcome ordered the recall of about 1 million packages of Sudafed. Customers were advised to return the product to the store where they bought it.

"Despite what appears to be a localized situation, the company has decided to institute a nationwide recall," said Phil Tracy, president and chief executive officer for Burroughs Wellcome.

Tax increase for parks gains support

AUSTIN (AP) — City, county and state officials Tuesday joined environmental and health groups in endorsing a 2-cent increase in the cigarette tax for more parks.

"The creation and support of local parks is an important part of the lives of millions of Texans," said state Rep. Rene Oliveira, D-Brownsville, who filed the bill.

"Our local parks deserve the attention and the funds to ensure that all future Texans will have the opportunity to enjoy this valuable resource," said Chet Brooks, D-Pasadena, the senate sponsor.

The 2-cent increase would produce about $14 million in additional revenue for the Texas Department of Parks and Wildlife and boost the state cigarette tax from 41 cents per pack to 43 cents.

Texas' cigarette tax is the second highest in the nation behind Hawaii at 44 cents per pack, according to the state comptroller's office.

Oliveira's bill would also establish a permanent Texas Park Trust Fund and designate indoor recreation centers as eligible to receive matching grant assistance.

The trust fund would remain untouched until it totaled $250 million, then the interest would be used for parks, Oliveira said.
