Federal agents snare copter
Customs Service raids airfield, captures aircraft, papers

DALLAS (AP) — Customs agents Wednesday seized a helicopter belonging to a Chilean arms dealer who is under investigation for alleged weapons sales to Iraq.

The helicopter was originally built by Bell Helicopter Textron in Fort Worth, but later modified by Cardoen, who is believed to be living in Chile, Fenchel said. Bell had no direct involvement in the modification project, she added.

Cardoen has denied any wrongdoing and has not been charged with a crime.

"The seizure of the helicopter is from the Cardoen," Fenchel said. "The custodian of Mr. Cardoen's records is Global, which we believe Cardoen has an ownership interest in."

Cardoen operates Industrias Cardoen S.A., one of Chile's largest private weapons manufacturers. He furnished Iraq with cluster bombs during the Iran-Iraq war, and is part of a U.S.-Iraq probe in South Florida into possible shipments of munitions, lethal chemicals and military technology to Iraq.

Military officials said such shipments would violate the United Nations embargo imposed after Iraq invaded Kuwait Aug. 2.

Wayne Frandsen with the Customs Service office said modifications made to the copter in Dallas had "military applications."

Fenchel said the helicopter, valued at $4.7 million, had been stored for Global at the airport and may have also been destined for Iraq.

Records have also been seized by customs agents last month at Swissco Development Co., which is based in Miami, said Fenchel.

"Prior to that, we seized two shipments from Mr. Cardoen in Miami," she said.

The Customs Service said Cardoen imported the copter through Global to obtain Federal Aviation Administration certification.

"It was to be certified for agricultural purposes," said Fenchel.
