

FREE ART LESSONS FREE

MSC VISUAL ARTS

Free art lessons by Benjamin Knox every Thursday at 7:00 p.m.

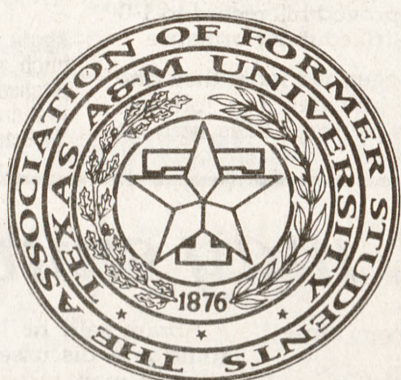

Learn to draw, understand, and appreciate art.

Meet in front of the MSC Forsyth Center Galleries (across from the post office in the MSC) and remember, it's free so come on out!!

For more information call
Joe Fenton, Visual Arts Advisor 845-9252

GATHRIGHT AWARDS AND BUCK WEIRUS SPIRIT AWARDS

ANNOUNCEMENT AND PRESENTATION
9:00 A.M. SUNDAY, APRIL 7 RUDDER AUDITORIUM

All applicants should attend!

MSC OPAS

WE NEED SOMETHING NEW...
AND IT'S YOU!!!!

MSC OPAS IS NOW ACCEPTING APPLICATIONS
FROM ALL INTERESTED STUDENTS

APPLICATIONS MAY BE PICKED UP BEGINNING MARCH 25
STUDENT PROGRAMS OFFICE, 2nd FLOOR MSC, ROOM 223

ORIENTATION MEETINGS FOR ALL
POTENTIAL APPLICANTS:

APRIL 2 8:30 P.M. - 301 RUDDER
or
APRIL 3 8:30 P.M. - 302 RUDDER

ANY QUESTIONS PLEASE CALL THE MSC OPAS OFFICE
845-1661

MEMORIAL STUDENT CENTER
OPERA AND PERFORMING ARTS SOCIETY

TANK McNAMARA®

by Jeff Millar & Bill Hinds

Spurs roar past Knicks in OT

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — David Robinson scored 25 points and the San Antonio Spurs held Detroit without a field goal for more than seven minutes in the fourth quarter in beating the Pistons 85-78 Sunday.

Terry Cummings and Rod Strickland had 16 points apiece for the Spurs, who won for the seventh consecutive time at home.

Detroit was led by Joe Dumars with 22 points and James Edwards with 19.

With the Spurs leading 68-66 with 9:39 to play, Robinson triggered an 8-2 run with three points, putting San Antonio ahead 76-68 with 5:43 left.

Detroit came no closer than five points to the win, failing to make a shot from the field from the 7:19 mark until Edwards' jumper with four-tenths of a second left.

Cummings had 12 first-half points, including a jumper at the buzzer, tying the score 38-38. Robinson also had 12 in the half.

Recruiting college athletes demands skill playing in front of large crowds in a slick, modern arena. What is there here to tell him not to go play in Austin at the Frank Erwin Center?

Continued from page 5

A&M has taken care of that question with its plans to build the 14,500-seat Special Events Center supposed to be ready for the 1993-94 season.

Former A&M head basketball coach Kermit Davis freely admitted during the season he and his staff waved pictures of the new arena in front of recruits' faces. He wanted to let them know that they would play at least part of their careers in the new arena.

Parallels between the school's football and basketball programs can be drawn here.

R. C. Slocum took over as A&M's head football coach two years ago, and put the team's troubled past behind him by setting his sights on the positive things about A&M that he could use to build his team.

Slocum had Kyle Field to show potential recruits, and the tradition of the 12th Man standing in it. The image of 72,000 filled seats usually helps sway recruits.

The new arena will do the same for the basketball team's future coach.

Slocum can attribute a lot of the success of his teams to one of the best recruiting staffs in the nation.

Tim Cassidy, A&M's recruiting coordinator for football since 1989, assembled a recruiting team that scoured the nation to find the players that will win games for Slocum and the Aggies.

Cassidy and his staff were responsible for a recruiting class ranked second in the nation last year and close to the top again this year.

He has been ranked by the Sporting News as one of the nation's top 10 recruiters three times. Too bad he can't spread that wealth over to the basketball program.

A new coach that comes to A&M will have to develop an organized gameplan when it comes to recruiting, and turn it into the science that Cassidy has for the football team.

But what might be most important is the fact that a recruit wants to know he is going to be able to play before he arrives.

A stable and clean program will assure him that when he walks out onto the field or court each game, he doesn't have to worry about the NCAA taking the ball away.

Slocum has established a credible program and reinstilled integrity to his position.

His no-nonsense philosophy has shown his players and the A&M community alike that he wants to lead the Aggies to the promised land with academically and socially stable athletes.

Davis battled ineligibility and disciplinary problems throughout his one-year tenure, keeping him from implementing the plans he thought would win games for the A&M basketball team.

Now the athletic department must find a new basketball coach and instill confidence in its future recruits that the team is on its way to bigger things.

Good recruiting can happen for A&M basketball, it just takes time to put together the necessary ingredients.

elections '91

Voting for Student Body Elections will be held Wednesday, March 27 and Thursday, March 28 at Blocker, MSC Flagroom, Kleberg, and the Academic Building from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Student Body President, Senior/Junior Yell Leaders, RHA, OCA, Senate, and Class Councils

Get out and vote!

There's a good reason your Collegiate Reps Know how students think.

They're students.

When it comes to knowing what it takes to get your work done, Collegiate Reps know where you're coming from.

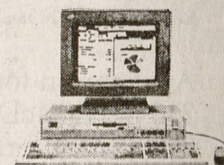

They demonstrate how easily you can use an IBM Personal System/2® to write papers and create graphics and spreadsheets for your classes. They can answer your questions and help recommend the right match for you from the affordable line of IBM PS/2s®.

Come to G. Rollie White Coliseum during Parent's Weekend (April 4-6) for PS/2® demonstrations and giveaways.

Starting in the morning, IBM Collegiate Representations will be available to demonstrate and answer questions you have about the IBM PS/2s®.

MICROCOMPUTERCENTER
Computer Sales and Supplies

Located in the Memorial Student Center
Monday thru Friday 7:45 a.m. - 6:00 p.m.
Saturday 9:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m.
(409) 845-4081

OR CALL (409) 260-9656, FOR MORE INFORMATION ABOUT YOUR IBM COLLEGIATE REPS.
© IBM, Personal System/2 and PS/2 are registered trademarks of International Business Machines Corporation.
© IBM Corporation 1991