Monday Night Football Matchup: Cowboys vs. Redskins, 8:00 (ABC)

Smith ready for Cowboys' Monday night showdown

IRVING, Texas (AP) — Three days of soaking in a hot tub has Emmitt Smith hale and hearty again.

But don't expect to see him carry the football 32 times against the Redskins on Monday Night Football like he did in the Cowboys' 26-14 opening victory over Cleveland.

"My head, back, shoulder and legs were sore after the game," Smith said. "I'm still walking. But there's no way I can handle that load every week."

New Dallas offensive coordinator Norv Turner kept giving the ball to Smith, who also caught six passes.

"Norv promised he wasn't ever going to do that to me again," Smith said. "It's important we develop somebody to give me a breather. I don't mind carrying it 20 or 25 times a game, but 32 was a little much."

The Cowboys will be tempted to turn Smith loose on the Redskins considering what he did to them last Thanksgiving Day.

Smith rushed 23 times for 132 yards and scored two touchdowns, including a memorable 48-yard scoring run in which he faked cornerback Darrell Green out of his Astroturf shoes.

"I'm sure Darrell remembers that one," Smith said. "I've still got some moves he hasn't seen. I knew I couldn't outrun him, but there are other ways to beat those speed guys."

Smith leads the NFC in rushing with 112 yards and is second in total yards from scrimmage with 148.

"We'll just have to wait and see what happens Monday night," Smith said. "I'm sure Washington will be keying on me."

Smith said he feels more comfortable with the new offense.

"It's a much smoother system than the one we had last year (under David Shula)," Smith said. "The play calling is much smoother. I'll get a lot of action in this offense. Still there is a point where you don't want too much."

Smith, The Associated Press' 1990 NFL Rookie of the Year, will be in the pass patterns much more often.

"I love catching the ball," Smith said. "That was another tag I had when I came out of Florida. They said I was too slow and that I couldn't catch. I think I've showed I can catch."

Dallas hasn't been on Monday Night Football since Oct. 3, 1988. Washington has lost six straight MNF games, last winning in Texas Stadium in 1987.

Moon shines as Oilers end Riverfront hex, 30-7

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Houston Oilers finally won on their field of broken dreams Sunday night, scoring a pair of touchdowns one minute apart on Warren Moon's pass and Lamar Lathon's interception return to beat the Cincinnati Bengals 30-7.

Moon single-handedly drove the Oilers 90 yards for a fourth-quarter touchdown, hitting Hayward Jeffries in stride for a 22-yard touchdown and a 20-7 lead. Moon was 6-for-7 for all 90 yards in the drive.

Sixty-one seconds later, Lathon returned a deflected pass 52 yards for a touchdown that clinched the Oilers' first win at Riverfront Stadium in five games. Ian Howfield added a 37-yard field goal for Houston (2-0), which had lost 10 of its last 11 in Cincinnati, including a 41-14 playoff rout last year.

The Bengals (0-2) lost more than just their hex over the Oilers at Riverfront. They'd won their last 10 home games against AFC Central opponents and their last four home openers.

Cincinnati had blown the Oilers out their last four games. Riverfront was the Oilers' least favorite stadium: Moon dislocated the thumb on his passing hand there last year, scuttling the playoff chances.

The Oilers' run-and-shoot offense overcame the hex Sunday. Al Pinkett rushed for 101 yards, including a 31-yard touchdown to put Houston ahead 13-0 early in the second half.

After Boomer Esiason threw an 18-yard touchdown pass to Lynn James for the Bengals' score, Moon went to work on the 90-yard drive. He completed passes of 18, 15 and 15 yards to set the 22-yard lob to Jeffries, who outran Rod Jones down the sideline to take the ball in stride.

Lathon clinched it with his interception return, running untouched after Esiason's pass skipped off Tim McGee's hands.

Moon was 22-for-37 for 317 yards against a Cincinnati defense that has given up 75 points in two losses.

Edberg trounces Courier

Swede dominates in straight sets 6-2, 6-4, 6-0

NEW YORK (AP) — Only a squadron of planes rumbling over the stadium could have rattled Stefan Edberg, who once hated the U.S. Open because of its noise and distractions.

But in the end, there was nothing but silent skies and total respect for him as he captured his first Open title, beating Jim Courier 6-2, 6-4, 6-0 on Sunday in the most lopsided final since 1986.

Edberg had Courier ducking in self-defense from serves and smashes, talking to himself about drop volleys he couldn't reach, staring at the ground after lobs that drifted over his head.

Playing elegant, nearly flawless tennis, Edberg allowed the best of the young Americans, the conqueror of Jimmy Connors, only nine points in the last set.

Edberg became the first player in the Open era since 1968 and the second in U.S. history to win the title the year after losing in the first round. A year ago, he was knocked out by Alexander Volkov.

"I've been pummeled before, but that's the worst beating I've taken this year," Courier said.

Back to No. 1 in the world and $400,000 richer, Edberg set the pattern early as he pushed Courier through seven deuces and five break points before finally breaking him in the third game of the match.

It also revealed Courier's weaknesses — a failure to pass the net, a tendency to make mistakes, and the absence of a serve big enough to pressure Edberg.

Edberg won an amazing high 84 percent of the time when he got his first serve in, and didn't seem bothered by several faults. Courier managed only three break points against him in the entire match.

Edberg broke Courier for the second time in the seventh game of the opening set, flicking a beautifully disguised forehand lob over the stunned American's head to make it 30-30, then taking the next two points on Courier's errors.

No Open final had been one-sided as this 2-hour, 2-minute match since Ivan Lendl beat Miloslav Mecir 6-4, 6-2, 6-0 five years ago.

This had been a tournament of brilliant comebacks from the start when Connors fought back from two sets down to beat Patrick McEnroe in the first round. Edberg had called Connors "McOpen" for the way the 39-year-old captured the crowds and battled into the semifinals.

"Fifty years from now, you're going to look down in the record books and see my name," Edberg said.

Edberg has won Grand Slam events in four of the past five years, but he had lost the No. 1 ranking for most of this year to Boris Becker.

DEADLINE

ANNUAL COMPETITION FOR FULBRIGHT GRANTS TO CLOSE SOON
The 1992-93 competition for Fulbright Grants for graduate study abroad will close on October 7, 1991. Only a few more weeks remain in which to submit your draft proposal and meet with the Study Abroad Director. Qualified graduate students must meet with the Study Abroad Director before September 25 to allow ample time for proposal revision.

Most of the grants offered provide round-trip transportation, tuition and maintenance for one academic year; a few provide international travel only, or a stipend intended as a partial grant-in-aid.

Applicants must meet the following requirements:

- be a U.S. citizen at the time of application;
- hold a bachelor's degree or its equivalent before the beginning date of the grant;
- be proficient in the language of the host country;
- must not hold a Ph.D. at the time of application.

Application forms and further information for students currently enrolled in Texas A&M University may be obtained from the TAMU Study Abroad Office, which is located at 161 Bizzell Hall West, 845-0544.

Note: The deadline for interviews is September 25, 1991. The deadline for application is Monday, October 7, 1991.
